BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Forestry Commission Established To Have Charge of Trees, Moth Work and Public Parks

At the meeting of the aldermen Monday evening, a Forestry Commission was established by ordinance on recommendation of Mayor Hutchinson and the select committee recently appointed to consider the matter of preservation of our trees. The new commission will relieve the Street Department of the care of public parks and burial grounds, as well as taking entire charge of the trees, and moth work.

President Weston was in the chair and Aldermen Avery, Bacon, Bosson, Cabot, Clarke, Converse, Day, Doherty, Gray, Holmes, Jones, Miller, Palmer, Underwood, White, and Williamson were present.

Hearings were held on petitions for removals of trees by A. N. Burbank, Waverley avenue, Mrs. Clementine Cutler, Crescent avenue, and W. H. Rogers, Waban street, on petitions of the Telephone Co. for poles on St. James street, Morseland avenue, Ward and Mill street, for attachments on Bourne street, Beacon street, and Woodcliff road, on petitions of Gas Light Co. for poles on Albemarle road and for attachments on Parsons street, at none of which did any one appear.

On a venire for four jurors for the Cambridge Superior Court, Alderman Cabot was designated by the chair and drew the names of William M. Flinders, Lake terrace, Harry P. Wilson, Harvard street, Dr. J. R. McLaughlin, Centre street and Geo. T. Gammons, Perkins street.

Mayor Hutchinson presented the report of the select committee on Trees submitted draft of proposed ordinance and which was later passed to be ordained.

Mayor Hutchinson also submitted requests for various transfers in the School and Street departments, which were referred.

The mayor also submitted the following communication which was received:

To the Board of Aldermen, Gentlemen:

From within our official family, has been taken an efficient, conscientious and faithful associate, a much respected and beloved friend.

How little can we realize what must have been his sufferings, how fully conscious are we of his noble living, his loving care of family, the painstaking performance of his daily duties.

It is indeed with the deepest sorrow and sympathy that I send to you this official notification of the death of our former City Engineer, Irving Tupper Farnham.

George Hutchinson, Mayor.
A letter from Mrs. Irving T. Farnham, expressing her appreciation of the sympathy and flowers sent by the mayor and aldermen was read and filed.

Street Commissioner Ross reported the completion of Washburn avenue at cost of $1,242.12, of Orris street, $996.79 and Newell road, $1,069.82 with drainage outlet costing $320.00, all under the betterment.

The School Committee requested the completion of the new Starns school house by lights in the assembly hall and grading of the grounds. The committee also sent in its approval and accompanying offers of citizens to contribute $1,215.00 for ornamental work in the new Technical High School.

Notice of elections to fill vacancies in office of County Commissioner and of Associated County Commissioner was received.

Petitions were received from the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union that contracts should specify that citizens and taxpayers should have preference for work over non-residents, from T. C. Molloy et al for improvement of brook between Watertown and Crafts streets, and of N. A. Ross for wagon license and liquor transportation permit.

PETITIONS
These petitions were received and subsequently granted.—M. C. Laflie, and Timothy D. Murphy, for auctioneer licenses, of William Welch for 3 bowling alleys, 83 Union street, and of Thomas Malone for appointment as Measurer of Wood. On the petition of Davis Bros. for junk license, it was voted, on recommendation of the committee, to rescind action taken on June 22, revoking a junk license held at that time by the petitioner.

On recommendation of committees, O. D. Purdy was given leave to withdraw on his claim for damages on account of construction of grandstand on Lowell avenue, the wages due Angelo DeLorenzo at the time of his death were ordered paid to his widow, a grant of $24,082 made for city expenses to Oct. 15, minor transfers authorized in the Health and Police appropriations, sewers ordered built in Walker street, Woodside road and Windsor road, trees ordered removed in Richardson and North Prospect streets, sidewalk assessments levied on Centre, Green, Lyman street, Ward street, Parker street, Union and Walnut streets, junk licenses held by Max Carter and Edward Katzman, were revoked, the Gas Light Co. granted pole locations on Winchester street, the Telephone Co. granted pole locations in Eddy street, relocations in Beacon street, Institution avenue and Austin street, attachments on Kimball terrace and the right to remove poles on Cook street, calling National and State election on Nov. 3, changing polling places for National and State election in Precinct 1 ward 2 to 835A Washington street, transferring $110 from Newton Centre Vacation School to Nonantum Vacation school and rescinding orders for sewer construction in Auburn street and Rockwood terrace.

The board also appropriated $3500 towards the purchase of the Cousins Block park project at Newton Centre. Licenses to keep and sell gasoline were granted the Newtonville Auto Garage Co., the Wm. A. Sweet Co. and the Martin Mfg. Co., for a wagon to W. H. Griffiths, a junk license to Max Silverman, and to W. J. Coen to move building from Parker street. Leave to withdraw was granted Wm. Young on petition for wagon license and liquor transportation permit, to James L. Troy for liquor transportation permit, to Sam Wak for junk license, and on petitions for sewers in Elm road, Commonwealth avenue, Loring street and for laying out, etc., of Saxon terrace.

In discussing the new Forestry Commission, Alderman Day said: Six of the Committee met with the Mayor a week ago, and after listening to what he had to say, we were unanimously of the opinion that a department, to be called the Department of Forestry, taking charge of the parks, playgrounds, burial grounds, and more especially the moths, which have been so numerous, moths and beetles of all kinds, and we felt that, although it was undesirable in one sense of the word, all things considered, there was no escape from it. The Street Commissioner has all that he can attend to, and if he could work thirty-six hours a day he could not attend to the street department and this work as well, especially during this attack of moths and beetles.

Ald. White: I would like to ask the aldermen if there is any idea of the probable cost and what it would add to the tax rate.

Ald. Day: It is hard to tell what the cost will be. Of course many of the men who have been employed in the destroying of the moths will be employed again, they are men who have been employed in the Street Department. It will require, of course, a head, whose salary we cannot definitely state, the Mayor spoke of the possibility of the salary being about two thousand, whether it is that or more or less we cannot tell until we find the right man. There is, however, to be, and there would be under the old arrangement, an increased amount called for to be expended on the trees in 1909, and I would rather refrain from submitting an estimate. We have got to spend a material amount of money, no matter whether it will increase the tax levy or not.

Alderman White: I realize the full gist of the alderman's remarks, but I also feel that it is quite an undertaking, to expend the vast amount which will be necessary to exterminate the pest, especially when we have such heavy wooded contiguous territory as there is in Brookline, Weston, and Waltham. Just how much result would obtain if we exterminate the pests and the surrounding towns did not. We had an example of that this year over in my section, one breezy night we went along the streets about eleven o'clock and found every electric light pole covered with brown fall moths, they came on the breeze, so unless they are exterminated in the adjacent places it will not do much good to be rid of them here. I realize that it will do some good, and in certain localities it will be comparatively easy to be freed of all these pests and I do realize that this department, if created, could do considerable good in taking care of the shade trees, cutting down the dead ones, and in taking proper care of the parks, but I rather question the wisdom of putting it under the separate department, and I do not see why the same result could not be obtained by putting it under the supervision of the street department.

Alderman Jones: The Mayor made it very clear to us that the moth pest was making very great inroads in this city. We have not checked them in the last year or two and a larger expenditure will have to be faced for the coming year, possibly for two years. That money would have to be expended whether we have a forestry department or not. It was also made very clear by the Mayor that the Street Commissioner, with his regular work, the work of collecting ashes, street watering and various other things that have been put upon him in the last few years, has not the time to give to the careful consideration of the moth problem. It appeared that some one schooled in the moth fighting must be secured to take charge of the work for us. The question was raised in the committee, whether it was best to have the man responsible to the Mayor or to the Street Commissioner, and we felt that it was better to have this man responsible to the Mayor. What we need is a man who is capable of taking that responsibility. The expense of obtaining such a man has been hinted at, and if that man be the kind of a man that we want, it would seem that the expense of fighting the moths would be increased certainly by not more than the amount of his salary, and if he be a capable man he will be able to save the city more than the amount of his salary out of the considerable amounts that the city must expend. It seemed to us that here was an opportunity to place in the hands of a schooled forester the care of our shade trees and our parks in other respects than the fighting of the moths.

The usual recess was taken during the session and at 9:30 the board adjourned.

NEWTON BOY KILLED

An automobile accident which cost the life of one lad, severely bruised three others and gave one man painful injuries, took place last Saturday afternoon on the main road between Waltham and Lexington.

Samuel T. Parks, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic T. Parks of Devon road was the victim and his associates were Fletcher Gill, the son of Mr. A. E. Gill of West Newton, Scott Slocum, the son of Mr. W. S. Slocum of Newtonville and Stanley Moore, the son of Mr. Charles B. Moore of Newton Centre. The man was Victor Van Zant, chauffeur for Mr. Gill.

The boys, who are all members of the senior class of the Newton High school, had spent the afternoon playing tennis at the Brae-Burn Club. In the evening they were to attend a dancing party at the Hunnewell Club, Newton. After the matches, Gill proposed an automobile ride before going to the party. The others readily consented and they started for Waltham.

From Waltham the party started for Lexington, over the Waltham road. Van Zant was driving. About a mile and a half from Lexington Centre the road sweeps up over a high hill and right at the crest of Blossom street, running at right angles to the turnpike.

The Accident
It was just at the crest of the hill, when the machine was starting the descent, that Van Zant noticed a boy coming up the hill on a bicycle from the direction of Lexington. This boy was 12-year-old Earle Ginn, son of Willard Ginn of Burlington. At that point the car tracks are on the right side of the road, and Ginn was riding close to the tracks. Spectators said that Van Zant sounded his horn repeatedly. But for some reason unknown, Ginn, instead of keeping near the tracks where he would have been safe, turned abruptly to the left and started across the road.

Van Zant turned the car towards the side of the road and ran along the side of the embankment which is about six feet high. Marks on the bank show that the car must have jumped fully 20 feet before striking the bank a second time. The car then turned into the road and turned completely over, throwing the entire party out upon the road. Young Park landed on his head, fracturing his skull, and causing instant death.

Gill and Slocum escaped with slight bruises, but Moore received serious injuries to his hip and shoulder, bruises about the body, a scalp wound on the crown of the head which required five stitches to close, and a deep gash over the right eye.

Van Zant sustained a broken collar bone, fractured three ribs, received many cuts and bruises, and was taken to the Newton hospital. For several hours after the accident it was believed that he, too, would not survive. Young Gill telephoned at once to Newton, and H. A. Bennett, a neighbor of the Gills, took Mrs. Gill and Dr. P. P. Loring in his automobile and hurried to the scene. When they arrived, Moore was taken to the office of Dr. Fred S. Piper at Lexington, and Slocum to the office of Dr. William Barnes. There their injuries were dressed and both were sent home.

Parks' body lay where it fell until after 7 o'clock, as a medical examiner could not be found to view the scene of the accident. Finally Medical Examiner Roscoe D. Perley of Melrose was secured and the body was sent to the home of his parents.

Parks was preparing for Amherst. He intended to room with Gill and Moore, who will enter that college next fall. Besides his parents he is survived by one brother, Ward Parks, now at Amherst, and one sister, Miss Hope Parks.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home of his parents, 28 Devon road, Newton Centre. The house was filled with friends and schoolmates. Immediately after the closing of the high school for the day the members of the senior class, as well as a large number of pupils from the lower grades and many of the teachers, proceeded to the house. Simple services were conducted by Rev. A. H. Brown, formerly pastor of the Newton Centre Unitarian church. There was no music. The body was taken to Mr. Auburn cemetery for cremation.

POSSIBLE MURDER

That Sebastião Garardi, whose body was found with a bullet in the head lying in the rear of 19 Alden place, West Newton, last week, Thursday morning, was murdered and did not commit suicide is the belief of many friends of Garardi in the Italian settlement in that part of the city.

That he was shot while returning to his own home by some person who had figured in the breaking of Garardi's family is the theory held by many of his friends.

While it was at first reported to the police that Garardi had been seen to place a revolver to his own head and discharge the weapon, it is now stated that no one can be found who will admit having seen the act. Mrs. John Manning, who lives a short distance away from the place where the body was found by boys, states that she saw Garardi walk into the yard, but that she did not see him shoot himself. It had been reported to the police immediately after the body was found that Mrs. Manning said she had seen the shooting about 8 o'clock the previous evening and she was so frightened that she had told no one except her husband until the next morning. This Mrs. Manning denies.

Garardi had lived in West Newton for a number of years and was well known in the Italian colony there. He was a cousin of Dominic Guzzi, one of the best-known Italian merchants here, whose daughter, Theresa Guzzi, was for some time interpreter in the police court and for officials at city hall.

Other fellow-countrymen, his friends allege, had wrecked Garardi's home and caused him to become separated from his wife. Last week, Wednesday night, Garardi turned into the yard of his dwelling where his wife continued to reside and started toward the door. He then turned back. It is stated, and kept on into the back yard. A revolver report was heard and he fell.

The body lay there all night. Medical Examiner West pronounced death due to gunshot wounds, probably suicidal. The police became satisfied that it was a case of suicide, and an autopsy resulted in this cause being assigned. Friends of Garardi, however, say that they are confident he was murdered. He had $240 in his pockets, a cousin had secured a ticket to New York for him and he planned to sail for Italy, his former home, the next day. His friends assert that revenge for fancied wrongs and not robbery was the motive of the alleged murder.

SHAW-STILES

An exceedingly pretty wedding was that on Wednesday evening in Middleton, when Miss Agnes Louise Stiles of that town became the bride of Mr. Samuel Harold Shaw of Newton Highlands.

The little country church, which has not seen a wedding during the past forty years, was completely filled with the many friends of the young couple and the chancel and organ rail were buried in a bank of palms, potted plants and greenery.

The wedding party entered the church and passed through arches of clematis, held by eight young ladies dressed in blue and white, the young ladies reaching their positions along the center aisle, while the four bridesmaids, dressed in pale blue silk, marched up the side aisles and then proceeded through the arches to meet the bride as she entered the church. The bride, on her father's arm, preceded by the ushers, bridesmaids, maid of honor, then marched to the music of Lohengrin to the chancel, where the groom, with his brother, Mr. H. Earle Shaw and the clergyman, Rev. Leslie C. Greeley of Newburyport, awaited her.

The ring service was used, the bride being given in marriage by her father. The bride wore liberty satin over tulle, cut en train, trimmed with Irish point lace, the conventional veil, and carried white bride roses. The maid of honor, Miss C. Lena Wilkins of Middleton wore white tulle over blue silk and a bouquet of pink carnations. The bridesmaids, Helen D. Smart and C. Afton McLean of Danvers and Gertrude E. Wilkins and Edith L. Fletcher of Middleton wore the bridesmaids, and each carried an armful of white asters. A reception followed at the home of the bride until 9:30, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton P. Stiles and Mrs. Samuel Shaw. The ushers were Messrs. William B. Kerr, George Kerr, Harold O. Butler and Charles S. Logan, all of Newton Highlands. The house was decorated with parasols, asters, autumn leaves and wild flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will reside at 4 Highland street, Woburn, where they will be at home after January 1, 1909.

One of the worst things under the sun is a shady reputation.

TAFT'S WORK IN CHINA

He Rehabilitated Our National Reputation.

CHECKED COURT ABUSES.

Cleared the United States Banner From the Dishonor That American Criminals Had Brought Upon It. Readjusted Consular Service.

It was chiefly through the influence and at the instigation of Mr. Taft that the recent rehabilitation of our national reputation in China was accomplished by the establishment of the United States court in China. Until Mr. Taft became a paramount figure in the far east scandalous conditions had prevailed in Shanghai and other cities of China where the United States exercised extra territorial rights. Undesirable subjects of the United States, men and women, had degraded the American flag by using it as a cloak under which to conduct numerous nefarious enterprises. American sharpshooters, gamblers and promoters of questionable schemes had long worked in conjunction with discredited lawyers to their mutual and illegal gain. In various instances these criminal endeavors were aided and abetted by American consular officers, who were dismissed from the service. The former practice of adjudicating all causes in which Americans were parties in consular courts gave rise to abuses. The American flag in Shanghai particularly, stood for national dishonor in the eyes of other nations who by legislation and the creating of proper courts had spared their flags the disgrace that descended upon the United States banner.

When he was at the head of the Philippine government in Manila Mr. Taft by his proximity to China soon appreciated the seriousness of the conditions there and foresaw the loss of standing in the eyes of the Chinese to which we were indifferently exposing ourselves by our failure to keep in check American criminals. He brought the matter to the attention of the state department and joined with Secretary Root, Representative Edwin Denby of Michigan, a son of the former United States minister to China; Charles Denby, another son, who is now consul general at Shanghai; Senator Spooner and some others in an endeavor to remedy conditions. He exerted his influence to obtain the passage by congress of a bill creating the United States court for China. Lebbens Redmond Wiley of Missouri, who had been Mr. Taft's attorney general in the Philippines, was named as judge.

Mr. Taft from the first took a deep personal interest in the work of Judge Wiley and his court. In a way he supervised its work and was frequently appealed to by Judge Wiley for advice as to procedure and other details. The lack of adequate laws hampered Judge Wiley, but by proceeding in accordance with the common law he quickly made the court effective. Within a few months after the court was organized Shanghai and other cities in China where conditions were such as to require it were thoroughly and drastically cleaned up. Shrewd American lawyers were disbanded, so that the gamblers, disreputable women and other offenders against the law were deprived of legal support. The reputable American lawyers in good standing aided Judge Wiley. Henry Jones and terms of imprisonment exercised a deterrent effect upon the lawbreakers, many of whom summarily fled from China before the court could bring them to account for their misdeeds.

When Mr. Taft was in Shanghai last fall he was heartily thanked and congratulated by the law abiding Americans there for the part he had taken in removing the stigma from the American flag and restoring the good fame of the national name in the orient. In his speech before the American association in China he paid a high tribute to Judge Wiley, saying in part:

"Our government was fortunate in the selection as the first judge of the court of a gentleman who had had four years' experience in the orient as attorney general of the Philippines and who went to Shanghai with an intimate knowledge of the method of uniting in one administration the principles of the common law of the United States with the traditions and conditions of a foreign country. His policy in raising high the standard of admission to the bar and in promoting the vigorous prosecution of American violators of law, which eliminated from that community many undesirable characters who had brought disgrace upon the name of Americans in the cities of China, cannot but commend itself to any one interested in the good name of the United States among the Chinese people and with our brethren of other countries who live in China."

Free trade England is alarmed again at the physical deterioration of her "submerged classes." In this land of protection the rule of social progress is that of emergence and physical, mental and moral development.

The many friends of Miss Ethel M. Winward, a former well-known resident on Lowell avenue, will be interested to learn of her marriage to Mr. Leroy H. Howland, which occurred Monday, Sept. 14. Rev. Charles A. Littlefield was the officiating clergyman. Mr. and Mrs. Howland are both teachers.

Republican voters will make the "peerless one" without a peer in the number of his defeats.

Bryan has discovered the proper ratio between paralysis and prosperity. It is himself.

MR. TAFT DOES THINGS.

One Incident That Shows the Quality of the Man.

This incident affords perhaps as good an insight into the psychology of Mr. Taft as any that could be cited. It illustrates the way Mr. Taft does things, the way he works and the way he plays, for when he plays he plays as hard and zestfully as he works. With him the thing is to do it. Accomplishment is ever his aim. It happened while Mr. Taft was on the sea, bound for Manila to open the Philippine assembly. The narrator watched the proceedings at close range. Three men stood between decks on the steamship, away up in the eyes of the ship, and contemplated a hole ten feet above their heads. A narrow iron ladder led perpendicularly to the deck. The circumference of the hole seemed to approximate that of a snail's shell. One of the men, Ambassador O'Brien, bound for Tokyo, was tall and spare, lean and sinewy. The second, Judge Thomas Burke of Seattle, was short and rotund. The third, Mr. Taft, was larger and heavier than the other two put together.

"It would be easier for the camel to go through the needle's eye, Mr. Secretary, than for you to get through that hole," bantered Judge Burke.

"I wouldn't like to try that climb, I'll confess," said the ambassador.

"Well, I don't know," rejoined the 285 pound secretary of war. "It looks like a tough proposition."

For a moment the three turned aside to examine something to which their attention was directed. Unregarded, Mr. Taft stepped to the foot of the ladder and observed it contemplatively. One might have deduced from his manner that his thoughts ran something like this: "That's a hard climb, and that hole looks smaller than my body, but those fellows don't believe that I can climb up that ladder and get through the hole. I believe I can. I'm going to try it."

Before he was that Mr. Taft had half scaled the ladder. Ambassador O'Brien and Judge Burke, despite their lesser weight, expressed in their faces an approximation of dismay when they saw what the secretary was about. "You'll never make it; better come back," advised the ambassador. "Look out the ladder doesn't break," cautioned Judge Burke. Round after round the secretary progressed until his body was halfway out of the hole. When the circumference of his girth came into conjunction with the circumference of the hole it was a toss-up for a minute which would win. But Mr. Taft proved that he had an elastic waist line, which won over the unyielding limits of the hole. But it was a struggle. He stuck to it grimly and doggedly. The lifting of 285 pounds of dead weight by the muscles of the arms is a task that would tax the strength of a far lighter man. A final heave and Mr. Taft hopped upon the deck as lightly as a boy. He was smiling all over. He had won. The passengers who had watched gave him a cheer. He would have stayed in the hole and fought it out for an hour rather than retreat. That is Taft.

NEGRO AND DEMOCRACY.

Would Be Suicidal For Colored Men to Vote For Bryan.

One of the greatest negroes this country has known, a leader of his race and the honored confidant of President Grant and Secretary Fish, recently said: "It would be suicidal for colored men to vote for Bryan. They have nothing to hope for from the Democratic party, which has disfranchised them in the south and which professes to regard them as unfit for the ballot anywhere. The only chance for the negro is with the Republican party, and it will be a sad day for the negro when a Republican president will be elected without the votes of negroes having helped to place him in power."

In view of the fact that Bryan himself has approved negro disfranchisement in the south there can be no doubt of his attitude should he be elected to the presidency, while the southern Democrats would regard northern negro votes for their candidates as an endorsement by the negro race of southern treatment of the negro.

It is impossible to believe that any negro who has studied intelligently the history of his race will go into the voting booth and cast a ballot in favor of Bryan and against Taft and Sherman, the Republican candidates—the candidates of the party which opened the door of hope to the colored man, which gave him the ballot and safeguards him in its use in every state in which Republicans rule.

Democracy Divided.

Thomas L. Hilsen, Hearst candidate for the presidency, looks for the election of Taft and then a new alignment of political parties. Mr. Hilsen says:

"The Democratic party is dividing. The radical and the more conservative elements can pull together only a little while longer. After Bryan is defeated for a third time there is bound to be a new alignment of the people, and the Democratic party will disintegrate. The Republicans will get some of those former Democrats, and the Independence league will get more of them. The campaign of 1912 will be fought out by a different set of political parties from those now in the field."

Bryan's great handicap in running for the presidency is that he cannot run away from his record.

The wind bloweth where it listeth. So does William Jennings Bryan. It is a way they both have.

Some of my correspondents of late, have repeatedly mentioned the desire for a Finance Commission to look into our city affairs. It is far from my purpose to oppose such a suggestion, as intimate observation, for nearly a quarter of a century, leads me to the conclusion that such an investigation would only emphasize the high plane upon which our city has always been maintained. I should like, however, to comment briefly upon the personnel of such a commission and compare it with the men who have been elected by the people as members of our city government.

A Finance Commission in the first place, is an admission, either that the city government is corrupt or incompetent. Citizens would demand, therefore, that members of such a commission should be, in character or ability, of higher grade than members of the city government, whose actions, the Commission would have to review. This is the case in other places, but with the kind of men we elect in Newton, it would be very difficult to get that kind of a commission. For a business man, for instance, could any one be named who would stand higher than our present mayor, George Hutchinson. As a lawyer, former Mayor Weed ranks with the best and indeed was selected by Lynn to probe the water department of that city. In the realm of finance, Newton has had among others the services of such men as Congressman John W. Weeks, Mr. Frank A. Day, and Mr. Henry B. Day. The present and past mayors of the city have given more time and thought to the management of municipal affairs than any Finance Commission could possibly give, and I believe that the two years careful attention given Newton by Mayor Weeks, the financier, Mayor Weed, the lawyer, Mayor Warren the manufacturer and the present service of Mayor Hutchinson, the merchant, have been of far more benefit to the city than that of any Finance Commission which it would be possible to appoint.

While the project to establish a separate commission to deal with the moth problem in this city, is certain to arouse opposition both on the ground of expense as well as on account of lack of necessary co-operation with surrounding cities and towns, it is still essential that this work be handled in a far more energetic and systematic way than is possible under the street department with its multifarious duties. It is well to withhold criticism until the plans of Mayor Hutchinson are consummated, as he has given the matter thorough study and firmly believes he has the right solution.

The Republicans of this senatorial district have nominated in Judge Mulligan of Natick, a candidate for whom every voter should have the highest respect and for whom they can ask their friends and neighbors to vote with the knowledge that if elected, Judge Mulligan will worthily maintain the high standard set by former Senator William F. Dana of our own city.

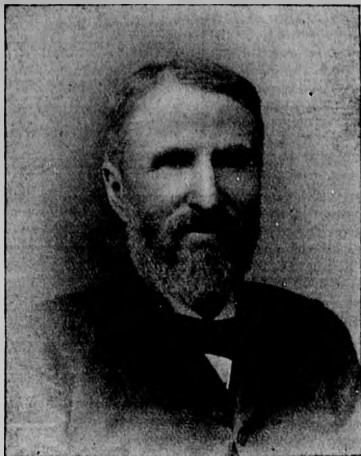

Congressman John W. Weeks and Councillor Seward W. Jones of Newton have been renominated for third terms in their respective offices and both will be overwhelmingly elected next November. It is a source of great satisfaction to Newton residents that these gentlemen are recognized throughout their districts as men of the highest character and ability and that their honors are conferred upon them by unanimous vote.

MRS. CAZMAY DEAD

Mrs. Arabella W. Cazmay, the widow of the late Thomas Cazmay, died yesterday, after a long illness, at the age of 75 years. Mrs. Cazmay has resided in West Newton for over thirty years and is well known in that village. She was an attendant at the Lincoln Park Baptist church. She is survived by one daughter and three sons, Miss Matilda and Charles Cazmay of West Newton, Frank Cazmay of Watertown. Funeral services will be held from her late residence, 303 Austin street, West Newton, Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

CITY HALL

Mr. Wm. P. Morse has been appointed Acting City Engineer.

THE LATE DANIEL S. EMERY

MR. DANIEL S. EMERY DEAD

Mr. Daniel S. Emery, one of the best-known residents of Newton, died at his home on Waverley avenue this morning at four o'clock, after a very brief illness. His death will be a great surprise to his many friends, as he was attending to business as usual the first part of the week.

Daniel Sullivan Emery was born at Sullivan, Me., the son of Hiram and Rachael (Simpson) Emery. He was educated in the common schools, and in 1850 came to Boston and entered a ship chandler's store as clerk and salesman. Jan. 1, 1857, he began business as a ship broker with his eldest brother, the late John S. Emery, under the style of John S. Emery & Co., continuing until 1901, when the business was incorporated, with Mr. Emery as president. Since its establishment the firm has managed a large fleet of sailing vessels in both the coastwise and foreign trade, sailing to all parts of the world, and it is now the oldest firm in Boston in that line of business.

Mr. Emery has never held any public office, but was a director in the New England Marine Insurance Company until it went out of business after the great Boston fire. He was a director of the Boston Insurance Company, a director and a former president of the East Boston Dry Dock Company, until its sale to the Atlantic Works, a member and a former director of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a director of the Commercial National Bank for twelve years, resigning on account of private business, a member of the Bostonian Society, of the Boston Marine Society, a member of the New England Ship Owners' Association, of the Pine Tree Club of Boston, the Karahdin, Hunnewell and Unitarian clubs of Newton, and of the American Bureau of Shipping of New York.

Mr. Emery married Miss Lydia C. Hill, also of Sullivan, Me., and their surviving children are Ralph C. and Georgia H. Emery, both of Newton. Mr. Emery is also survived by a twin sister, Mrs. Annie S. Cummings, of Sullivan, Me.

For nearly twenty years Mr. Emery made his summer home at Auburn, but has been a resident of Newton since 1893, when he built a beautiful home on Waverley avenue.

Funeral services will be held from his late residence on Sunday afternoon.

RED CROSS DAY

Newton's Duty in the World's Work of Preventing the Spread of Tuberculosis

At last the city of Newton is to join other communities in the effort to stop the spread of tuberculosis. Public attention throughout the country has been aroused during the past year to the necessity of more attention being given to this dread disease, and large sums of money are being given to the founding of tuberculosis camps and hospitals in various parts of the country. The importance of the work is being emphasized at the present moment by the reports of the National Congress on Tuberculosis now being held in Washington.

As in most other worthy efforts which have been begun in Newton the last few years, the ladies have taken a leading part in this movement. During the last year the members of the different clubs in Newton, making up the Federation of Women's Clubs, have become interested in the whole subject of the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis, until now the interest has become focused in trying to start an out-patient clinic for the treatment of tuberculosis; and on Saturday, October 3, the initial effort for the purpose of raising money to carry on this work will be inaugurated.

Saturday will be Red Cross Day throughout the city of Newton, and under the direction of the Federation of Women's Clubs a number of young ladies will be armed with the usual credentials and request those whom they meet on the street to give something toward this worthy object. Similar plans have been followed in various cities with splendid success, and it is hoped that every one will contribute something when requested, for the money will be used in the effort to make our city more healthful than at the present time. Let there be no criticism, rather words of praise when the invitation is given to make a contribution.

The money thus given will be placed in the hands of the Newton hospital to be expended in the most judicious way. The Newton hospital will in this way be only a channel for doing the work. At the present time the Newton hospital has not sufficient income to warrant its branching out into any new lines of endeavor, no matter how needed; but the women of Newton are determined to see that money will be supplied so that a proper tuberculosis out-patient department can be carried on in our own borders. In this way not only relief can be given to those who are suffering from this disease, but a general interest in the methods of fighting the disease will be constantly studied.

Let us keep our city clean and healthy; let us aid every effort to accomplish this result.

section of the city in addition to electing officers for the ensuing year. After serving faithfully for two years, Colon S. Ober retired from the presidency. These new officers were chosen: George M. Flake, president; William Fuller, vice-president; C. B. Conn, secretary; Henry G. Hildreth, treasurer; C. G. Haskell, G. W. Blood, P. G. Melcher, P. A. McVicar and E. B. Squires, executive committee. A vote of thanks was extended the retiring president.

Resolutions were adopted congratulating Mayor Hutchinson upon the creation of a department of forestry and urging the co-operation of the City Federation in planning work, and also urging adequate appropriations. Copies will be sent the mayor and the federation.

Edward A. Richardson, gardener of the Boston & Albany Railroad, gave an interesting talk on the methods used in caring for the trees and shrubbery on the railroad property. He urged that every resident see that pests are thoroughly exterminated from their own premises.

CAPTAIN WEEKS

Unanimously Named for Congress

Given Third Nomination By Acclamation

The Republican convention for the twelfth congressional district, of which Newton is a part, was held Thursday noon at Wesleyan hall, Boston, with 102 delegates present, out of the 128 to which the convention was entitled. Hon. Seward W. Jones of Newton Highlands, chairman of the district committee, called the meeting to order, and Representative Joseph H. Soliday of Dedham was chosen chairman, and Town Clerk, Edward W. Baker, of Brookline, secretary.

After the usual preliminaries, Mayor George Hutchinson was recognized to nominate Congressman Weeks for a third term.

Mr. Hutchinson said:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Delegates:—
We are gathered to name the candidate who is to be elected to represent the twelfth district of Massachusetts in the next Congress of the United States. So far our duty is clearly defined, will be easily and pleasantly performed, and need require but a few moments of our time. But beyond the action which I assume will be unanimous, our meeting has another important significance. By our presence we acknowledge our belief in, and loyalty to, the Republican Party.

We choose to be Republicans, because our organization, we are convinced, is of all such the most creditable. But let not an over abundance of praise elate, or justifiable expressions of blame disturb, to the extent that we lose sight of our actual obligations and responsibilities. Everything is not wrong, and everything is not right, and emphasis of public statement is frequently used as a substitute for appeals to reason.

Government is a serious matter, and methods, either legislative or executive, should not be of an order either sensational or spectacular. As individuals, and as a party, let our endeavors be in the line of determination that in all matters political there shall eventually be less scheming and more sincerity, less self-seeking and more dignity, fewer laws with better enforcement.

This I am privileged to say, and because of the existing conditions in our district to say without embarrassment. For the sixth time I am to name in nomination for public office one of the most worthy citizens of our Commonwealth, he who has long been entitled to our sincerest pride and gratitude, and who now, in the strength of added experience, well deserved influence and matured judgment, is to continue a service not confined to the limitations of our Congressional District, although we proudly claim him and name him as our Representative.

I ask you to place in unanimous nomination, and by acclamation, as the member from the Twelfth Massachusetts District in the fifty-fourth Congress, the Honorable John W. Weeks, of Newton.

Captain Weeks was then escorted to the hall, and received a most flattering reception. He called attention to the fact that it was thirty years since a Congressman in this district had received a third nomination. He thought his district the best in Congress, as the personal calls upon his time were so few, compared with other representatives. This left him more opportunity to study the larger questions of government. He strongly urged not only the election of Mr. Taft as President, but a Republican house to support him in his announced intention to call a special session to revise the tariff. The Congressman also urged the election of Eben S. Draper as Governor, speaking highly of him both as a man and as a public official.

On the district committee, which was then elected, the Newton men are Hon. S. W. Jones, Representative Marcelon, Mr. Frederick Johnson and Mr. Chas. E. Hatfield.

The delegates were entertained at lunch at the Parker House at the close of the convention.

FANCY—WIGGIN

The marriage of Mr. Raymond Ashley Fancy of Newton and Miss Edith Wiggins, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Frederick A. Wiggins, took place last Monday evening at the home of the bride, 27 Brook street, Brookline. The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by Rev. Frederick A. Wiggins, the father of the bride and pastor of the Unity church of Boston.

The bride wore a white satin gown with Irish point lace. The maid of honor, Miss A. Maude Smith of Winthrop, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Mabel B. Page of Boston, were dressed in white lace. The ushers were Messrs. Walter B. Page and James MacQueen of Boston, Robert Bowman of Springfield and Dr. George Lester Lane of Boston.

A reception followed the ceremony from eight until ten o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins were assisted in receiving their friends by Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins, Mr. Lyman Wiggins, Miss Laura E. Wiggins, and Mr. and Mrs. William Story, grandparents of the bride.

The house was prettily decorated with roses and asters.

Other people's money is what we are after, but we give "value received." A fair exchange is all we wish. If you are looking for a heater for your dwelling, investigate the "WINCHESTER," made for steam or hot water.

Smith & Thayer Company, 236 Congress street, Boston, Mass.

FOR SENATOR

Judge Mulligan of Natick

Selected By First District Republican

Judge Henry C. Mulligan of Natick was the choice of the Republicans in this district for Senator, at the convention held Wednesday afternoon at South Framingham.

The convention was called to order in Union hall by Mr. Chas. E. Hatfield, chairman of the district committee. Hon. A. L. Harwood of Newton Centre was chosen chairman, and after a few declarations, the delegate from Sherborn was elected secretary. The Newton delegation, which was short two men, was authorized to fill its quota and the convention was just about to proceed to ballot, when the Framingham delegates desired to make nominating speeches. Mr. Harry N. Winch of that town and Judge Mulligan were then placed in nomination. The first ballot was declared void, as 56 votes were cast, while the whole number should have been but 55.

The second ballot resulted as follows: Judge Mulligan 33, Representative Flag of Holliston 10, Harry N. Winch of Hopkinton 9, Judge Henry C. Mulligan 2, and Aaron C. Dowse of Sherborn 1. The nomination was made unanimous and Judge Mulligan was escorted to the hall and made a neat speech of acceptance. Mr. Charles E. Hatfield of Newton was unanimously re-elected a member of the state committee and the usual district committee was chosen.

Judge Henry C. Mulligan, the Republican nominee for Senator, was born in Natick fifty years ago, and has always made that town his home. He graduated from Harvard in 1879 and was admitted to the bar three years later. He has held many positions of trust and honor and stands exceedingly well in the estimation of his fellow-townsmen and with all who know him. He is a member and has served as chairman of the Parish Committee of the Congregational church, was chairman of the school board for 18 years, is president of the Natick Five Cents Savings Bank, a member of Meridian Lodge of Masons, and Natick Commandery, Knights Templar, a charter member of Henry Wilson Camp, Sons of Veterans, was town counsel for twenty years, has served as a selectman, and library trustee, and for the past 16 years has been the trial justice for the town.

It is evident that the Republicans of the district have made no mistake in placing Judge Mulligan in nomination for the Senate.

TENNIS

Two championships were decided at the Waban Tennis Courts during the week, E. H. Robinson winning the singles for the challenge cup presented by the President, Mr. Wm. M. Buffum, defeating C. H. Whitaker last Saturday, 6-3, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2. The match was poorly played, both being erratic, but the winner was steadier at critical points and better at the net.

On Wednesday D. M. Hill and E. H. Robinson won the doubles championship by breaking the tie for first place with W. H. Parker and C. C. Blaney, winning 6-4, 6-4. The leaders won two matches by default, and four in match play without losing a set, excelling the other pairs in team work.

The Women's Championship Tournament for the challenge cup held by Miss Jessie G. Gould was commenced on Saturday with 10 entries, and has been played down to the finals. In the upper half Mrs. W. H. Parker won without difficulty from Miss Kimball and Mrs. Rane, but the lower half produced an upset, Mrs. P. S. Hill defeating Miss Gould 6-3, 8-10, 6-3, the second set being one of the best contests of the year. The winners will meet for the title the last of the week.

BIRTHDAY DANCE

Miss Esther Wing gave a pretty dance at the Hunnewell Club last Saturday evening, in celebration of her birthday. Mrs. Mitchell Wing, Mrs. Jas. F. Bothfeld and Mrs. Everett T. Ryder were the matrons.

News was received during the evening of the automobile accident, that afternoon, in which young Mr. Parks lost his life. All of the young men who were in the accident had expected to be at the party, and the festivities were brought to an early close in consequence.

N. H. S. NOTES

Newton high school opened its football season on Wednesday, playing Waltham a 6-0 game. The scheduled date on Tuesday had been postponed on account of the funeral of Samuel T. Parks, a member of the senior class. The game was well played throughout by Newton, who had the ball in Needham's territory most of the time and the prospects for a good team seem unusually good. O'Neil, Barrows and Dunne (a new man) played well for Newton.

THE PARTY OF YOUTH

Why Young Men Vote the Republican Ticket.

IT STANDS FOR PROGRESS.

New Voters Proud to Ally Themselves With the Party of Lincoln—Its Past Performances Presage a Still More Glorious Future.

It is not without significance that young men who have just attained their majority are found, as a rule, voting the Republican ticket. The reason is plain. Those young men look on the Republican party as the party of hope, the party of promise and of performance, the party for whose candidates they will be proud to say in later years that they cast their first ballot, the party whose past needs no apology, no claim of oblivion for blunders and for crimes, no record of slavery, rebellion and attempted repudiation, each stamped out in its turn by American freemen under Republican leadership.

The Republican party is eminently the party of youth. With Republicans the memory of the glorious past is but an incentive to make the future still more glorious. To the Democracy is left the congenial occupation of floundering in the marsh of bygone Democratic vagaries, lured on by some new and delusive will-o'-the-wisp to the quagmire of quadrennial failure.

The youthful voter finds no attraction in such company. He prefers to march forward on firm ground, with the party of Lincoln, of Grant, McKinley and Roosevelt, of Taft and Sherman and Hughes—of nearly every great American, living and dead, whose career has added lustre to the closing half of the old century and the beginning of the new. The young man prefers the Republican party because it holds out a prospect for his own advancement, because in building up the nation as a whole it offers fresh opportunities to the individual, because under Republican administration there is a fair field for every one, and every citizen is protected in the enjoyment of that which he has rightfully acquired.

The new voter who takes his place in the Republican ranks and casts his ballot for Taft and Sherman will have the satisfaction not only of sharing in the Republican victory, but also of knowing that he has helped to assure prosperity for the country at large and an immeasurably better chance in life for himself and those in whom he is interested than if the harpies of Bryanism had been permitted to befoul the feast.

LABOR TURNS TO TAFT.

Toilers Scent Danger in the Fallacies of Mr. Bryan.

Convincing evidence was furnished by the conference at Cincinnati last week by Judge Taft with Oscar Straus, secretary of commerce and labor, and T. V. Powderly, formerly general master workman of the Knights of Labor, that the attitude of labor is growing each day more friendly to Taft. The campaign of education which the Republicans have been carrying on has been effective, and the laboring man, so Mr. Powderly told the candidate, is beginning to appreciate the fact that a restoration of business confidence through the election of Mr. Taft means more work and prosperous times for him.

Secretary Straus announces his intention to go out on the stump for the specific purpose of exposing some of the Bryan fallacies in regard to labor. Said Mr. Straus: "The most dangerous of these fallacies is presented in Bryan's slogan, 'Shall the people rule?' and well may he ask it, for every one of his leading doctrines is a denial of that rule."

Mr. Straus classes Mr. Bryan's government guarantee of bank deposits as next in point of danger to his plan for the government ownership of railroads. Mr. Straus believes this guarantee proposition is as great a menace as the old 16 to 1 hobby. "To guarantee deposits," said Secretary Straus, "is to guarantee the loans of the banks, for, as a matter of fact, a large part of the bank's deposits is made up of credits extended by the bank to borrowers and by them deposited or placed on the books of the banks as deposits."

Mr. Powderly said among other things after his talk with Taft: "Labor never was better organized, better paid, more independent or more respected than it is today. Never was it more secure in its share of the outcome of the commodity or the good will and confidence of employers. All this is due to the effort of nonpartisan, well organized unions. What labor organizations now enjoy, and they enjoy more than they ever enjoyed in the civilized world before, came as the result of intelligent, co-operative effort exerted in a nonpartisan way through their unions."

"Of course there are many men out of employment as the result of the recent depression, but to my knowledge men are returning to their old occupations all over the country and at their old rates of pay. I recall the awful panic of 1873 and that of 1893, and in neither case did men go back to work at their old wages. The case is different now, and to my mind it would be suicidal for labor to vote in such a way as to imperil the return of full prosperity, so rapidly manifesting itself."

The issue is just this: Taft and prosperity or Bryan and paralysis.

DEMOCRAT ADVOCATES NEGRO DISFRANCHISEMENT.

National Committeeman Atwood, Bryan's Close Friend, Openly Favors Taking Vote From Colored Men of Kansas.

Disfranchisement of as many colored voters as possible is advocated by John H. Atwood, Democratic national committeeman from Kansas, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Democratic national committee, one of Bryan's closest friends and a man who, it is said, Mr. Bryan intends to make attorney general if he should be elected president.

Disfranchisement of the colored men of Kansas was advocated by Mr. Atwood in the following letter published in the Kansas City Post of Kansas City, Kan., May 7, 1908:

Letter Urging Disfranchisement.
"By one of those strange ironies of fate which sometimes overtake the benefactors of individuals, peoples or races the state of Kansas, which has done more perhaps for the negro than any other state in the Union, is now suffering a grievous political wrong from the hands of the freedman and his descendants."

"William A. Harris would now be governor of Kansas had it not been for the ignorant negro vote, and there have been times in the past when the Democratic party could have elected its state ticket had it not been for the ignorant black vote of Kansas City, Kan., Leavenworth, Atchison, Lawrence and Topeka."

"There was a time when the negro vote was not a considerable factor in Kansas politics, but that time has passed. The influx of negroes from the south, the rapid multiplication of those native to Kansas soil and the increasing insistence of the negro upon social equality make the Kansas negro not only a political factor, but a social and political menace."

Atwood Favors 'Jim Crow' Schools.
"If the last election be a criterion, the negro now holds the balance of political power in Kansas, as he does in Missouri. This in itself is bad enough, but in Kansas we have suffered for long years the outrage of mixed schools, fastened upon us by the Republican politician."

"Mixed schools lend the negroes to aspire to a mixed society, and this close contact of the races is productive of troubles from which Kansas would be free if the negro had less political power and were not admitted to the same schools with the whites."

"Kansas has long been weary of the negro politician, and it is more than weary of the mixed school. Patience has its limits, and I believe that the time has come when the people of Kansas will join with the people of Missouri in restricting negro suffrage."

"I do not advocate the disfranchisement of the negro on the ground of his color. That idea is abhorrent to the principles of our free government, and its execution would be in conflict with the constitution."

"But our constitution will permit the disfranchisement of the ignorant, depraved, lazy, vicious and debauched negro, and this disfranchisement should be accomplished to the end that our free institutions may not suffer."

AMERICAN GOODS ABROAD.

Policy of Cheaper Sales Has Consent of Both Parties.

Secretary Shaw estimates that out of every $1,000 worth of manufactures exported from this country 30 cents' worth are sold abroad cheaper than at home. So far the complaint of the Democrats that our manufactures sell abroad cheaper than at home seems to be true. But this is not as great a discount in the export trade as the advantage given to manufactures in the importation of raw materials, that they may employ American labor at American wages in the manufacture of goods that are to be sold abroad in competition.

It has been the policy of the Republican party for a number of years to encourage such competition in foreign markets. The drawback on materials imported for manufactures that are to be exported is not peculiar to the Dingley law. The same provision was in the McKinley law, and it was incorporated in the Wilson-Gorman law by the Democrats. It was kept in the law when the Dingley act was passed because it became the policy of the government by common consent of both parties.

Last year we imported $10,000,000 worth of materials which went into manufactures for export, and the drawback was paid on about 5 per cent of our imports. This would make it possible for the American manufacturers to sell about 5 per cent of their exports, or $120,000,000 worth, cheaper abroad than at home. The advantage given by the drawback was given for the purpose of enabling them to go into foreign markets and compete, even if they had to sell cheaper than at home. And this advantage was given in the Democratic tariff act of 1894, just as it had been in the McKinley act of 1890 and as it is now given by the Dingley act of 1907.

It is therefore not a partisan question, because it has had recognition from both political parties. It is a part of the policy to meet competition in foreign markets rather than protection for the home market. Its definite purpose is to enable manufacturers in this country to give employment to American labor for the production of goods for consumption in Europe instead of leaving that manufacture to European producers employing European labor.

COUNCILLOR JONES

Again Honored By Republicans

Given Unanimous Nomination for Third Term

Hon. Seward W. Jones of Newton Highlands was unanimously renominated as a candidate for the Governor's Council in the Sixth District at the Republican convention held Wednesday noon in Wesleyan hall, Boston. The convention was called to order by Representative W. F. Garcelon of Newton, chairman of the district committee and Hon. Herbert E. Fletcher of Westford was elected chairman and Herbert W. Rawson of Arlington, secretary. Mr. E. T. Colburn of Newton Centre was a member of the committee on credentials, which reported 121 delegates present.

Congressman John W. Weeks of Newton presented Mr. Jones' name to the convention in his usual happy manner, saying in part that Mr. Jones had grown in office, devoted much valuable time to the interests of the state, and that there was no criticism heard in the district. In addition, Mr.

probably we will nominate as the Republican candidate for the high office of Governor of the Commonwealth, the present Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Eben S. Draper. I have had the honor for the past two years of serving in the Council with Mr. Draper and have had exceptional opportunities for observing his administration, and I have no hesitation in saying I have never known a man who had a higher conception of the duties of a public official or in whom is better exemplified the fact that public office is a public trust.

Conscientious, fearless, with a keen business insight he has carefully guarded the interests of the State and no public act of his either as Lieutenant-Governor or Acting Governor has been influenced in the least degree by personal or selfish considerations; he has performed his duty as he saw it regardless of the effect on his future political interests.

The Republican party and the Commonwealth are fortunate in having a candidate with such high ideals and so well equipped for the office of Governor, and it seems to me all who believe in a clean, honest and business-like administration should see to it that he is overwhelmingly elected.

The 6th Councillor District is strongly Republican and yet there is abundant opportunity here for effective work in his behalf, not only to bring out the normal vote but to largely increase it and I want to urge on

HON. SEWARD W. JONES
Republican Candidate for Councillor

Weeks said, that Hon. Eben S. Draper, our next governor, greatly desired the nomination of Mr. Jones, of whom he had the highest opinion of his judgment, wisdom and energy.

Mr. Jones was then nominated by acclamation and was escorted to the hall by a committee of three.

Mr. Jones said: It is a great honor to represent the 6th Councillor District in the Governor's Council; it is doubly so when a candidate receives for three consecutive years an uncontested nomination.

Gentlemen, I appreciate highly the honor you have conferred upon me in nominating me for the third time as your candidate and I thank you most sincerely.

On next Saturday, in all human

all present to work to that end so that he may not have five or ten thousand, but fifty thousand plurality.

Mr. Garcelon presented resolutions on the death of former councillor Hon. Warren W. Rawson of Arlington, which were adopted and a district committee was then elected, of which Messrs. W. P. Garcelon, E. T. Colburn and Frank R. Moore were the Newton members.

Congressman Weeks was then invited to address the convention and made brief remarks on the national and state issues, urging a large vote for the Republican candidates, particularly for Congressmen and for Mr. Draper. After adjournment the delegates took lunch with Mr. Jones at Young's Hotel.

RECREATION FOR OCTOBER

The front cover of this October number is in full colors and alone is worth the price of the magazine, which is now on all news stands. The hunting season, which is now on, occupies more notice in this number than some of the other sports, and the illustrations are particularly satisfying, as all of them represent actual scenes. Sportsmen generally will appreciate the table giving the full season for game both in the United States and Canada, and a full study of this may save some of them heavy fines.

This number of Recreation is profusely illustrated and altogether will appeal to the lover of outdoor sports.

Orpheum—The Orpheum Theatre, Boston, under the management of William Morris, Inc., resumes its place as a vaudeville house on Monday, Oct. 5, and matinees will be given every day. The first week's list is unusually good, and is headed by William Courtleigh & Co. in Geo. V. Hobart's little classic, "Peaches." "The College Girls and the Teddy Bears" is a bit from the musical comedy success of last season at Blaney's in New York.

Grace Cameron, the original "Dolly Dimples," wears a sheath gown of eccentric cut, and makes a number of remarkable costume changes in her singing act. Cliff Gordon has a lot of new talk in his character of the German politician. Halliday and Curley present the military travesty, "The Battle of Too Soon," with a special setting and elaborate effects.

Among the other novelties are the Taylor Twin Sisters in a skating act which is lively and full of exciting tricks, and Canfield and Carleton in a unique sketch called "The Hoo-Do." There will also be something new in motion pictures.

CITY HALL NOTES

It is now City Physician Lowe. Dr. Utley's resignation taking effect Sept. 30.

Mr. George R. Pulsifer, for six years a member of the board of health, resigned this week, to take effect Oct. 1.

The annual outing of the aldermen, to inspect the city work and buildings, will take place tomorrow.

REAL ESTATE.

Alford Bros. report the sale of No. 26 Oxford road, Newton Centre, a new 2 1/2 story, cement dwelling on a lot of 12,000 square feet, for Irving W. Ireland to Dr. H. Winchester Hardy for immediate occupancy. This house well represents cement construction as applied to private dwellings.

LODGES

Riverdale Lodge, N. E. O. P., will hold a meeting next Monday evening in Society hall, Auburndale, a supper will be served, followed by an entertainment. Mrs. G. P. Austin is chairman of the committee of arrangements.

KING ARTHUR CONCLAVE

The annual conclave of the Department of New England Knights of King Arthur will be held Saturday, Oct. 3, in Grace church, Newton. The program will be as follows:

Morning session, 10 o'clock.
Individual registration. Reports of the Seneschals from all castles in New England. Full regalia is requested. Meeting of Merlins. Discussion of department organization. Lunch.
Afternoon session, 1:30 o'clock.

Degree work.
Debate, "Resolved, that the true knight is typified more by a gentle example set to others than by aggressiveness."
Election of Department officers.
Papers on the histories of Knights of the Round Table.
Other entertainment if time permits.
Evening session, 7:30 o'clock.

TAFT AS A SPEAKER.

His Talks to the People Winning Many Votes.

DOESN'T POSE AS AN ORATOR.

Word Pictures Not Needed to State Facts Plainly—Republican Candidate's Clearness and Sincerity Carry Conviction.

From being decidedly apprehensive as to the outcome of Judge Taft's speaking tours Republican leaders are now convinced that one of the wisest moves of the campaign was the decision to let the Republican candidate visit as many sections of the country as possible between now and election day and talk to as many voters as the time will permit. When speaking tours for Taft were first discussed the opponents of the plan based their opposition on the fact that as an orator Taft cannot be compared to Bryan. They argued that Taft, who makes no pretense to oratory, would be placed at a disadvantage appearing on the stump against the gifted Nebraskan. But Judge Taft himself solved the problem and cleared the whole situation with one sentence in his recent speech at Sandusky, O.

"I cannot dwell in the cerulean blue, but have to deal with facts," he declared. It is this dealing with facts in a clear, dispassionate manner that has made William Howard Taft what he is, that will cause him to gain strength every time he appears in public. Taft's best friends cannot claim for him that he is an orator. But he can tell the truth and does tell it. He will not have to paint beautiful word pictures of what should be done. He will not have to plead with silvery eloquence for the alleged downtrodden nor call on "the masses" to rise up and save the country from the rule which Bryan has been predicting and finding various panaceas for during the past twelve years.

What Taft has to do is to state cold, clear cut facts, to tell the truth about himself, to give to his auditors a clear and unmistakable idea of what Taft the man is and what he stands for. And this he can do, and do well. By nature he is frank and open. It would be difficult for him to dissemble if he wished to do so.

Already Taft has begun making serious impressions on his audiences. Bryan never fails to tickle his audiences. In most instances he arouses enthusiasm, but it is an enthusiasm which rarely lasts. Those who listen and applaud go away and forget. With the Taft audiences it is different. By the clearness of his exposition and the absolute sincerity of his manner he carries conviction. His auditors are soon impressed by two things—Taft's ability and Taft's sincerity.

"That man means what he says," is a comment frequently heard after Taft has spoken. Another Taft characteristic that is winning many friends for the Republican candidate among those who knew nothing of him before they saw and heard him is his great courage. He says what he thinks, and says it in such a way that it remains fixed in the minds of those who hear him. At Athens, O., he was addressing 400 union coal miners. He told them about having issued injunctions. "I issued them," he said, "because the rights of the plaintiffs demanded it. When I am on the bench I enforce the law. And I have no apology to make."

For a minute there was absolute silence, dramatic in its intensity. Then the 400 miners broke not merely into applause, but into enthusiastic cheers. After the meeting they were heard expressing their views.

"That man is on the level," said one. "He doesn't hand out any 'con' talk. He knows where he stands and is not afraid to come straight out with a thing. He ain't the orator Bryan is, but he says things that Bryan wouldn't dare say."

Unlike many of Bryan's utterances, Taft's utterances will bear inspection. He will make no declaration that is open to doubt. "I have to deal with facts," he said. In some of his speeches Bryan, intoxicated with the sound of his own words, frequently makes statements not entirely trustworthy. Taft has been too long on the bench, too long in high government positions, where his utterances carried weight, to permit of his making careless statements. Furthermore, Taft possesses to a marked degree the ability to discuss the most intricate subjects in the simplest language. He proved this most conclusively at Sandusky when he made perfectly plain to his audience the development of anti-trust legislation and the powers and limitations of the federal government. Everybody knew exactly what he was talking about and understood it clearly, yet there were few in the audience who realized that he was discussing abstruse legal problems without resorting to bewildering legal phraseology.

As far as personal magnetism goes, Taft and Bryan are nearly equal. But where Bryan's personality is one that creates interest and enthusiasm Taft's is one that inspires affection and trustfulness. "That man has a fine face; I would trust him anywhere," said a West Virginia woman who with a fair party came over the mountains to hear Taft speak at Hot Springs. Those who meet him feel that he is not only sincere, but that he possesses the ability and courage to handle safely the many problems that confront a president. It is the knowledge of all this that makes the Taft managers glad that he is to go out and meet the people.

RECEPTION TO MRS. STEVENSON

A very enjoyable farewell reception was given in the vestry of the Methodist church, Newton, on Thursday evening by the members of the Newton Women's Christian Temperance Union, to the members of the Newton Equal Suffrage League, and the members of the Methodist Society, in honor of Mrs. Katherine Lentie Stevenson, State President of the W. C. T. U., who has recently been chosen by the World's President of the organization, to go on a tour around the world in the interest of Temperance.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Elizabeth Barker of Newtonville, President of the Newton Union; Mrs. Stevenson, State President and Honorary President of the Newton Union; Mrs. George F. Lowell of Newtonville, President of the Equal Suffrage League; Rev. George S. Butters, Pastor of the Methodist church, and Mrs. Butters.

After the reception, which was attended by a large number, the guests adjourned to the parlors, where an interesting program was given. There were addresses by Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Butters and Miss Elizabeth Gordon. Mrs. Maud McArthur of Cambridge, sang two solos in a pleasing manner, her fine contralto voice showing to splendid advantage. The accompanist was Prof. Krumpeln, who has recently removed to Newton. The favors were buttonholes of flowers tied with white ribbon, pinned on each guest as refreshments were served. Mrs. Stevenson leaves shortly for the National Convention at Denver, from which point she goes to San Francisco and sails for the Orient.

The meetings of the Union will be held monthly, with interesting programs for each meeting. The membership is now well on toward fifty, which mark the Union expects to reach before next meeting.

ANTI-NEGRO PLANKS IN WEST VIRGINIA DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Jim Crow Plank.
We favor the enactment of a law requiring common carriers engaged in passenger traffic to furnish separate coaches or compartments for white and colored passengers.

Elective Franchise Plank.
Believing that the extension of the elective franchise to a race inferior in intelligence and without preparation for the wise and prudent exercise of a privilege so vital to the maintenance of good government was a mistake if not a crime committed by the Republican party during the reign of passion and prejudice following the civil war for political ends and purposes, we declare that the Democratic party is in favor of so amending the constitution as to preserve the purity of the ballot and the electorate of the state from the evil results from conferring such power and privilege upon those who are unfitted to appreciate its importance, as it affects the stability and preservation of good government.

Taft's Religion.
To dispose of questions which should not be asked as speedily as possible let us say that Mr. Taft is not a Roman Catholic. He is a member of the Unitarian church. That was the church of his parents, and he has never separated himself from it. His wife, however, is an Episcopalian, and he worships more often beside her in her church.

These are the facts, which are utterly and absolutely unimportant. The matter of a man's religion has no right place in consideration of his fitness for the presidency. The constitution of the nation, ordained and established "to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity," expressly places the very suggestion of such thought outside the pale of patriotism.

No words can be clearer than these from our country's fundamental law, "No religious test ever shall be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States."

The numerous queries about Mr. Taft's religious belief show simply the extent to which his enemies have gone to rouse some prejudice against him. Since there was no spot upon his whole clean record of private conduct and public service to which they could point to Taft's detriment they displayed their willingness to descend to any depth of petty, cowardly, contemptible attack that might do him harm.—Philadelphia North American.

Same Old Story.
Taft talked "straight talk" to his countrymen about every issue that engrosses the thoughts of Americans today. Bryan promises a series of postscripts to dispose of tariff, railroads, currency, trusts and everything else of real importance. And then he engages in one of his melancholy searches after a "paramount issue" and finds it in the rhetorical, fustian and tinsel platitudes, "Shall the people rule?"

It is the old, old story. The garb of the conservative does not sit well upon the born Crusader. Mr. Bryan has put forth a tactful, smoothly phrased bundle of generalities, and he has done so at the very moment when the mental appetite of the whole people is sharpened for strong meat and not wind pudding.

With a score of honestly disputed and important questions open, he chooses deliberately to select as the chief issue of the campaign a query to which there is absolutely no negative response—"Shall the people rule?" The people always have ruled and always will rule.—Philadelphia North American, Aug. 15, 1908.

Reciprocal Boasting.
Judge Parker is laboring for the Bryan cause in California, which recalls the fact that Bryan's campaign in Nebraska for Parker kept the Republican majority in the state down to 32,000.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

How the Affairs of the City are Run at City Hall

The Milk Inspector and His Delicate Work

Few people are aware, I believe, of the extent of the milk business in the city of Newton. Milk Inspector Arthur Hudson, whose system of keeping track of the milk supply in all its details, has been highly complimented by both state and national officials, places the consumption of milk last year at 7,277,005 quarts, and 236,885 quarts of cream. He estimates the value of this product at $813,121.45, or an average daily cost of $2,227.73. Newton stands fifth in all the cities of the United States in the per capita consumption of milk, with an average of one and one-half pints daily for each man, woman and child.

It is absolutely necessary that this important food supply should be inspected with care and handled in a clean and safe manner from the producer to the consumer. Mr. Hudson declares that this is exactly the case in Newton and that other milk inspectors who frequently consult him for advice have expressed a high opinion of the milk analyses of this city.

The Milk Inspector takes samples

from time to time of the milk sold at the various stores and delivered from the milk wagons. The time of taking samples is irregular and at the sampling the condition of the teams, stores and refrigerators is also noted. The process of testing the milk is too complicated for a general article such as this, but is most interesting. In a general way the object of the test is to determine the percentage and amounts of fats and solids in the milk and compare them with the standard established by the state. Failure to reach this standard subjects the dealer to prosecution. Tests are also made to determine the number of bacteria in each cubic centimetre of milk. Boston has established a maximum number of 500,000 to the centimetre, but authorities differ so greatly that Newton has not yet established a standard. The need of modern apparatus in the testing work is great, and the city is fortunate in having for its Milk Inspector, a man who does the work in his own laboratory and furnishes many of the materials from his own supplies.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO

Sometimes when sickness is in the family and a physician has been called in
and a prescription written, you have noticed the name of some particular druggist printed on the paper on which the doctor writes the prescription.

This does not mean that you are compelled to take your prescription to the
druggist whose name appears on the paper.
It is recognized the world over that a patient has the privilege of taking the prescription to any drug store that he prefers.

The prescription department in our
store is always watched over by a registered pharmacist; a doctor's prescriptions are always filled exactly according
to the way he intended they should be filled.

Hollis Street Theatre—The theatrical annals of Boston do not record
such a triumph as "The Round-Up." Klaw Erlanger's stupefying production of Edmunds Day's famous play which broke all records
last season for big receipts. It returns for a limited engagement to the Hollis Street Theatre, Monday Oct. 5. This play with its heart interest and thrills and extraordinary sensationalism in the most realistic battle scene ever presented, has a popular appeal that has resulted in an unbroken succession of crowded audiences wherever seen. The scenes of the play are laid in Southern Arizona and the characters are most graphically portrayed. The broad arch of the scene painter and the marvels of stage-craft have never produced such scenes as those presented in "The Round-Up." The stay of "The Round-Up" at the Hollis Street Theatre is limited. Its performance at the Hollis are the only opportunities those living within a reasonable journey to Boston will have of seeing this tremendous dramatic sensation and no one should miss the chance. The management have established an extremely popular tariff of prices ranging from 25 cents to $1.50. So great is the demand for seats from those living at a distance from Boston that a special bureau has been established for the expeditious handling of mail orders, which when sent with cash or money order and accompanied by addressed, stamped envelope, receive immediate attention. Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday.

Boston Theatre—For the opening of the regular season of the Boston
Theatre Stock Company, on Monday,
October 5th, Mr. B. F. Keith has arranged a bill of fare that is sure to attract wide-spread attention. With a lavish expenditure, and one of the largest companies ever put on in stock, he will present E. H. Southern's greatest success, "If I Were King," a historic and romantic play
in four acts by Justin Huntley McCarty. Wilson Melrose will have the part of Villon, and Frank Losee, the new member of the company, will be seen as Louis XI, a part in which he has made one of his greatest successes.
Eleanor Gordon will also return to the company, as leading lady and will appear as Catharine DeValcelles.
New members of the company will be Gertrude Binley, who was formerly with Clara Bloodgood in "The Girl
With the Green Eyes," and Dudley
Hawley, who for the past eight years has been with the Keith and Proctor companies in New York.

Keith's Theatre—One of the most important announcements of the season is made for Keith's Theatre,
the week of October 5th, when La Sylpho,
the classic dancer, will make her first appearance in Boston. This exponent of the balletic dances has been the sensation of New York the past six months and was the first of a long line, who entered into this form of entertaining when it became popular.
The only real rival of the Sylpho has been Maud Allan, who has been a London sensation for more than a year. La Sylpho is strikingly, if not daringly, original in her conception of the dances described in the Bible, and her appearance at Keith's will undoubtedly be one of the events of the season. The bill for the week will be of a decidedly high class character,
among the entertainers being Willa Holt Wakefield in a pianologue. Miss Wakefield is one of the most popular women in New York Society. There will also be Charley Case, the old time minstrel and story teller; the Eight Kellinos, a European acrobatic sensation, which will be held over for another week; Harry Allister; the Three Lellios in a musical comedy act; Al Rayner and his Terriers; the Gillette Sisters, and the especially arranged entertainment of moving pictures, travel features and special singing numbers.

NEW ENGLAND FOOD FAIR.
Here are some facts regarding Mechanics Building, Boston, one of the largest exposition buildings in America. In this building will be held from October 5 to October 31, the greatest fair ever held in America. It will contain the greatest number of exhibitors. It will also have the greatest number of attractions, at a cost of over $100,000, or over five times more than the total cost of any previous food fair held in Boston.

The Mexican National Band alone is twice the size of, and will cost double that spent for any musical attractions at any previous food fair or exposition held in America. The Mexican government band, and the salaries of its members paid by the Republic of Mexico, its expense would be prohibitive. But it is sent to the New England Food Fair at Mechanics Building with the personal compliments and greetings of President Diaz.
The average daily expense of these ninety-seven talented musicians while in Boston will be $1450.

The expense to produce the Frank
C. Bostock Consolidated Trained Wild Animal Arena, a combination of the Bostock shows from Earl's Court, London, England, and from Bostock's Dreamland, Coney Island, N. Y., and the feeding of the 500 animals, will be over $1200, per day.
All of these attractions, with a host of others, are free to all who visit Mechanics Building during the month.
The progress of the New England Food Fair which opens Monday night, October 5.

NAUTICAL TRAINING SCHOOL.
The Commissioners of the Massachusetts Nautical Training School are entitled to great credit for the efficient administration of their department. They have been untiring in their efforts to promote the interests of a school which is doing good work in fitting young men for service in the American merchant marine. The new ship—the U. S. S. Ranger—is now on her way home from the Philippine Islands. The dimensions and rig of the Ranger make her well fitted for training school purposes.
The fall entrance examination will be held Wednesday, October 7, 1908.

HOSPITAL TAG DAY.

What is "Tag Day?"
The following account of "Tag Day" in Washington, published in substance in the Congregationist, tells what it is and helps to make clear what the ladies have in mind
for tomorrow's Tag Day.

Washington needed a large amount of money for school playgrounds, and if each person gave a little that sum could be raised, but the question was how to reach each person. Then it was suggested that every individual and his belongings be tagged on a day appointed, and so thoroughly was this done that the money was raised in one day.

Committees were appointed, and each took hold with a will. There was a house to house visitation where large tags were sold reading, "This house is tagged for the children of Washington," and tags to be conspicuously displayed on the day named,
in some cases the tags were hung out on a day or two ahead of the time, and one woman with a baby in her arms stopped suspiciously before such a dwelling fearing a sign might mean
the presence of a dread disease.

Of course the first tag went to the President, who cheerfully gave his check to benefit the cause. Admiral Dewey smilingly added the bit of passboard to his other decorations,
and so as the day passed everyone was tagged from the least unto the greatest. But personal tags and house tags and store tags were not all—every carriage, delivery wagon and automobile was labeled, and all self-respecting dogs had a badge telling the same story. The tags ranged in price from a few cents to as many dollars as one wished to give. One individual strolled along the avenue, the entire front of his coat covered with tags, and the first question asked in meeting friends was not "How do you do?" but "Are you tagged?" Every one, old and young entered into the spirit of the occasion and Tag Day will long be remembered as a carnival at the National Capital.

Sarah Hull chapter, D. R. of Newton, of which Miss Coburn is the regent, is planning to erect a memorial to the men of Newton, who fought in the revolution. Forty-six of them bore the same name and probably had the same family connections. It is to raise funds for this purpose that a revolutionary sale will be held at the home of the honorary regent of the chapter, Mrs. Alexander Ferris, 87
Washington street, Hunnewell Hill,
Newton, Oct. 3, from 2 to 10 o'clock P.
M.

CITY LABORERS DISSATISFIED.

A committee of 12 appointed to comfer with Newton city officials and the Massachusetts civil service commissioner reported in a meeting of Newton city employees' union 12,280, A. P. of L., last Friday night, that there is still violation of an alleged agreement that noncitizens shall not be employed in city departments, hence when employees who are citizens are laid off.
The committee was authorized to give further consideration to the matter. It is expected that some definite action will be taken in a meeting which will be held in two weeks, unless a special meeting is called in the meantime.

LINEMAN HURT.

By coming in contact with charged wires while repairing telephone wires
at the top of a pole on Winchester street, Newton Highlands, near the Working boy's home Saturday morning, Elijah W. Warren, a lineman, living at 279 Webster street, West Newton, fell 25 feet and sustained numerous injuries. Fellow workmen made him as comfortable as possible, until the police ambulance, after a hard run of several miles, removed him to the Newton hospital. Physicians in the hospital found that he had a fractured wrist and many cuts and bruises. He will recover.

POSTPONED WEDDING GIFT.

A wedding gift of $100 made to Mrs.
Emma S. Blaisdell, wife of Carl D.
Blaisdell, nearly a year and a half
after their marriage, became known when the will of Jeremiah Woodward
of Andover was allowed in East Cambridge.

Mr. Woodward, who had been engaged in business in Andover many years, died a fortnight ago at his home, 28 Newland street. His daughter had been married in this city to Carl D. Blaisdell of New York, who is connected with a submarine signal company. April 8, 1907 by Rev. Edward M. Noyes of Newton Centre. At the time of the wedding, it is stated,
Mr. Woodward refrained from making a wedding gift.

MUNICIPAL WHEELS

Our Schools, and What They Accomplish

One of the greatest sources of pride in the American nation, is the attention given in this country to the education of children. From the earliest days of the republic there has been a constantly increasing interest taken in educational matters until at the present time, this door of opportunity is open to every child. This is particularly so in the city of Newton, where our schools have been long noted for their excellence.

It is not the purpose of this article to give an exhaustive review of what Newton has done in the past for its children or what it proposes to do in the future. I shall be satisfied if I can give my readers some insight into a department which touches most of us so closely through our children, and which I fear we frequently criticize without much reason.

The schools are under the complete control of a board of fifteen members who serve without pay. Fourteen (two from each ward), for terms of 3 years each, are elected by the people of the whole city, and the president of the board of aldermen serves ex-officio. The board organizes annually in January with the choice of a chairman and a secretary, and holds monthly meetings in the old Claffin school building at Newtonville.

Sub-committees of three members each are appointed on High school, for each of the seven wards, on teachers, evening schools, text books and courses of study, finance and supplies, school houses, rules and regulations and special branches, such as music, drawing, physical culture and manual training.

The sub-committees are the working force of the committee and with the superintendent or secretary virtually outline the policies to be followed by the full board.

The committee on finance and supplies has the agreeable duty of keeping the constantly growing needs of the department within the appropriation made by the aldermen. It also examines and approves all bills before action thereon is taken by the full board. Another important duty is to determine the requirements for the succeeding year and which must pass the school board, aldermen and mayor before the appropriations are available.

Supplies are usually purchased through the efficient secretary of the committee. Twice each year the masters submit to the superintendent requisitions for paper, pencils, chalk, pens and the hundreds of small articles constantly used in school work. Something like 200 gross of pencils are needed to supply our schools for a year. The requests are examined and revised by the superintendent and transmitted to the secretary. Samples and prices are obtained directly from the publishers or manufacturers and submitted to the committee for selection. Orders are then given for the articles to be delivered, free of charge, at the various school buildings. The bills are checked by the master and secretary, approved by the committees on finance and ordered paid by the board. Books are purchased in the same way and these two items cost the department about $16,000 a year.

The committee on school houses has charge of all the repairs and furnishings of the school buildings put for by the department, and represents the full board before the aldermen when new school houses or additions are needed.

Next to the business end of school work, the most important duty of the board is the annual election of the superintendent and the 270 teachers needed for the 25 school buildings and over 6,500 school children in the city.

These elections usually occur in June for the succeeding school year in September.

Newton has been exceptionally fortunate in securing the services of its present superintendent of schools. For five years he has demonstrated his worth and at each succeeding election receives the unanimous vote of the entire school committee.

It was the former custom to elect all teachers annually, but during the past five years a permanent list has been established. A teacher who has been annually elected and re-elected for three years, is eligible for a place on the permanent list, which eliminates the necessity for annual elections, and a teacher must be placed on the permanent list before the end of five years' service or be dismissed. Of the 270 teachers now on the permanent list, 181 are on the permanent list. New teachers are nominated to the full committee by the committee on teachers, consisting of the chairman of each ward committee, usually in consultation with the superintendent and master of the school.

Applications for positions are filed with the superintendent together with such notes or references as may be required. When new teachers are needed, the applications for that particular grade are examined by the superintendent, in the most promising investigated by personal visits to their present schools, if any, and a recommendation made to the ward committee. The superintendent has authority to make temporary appointments in emergencies, reporting the facts to the board.

The superintendent is the executive officer of the board and must combine the knowledge of the scholar, the ability of the business man, and the progressiveness of the reformer. His work begins early in the morning with the determination of the weather, if unsettled, and the probable inconvenience to 6,500 children, or the loss of a day's service of nearly 300 teachers. More charity should be shown the superintendent in this matter by parents and taxpayers, but it is hard to eradicate the prevalent idea, that the superintendent is personally responsible for the weather.

Arriving at the office, many letters must be read and answered, reports of contagious diseases received from the health department and transmitted to the different masters by telephone or messenger.

Substitutes must be provided for teachers unexpectedly absent, and as many as 12 have been called and furnished in one day. Interviews are granted to applicants for positions, to pupils and parents on a thousand different matters. The remainder of the forenoon and afternoon until 4 o'clock are taken up in visiting the different schools. After 4 the office is again visited, the afternoon mail answered and with one or more committee meetings to attend, the day is brought to a close.

Meetings of the masters and teachers are frequently held, although at no stated hours. Schedules are made up each month and it is the custom to hold meetings of teachers of one grade throughout the city, with leaders and subjects assigned for discussion and instruction.

In this connection it is well to call attention to the manner in which teachers are treated in this city. Through the liberality of the last board of aldermen it was made possible to raise the average salary of regular grade teachers to $750 per annum. This is the amount which each teacher is expected to receive when she reaches the permanent list. The smallest salary paid for a teacher in charge of a class is $550, while exceptional teachers are paid as high as $900. A new teacher beginning at $550 the first year may expect, if she maintains the standard of Newton service, to receive $625 the second year, $675 the third year, and then the regular salary of $750. In addition to the salary, the superintendent, the school committee has recently adopted the plan of granting a few teachers a year's leave of absence on half pay, after the completion of seven years of service in our schools. While some 40 teachers are eligible for this favor, only five were granted the leave of absence this year. Teachers receiving this leave must agree to take a course of study approved by the superintendent during their absence and to stay at least three years with the city after their return. The committee believes that it is good business policy to improve the quality of our teachers at such small expense, the net additional cost to the city in each of the present cases is but $250. It is a phase of the merit system, and attracts the best teachers from other places. While the idea is practically new in the public schools, only six or eight having adopted it to date, it is an established custom in most of the colleges. The average tax payer will agree that a good school teacher needs as much in this line as college professors and if it can be obtained at such slight expense, it would seem desirable to adopt it permanently.

Speaking of the cost of our schools, I was rather surprised to see some comparisons recently made by the Massachusetts Bureau of Statistics of labor and Board of Education. While Newton is the first city in the cost per pupil of $39.89, it was the 13th municipality in the state, with the town of Lincoln, $68.01 at the head. It is well to bear in mind when making cost comparisons, that Newton is unfortunately situated geographically, for economy in all forms of municipal administration, and our schools are more comparable with those of towns than of cities. Brookline is perhaps a fair comparison and its cost per pupil is $53.33, considerably larger than Newton. In 1892-93 Newton stood sixth in the list of Massachusetts cities and towns and our present position of 13th is the lowest but one we have ever held. In addition to our geographical situation, Newton also has a far larger proportion of pupils in its High School than other places of similar population. A year ago (the latest figures obtainable in the state) Newton had 945 pupils in its High School, while Chelsea had 459, Salem 588, Haverhill, 606 and Malden 745, all these cities having about the same population as Newton. It will be seen that the average cost must be greatly increased in Newton under these circumstances, as it is far more expensive per pupil for High School education than for the lower grades. In Newton this difference last year was marked, being $39.44 for the entire city and $67.66 for the High School alone.

The geographical situation, besides increasing the number of masters and teachers by reason of the scattered districts, also reduces the size of the classes. In Newton Centre this fall, for instance, one grade which had had from 80 to 85 pupils, in two rooms, increased to 100 at the opening of the school term. It was therefore necessary to make three classes in this grade, and to employ one additional teacher. In a compact city it would have been possible to have so changed the district lines as to assign the pupils into other school buildings.

It is those things, small in themselves, which make the cost of our schools seem large. And yet, compared with the percentage of revenue devoted to educational purposes, Newton is by no means first. The figures show that 21 cities in the state pay a larger proportion of their revenue for educational purposes, and only 8 cities. The average for the entire state is 28.06, while Newton pays 29.79 of its tax levy for schools. Malden pays 34.39, Haverhill 35.37, Chelsea 29.89 and Salem 28.06. Springfield, which has often been compared with Newton as to quality of its schools, pays 34.44 of its revenue for this purpose. Evening schools are maintained at Newtonville and the Upper Falls during the winter season, and attract a large attendance from our foreign-born population, 19 nationalities being represented last year. The work has increased amazingly during the past five years, the appropriation having about doubled in that time. The work is mostly elementary, fully half the attendants taking the first and second grade work, with a few doing grammar school work. A small number take evening drawing lessons, held at Newtonville each year.

The vacation school work, which began as a philanthropic movement some years ago on the part of our Women's clubs has become a part of our school system the past year, although the ladies still keep up their interest in the work. For six weeks, industrial work and manual training are taught at Nonantum and Newton Centre. The children are taught carpentry, cooking, basket work, gardening, millinery and all kinds of industrial work. The attendance has been large and enthusiastic.

In the regular school work, I have heard considerable criticism of the placing of cooking into the ninth grades. This study requires the girls taking it to travel at their own expense, to the Stearns school on the north side of the city, and to the Mason school on the south side of the city. While the study course is optional, nearly every girl in all the ninth grades has taken up the work. The course includes the setting of the table, waiting on the table, and will embrace all kinds of cooking. At the present time, the preserving and pickling of fruits, while they are in season, has aroused humorous comments, but the more important articles of food will be taught, when fruits are out of season.

While it is hardly practicable to state just how much each study costs, the special branches approximate as follows: Sloyd and manual training, $1,400; Sewing, $2,600; Cooking, $900; Music, $2,000; Writing, $600; Drawing, $2,200. The monthly pay rolls of the department are about $25,000, of which the High School is between $4,500 and $5,000. The estimates of the department for running expenses of next year, beginning Jan. 1st, exclusive of the sinking funds, interest and serial bonds on the school debt, and the amount expended for repairs, are over $312,000.

The kindergartens are very popular in Newton, nearly 750 pupils attending the 14 maintained in various parts of the city. Children are admitted when four years of age and but one session a day is held.

Pupils completing the grammar course ending with the ninth grade are awarded a diploma signed by the master of the school and the chairman of the ward committee. A certificate of admission to the High School is also issued. Without this certificate, applicants for admission must take an examination, opportunity for which is given in June, and again in September. The graduates of the High School are also awarded diplomas. Admission to the lower grades is obtained by new pupils upon applying to the master of the district, who assigns the pupil to the proper grade through an informal examination. A vaccination certificate is also required.

The duties of the secretary are many and varied. Records, properly indexed, of the proceedings of the school board are kept in detail. Pay rolls of teachers and bills are prepared and minute accounts of the finances of the department are constantly kept up to date. The taking of the school census of every child in the city between five and fifteen years is done under the direction of the secretary. The work is usually done in September and requires about two months of hard canvassing at a cost of $250. This record forms the basis for certificates issued by the superintendent authorizing the employment of minors over 14 years of age in factories, etc.

The secretary also keeps the school statistics as required by the State Board of Education and makes an annual return to that body in May.

The free text book law adds considerably to the labors of the secretary, requiring an annual examination of damaged or worn volumes, in order that those worth rebinding may be saved from the fire or old paper dealer. From two to three thousand books are rebound yearly at a cost of about 10 cents each. The average life of school books is between two and three years.

The transient officer is a busy man and invaluable to the department. Fortunately the amount of truancy in Newton is small, but what there is has often required the services of three horses. The transient officer reports at the superintendent's office twice each day, to receive the notices of suspensions from the various masters, and fully 75 per cent of these reported are returned to the schools within an hour. The business requires a thorough knowledge of boy life, and the golf links and woods are frequently visited by the transient man. He also comes across many sad cases of poverty and neglect and can tell pathetic stories of finding children kept from school for lack of shoes, dresses and coats.

The school buildings and grounds are under the care of the various janitors and engineers, who are responsible to the superintendent for the condition of the heating, ventilating and for cleanliness. School floors are thoroughly washed three times a year, at each vacation period, and are swept whenever required by the master.

The space of this article forbids the mention of many matters of interest, but I hope in the future to specialize other features of school work, in order that full knowledge of this important department may be made public.

SWIFT—NICKERSON

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Nickerson on Lowell avenue, Newtonville, last Tuesday evening, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Newell Nickerson, to Mr. George Wesley Swift. The ceremony, which was of the simplest character, was performed by Rev. J. T. Stocking, pastor of Central church, and the bridal party was unattended. A small reception followed at 8 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Swift being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Nickerson and Mrs. Mary Swift. Mr. Swift is a former resident of Newtonville, and is editor of the Elizabeth (N. J.), Daily Journal, where he has taken his bride to reside.

PRISONER ESCAPES

Thomas Manning of West Newton, who has a record of having been arrested in this city nearly as many times as he is years old, escaped from police station 3 early Sunday morning, where he had been incarcerated an hour previously on a charge of drunkenness.

Manning was locked in a cell shortly after 2 o'clock, having been arrested by Patrolman Ryan. An hour later the house officer in station 3, Noah F. Bosworth, discovered that the cell was empty. Manning had broken the lock of the heavy iron door and escaped from the building through a side door. The cell room opens from the main room in which house officer Bosworth has his desk. The desk, however, obstructs a view of the entrance to the cell room as well as the door through which the prisoner took French leave. The police say that Manning must have worked very quietly, however, to escape detection.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—Alice Lloyd, the English comedienne, who is making her second visit to Boston, has again become the talk of the town, and the result is crowded houses at Keith's Theatre.

Another strong attraction is Julius Steger and Company, playing the "Fifth Commandment," a piece that has been a sort of a revelation in vaudeville. La Sylphie is another sensational feature that may be held over.

Then there is Ed. F. Renard, the ventriloquist, who puts on an entire production. Of equal importance will be Winston's Sea Lions, the most remarkable performing animals ever shown on a stage.

The entire bill is made up of features of this character, including the Adelman Musical Ensemble, Johnston and Hardy, Piccolo's Midgits, Leo Donnelly, Marselles, Shungopavi, and a number of new acts to be announced later, making up a bill that has been seldom seen in vaudeville.

Boston Theatre—The welcome received by the Boston Theatre Stock Company last week seems to leave no doubt as to the place held by this organization in the estimation of the theatregoers of the Hub.

For a second week, for instance, there has been secured one of the greatest successes of recent years, "Salome," in which Miss Eleanor Gordon will appear in the title role.

The play in itself is unquestionably one of the very best that has been built around the stories of Brete Harte, and the author, Paul Armstrong, made his reputation of a playwright with it.

It is in four acts, beautifully staged, and laid among the Californian redwoods. Following "Salome," "The Royal Family" will be the attraction.

Orpheum Theatre—The Orpheum Theatre has now fallen into the swing of its vaudeville season, and for the coming week the bill offered there is not only unusually strong, but exceptionally varied. The feature of the week's bill is the first and only serious presentation of the season's success, "Salome," presented with a competent cast and special scenic investiture. The production will include the famous dance of the "Seven Veils."

Miss Edna Porter interprets the dancer's role. Another unusual feature is the first appearance here of the Australian tree-fellers, who offer a cash prize of $50 to any one who will defeat them either at tree chopping or log sawing. Direct from the Berlin Wintergarden come the Bonuses, the King's Trumpeters, McInchou's Minstrel Mads and Watermelon Girls, the latest New York vaudeville success, and Boston's own Balladist, William Dillon, the man of a thousand songs. Maude Hall Macey and Co. in the rural comedy drama, "The Magpie and the Jay" and the Marco Twins, with Smirl and Kessner as "The Bell Boy and the Maid," are other new acts in the long bill. So popular was Cliff Gordon, the German Politician on his first week's engagement at the Orpheum, that he has been retained for the coming week. The Orpheum Orchestra, under the direction of Charles Frank, has become a big feature in the vaudeville program, and the Moriscope shows the very latest of motion pictures.

WHITE HOUSE COFFEE

SCENIC TEMPLE, WALTHAM

The patrons of the Scenic will have a rare treat the coming week, along with the regular program of latest pictures and best in vaudeville is the Doodsey, the biggest, grandest and most imposing spectacle ever presented in vaudeville, and has been engaged as a special attraction. Manager Lanworth has gone to great expense to secure this big production, and he wants it understood that Doodsey will appear twice each day, matinee and evening, and the ladies and children can attend the afternoon performance and see the same production as they will see at the evening performances.

Doodsey predicts and depicts the destruction of the world in 2007. No description will do even faint justice to the gorgeousness and magnificence of "Doodsey." Presented as the headline feature of a brilliant program of vaudeville and moving-picture novelties, it cannot fail to attract big crowds to the Scenic. On this account, ladies and children are invited to attend the afternoon performances when convenient.

CONCERT

J. Wiley Edmonds camp, No. 31, Sons of Veterans, announces an excellent concert for Thursday evening, October 22nd, in Temple hall, Newtonville. The talent includes the Lotus male quartet of Boston, of which Mr. William Hicks, soloist at the First church, Newton Centre, is the second tenor, and Mr. Nelson Raymond of the same church is the baritone. In addition to the fine music which this quartet always gives, the program includes Mrs. Nina Bearse Wilbur, the well-known reader, and Miss Ethel Mae Wentworth of Newton Highlands as pianist and accompanist.

RICHARDS-WALLACE

The wedding of Mr. Edwin Mitchell Richards, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Richards, of Kirkstall road, Newtonville, and Miss Helen Sophia Wallace, the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. George R. Wallace of Fitchburg, was an event of great interest to the society folk of this city. The ceremony took place last Saturday noon at the First Parish (Unitarian) church of Fitchburg, which was thronged with the many friends of the young couple.

Rev. Wm. H. Pierson of Somerville, former pastor of the church, and who married Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, officiated, assisted by Rev. Robert F. Leavens, who has recently taken charge of the parish.

The decorations at the church were exquisite in the beauty of their arrangement. Yellow and white chrysanthemums were massed on the altar platform, with a background of bay trees, while the Southern smilax was used for tracery. On the ends of the pews were placed bouquets of roses and the windows were also banked with roses. The gallery front was hidden also by a profusion of floral bloom mingled with green.

While the guests were assembling, Warren E. Locke, organist, of Boston, played a choice program of musical selections on the organ.

At noon the bridal party entered the church, to the music of the wedding march from Lohengrin and proceeded slowly down the aisle, led by the ushers, after whom came the flower girl and the bridesmaids, followed by the bride on the arm of her father. At the altar the bride was met by the groom.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white Duchesse satin, with a long train. Her tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was attended by Mrs. Edgar W. Connell of Scituate, Pa., as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Woodward of Fitchburg, cousin of the bride; Miss Lucy Lawrence of New York, Miss Helen Gillelly of Hudson, N. Y., and Miss Emily Richards of Chicago.

The flower girl was Miss Rachel Wallace, youngest sister of the bride, who was dressed in white chiffon, with a large white hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Connell, the matron of honor, wore her wedding gown, with a large white hat and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids' gowns were of white chiffon, with insertions of gold lace. They wore picture hats, trimmed with large white roses and faced with cloth of gold. They carried bouquets of pink roses.

The best man was Mr. Robert J.

Newton Republicans have a splendid opportunity this fall to show the senatorial district in general, and the upper end of it in particular, that a Republican candidate, who can command their respect and confidence can also command their votes. In Judge Mulligan, the party presents such a candidate and I trust that his worth
as a man will be emphasized to all those who may be inclined to cavalry at his name.

Registration figures to last night
with only five days more in which to register, indicate the lack of interest in the present political campaign. At the present time the registration just about balances the names of those struck off the list earlier in the session, and unless the ward committees are unusually active the next few days, the voting lists will be exceedingly small for a presidential year.

Attention is invited this week to Tax payers are taking an unusual interest in the expenses for education

TAG DAY

Last Saturday will long be remembered by the young ladies of Newton, from ten years of age upwards, as the day when they "tagged" everybody in sight for the benefit of the tuberculosis work of the Newton Federation of Women's clubs. That the project was well carried out, about every person who was out and about in the city that day can testify. The earliest person out was met by these young girls and women, daintily gowned in white dresses and caps, red crosses on the arm and head, little boxes bearing the magic of the red cross and hands full of little cards, neatly strung, also bearing the red cross. Every one was asked to contribute to the fund by placing a coin of at least five cents in the box and received a tag as a receipt. While the possession of a tag was supposed to be a protection against further "touches," well known and generous persons were "held up"
by every young lady with whom they were acquainted. Young ladies with white flags bearing the cross were stationed at the principal streets and held up teams and automobiles with mercenary intent. Horses, dogs, teams and autos were all tagged as well as persons and $3,621.29 was raised for the work the ladies have in mind.

The general plans of the work were laid out by Mrs. B. E. Taylor, president of the Newton Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. William H. Coolidge, one of the trustees of the hospital, and Mrs. Ellery Peabody, president of the Newton District Nursing Association. Assisting them were:

Mrs. H. P. Converse of the District
Nurses' Association; Mrs. Henry G.
Hildreth, president of the Abundant Review Club; Mrs. A. M. Crain, Waban; Mrs. H. A. Miller, president of the Newton Highlands Monday Club;
Mrs. H. H. Kendall, Newton Centre;
Mrs. James A. Rothfeld of the District Nursing Association; Mrs. Bernard Early, Newton Upper Falls; Mrs.
E. C. Cooper, West Newton.

N. H. S. NOTES

On Saturday, Newton high played beh second game of the season with the fast Everett team, winning by the score of 10-5. Newton showed a vast improvement over her first game, due to the hard work of Coach Hennege, Capt. Van Tassel, and Manager Converse. They played hard and fast and had the game well in hand from the beginning. The game for a time was close, Newton leading by 6-5, but toward the end, Capt. Van Tassel kicked a goal from placement from the 30-yard line, making the score
10-5. The playing of O'Neil, Dunne and Barrows punting for Newton and that of Buckley for Everett were the bright features of the game.

Newton played Dedham on Tuesday and defeated them without much trouble by the score of 22-0. After Newton had scored 17 points in the first half, Coach Hennege put in a large number of substitutes and of these Loomis showed up the best. The features of the game were two 60-yard runs for touchdowns by O'Neil and Gallagher and Donahue's all-round playing.

Allen Hall & Co. of 384 Boylston street, Boston, furnished most of the rugs and furniture used in the beautiful $500,000 residence of Mr. Percy Hockefeller at Greenwich, Conn. These rugs and furniture were made in Europe from special designs of this well-known Boston concern.

40 YEARS OLD

Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., To Celebrate

Just about two score years ago twelve young men of Newton, who served their country loyally and faithfully as Union officers and soldiers in the terrible war that has closed
only a short while before, assembled in the rooms of one of their number,
in the old Nonantum Hotel, and then there established a society which is not only still in existence, but is one of the best-known organizations in the Garden City of Massachusetts.
It was on the 21st of July, 1868, that Charles Ward Post No. 62, Grand Army of the Republic, was thus instituted, with William B. Fowle, A.
B. Underwood, Thomas P. Haviland,
J. Cushing Edmonds, Allston W. Whitney, Fred S. Benson, George S. Boyd, Hosea Hyde, Isaac F. Kingsbury and Albert Plummer as its charter members. Today no more than three of these—Hyde, Kingsbury and Plummer
—are in the post; the others have been mustered out by death, or, absent on detached leave, are no longer here.

During these four decades, and particularly so for the past quarter of a century, this Grand Army post has been widely distinguished among regularly constituted organizations, especially secret associations, for its charitable deeds, as well as for the good example that it has ever given to our people, both young and old.
It would not be going too far to say that our local body of Veterans—they are indeed such, soldiers and sailors of 45, 46 and 47 years ago—is, if not in actual membership, certainly in all that makes for morality and good citizenship, one of the best, one of the most famous among the thousands of Grand Army posts now scattered throughout the United States, in the South as well as in the North,
"God's land," as the men at the front used to say. The city of Newton is rightfully proud of Charles Ward Post and always will be; for not only by valor in war, but by courage in peace, its members have fairly won that honor.

It is therefore with sincere pleasure
that we announce the coming celebration of the Post's Fortieth Anniversary. The affair, which is to take place on Thursday evening, the 15th inst., is to be simply a Home function, so to speak; but it is safe to predict that it will also be a rousing reunion of those who showed their bravery before the enemy, their endurance of sufferings, their many deprivations, their patience under necessary discipline and their unbounded
love of country, on land and sea, during the four long years when rebellious efforts at disunion so severely tried the souls of all loyal Americans.
At 7 o'clock the Grand Army men with their families and friends will sit down to a supper provided for them in Masonic Temple, Newton-ville, by the local tent of Daughters of Veterans, and this "feed," on things
somewhat different from ye old army rations, is to be followed by several hours of hearty enjoyment. There are to be but few speeches and each of these very short; but there will be songs, stories and music galore.
The program of supper and proceedings to follow has been arranged
by Post Commander Richard E. Ashenden and the other officers of the post. We are asked to say that all Comrades are expected to wear their uniforms, without belts, and that all Union Veterans of the War of Rebellion not yet members of the Grand Army of the Republic will be given a hearty welcome.

BURBANK—SWAN

Miss Nellie Whitten Swan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Draper Swan of Newton, became the bride last Wednesday evening of Mr.
Winfred Chapin Burbank of Allston.
The ceremony took place at eight o'clock in Grace Episcopal church,
amid palms, bay trees and cut flowers, and was performed by Rev. Laurence MacLure, rector of the church.

The bride was gowned in ivory satin directoire gown, trimmed with duchess lace and embroidery. She wore a lace veil, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Judy C. Swan, of Jamaica Plain, cousin of the bride, wore light blue satin and carried Killarney roses. Mr. Robert S. Jones of Columbus, O., was the best man, and the guests were seated
by Messrs. Edward L. Shinn of Medford Hillside, Herbert Neal Cheney of Dorchester, William Levis of All-ston and William D. Swan, Jr., of Newton, brother of the bride.

A reception followed at the home of the bride on Hunnewell avenue, Mr.
and Mrs. Burbank being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs.
William Draper Swan, Mrs. Emily J.
Burbank, mother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Burbank of Sharon, a brother and sister of the groom. The house was adorned with southern smilax and roses and Handley furnished the music.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs.
Burbank will reside at Allston, where they will be at home after January 10, 1909.

BOSWORTH—WOODIN

Mr. Edwin Avonil Bosworth, the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Bosworth, of Cross street, West Newton, was married last Tuesday afternoon to Miss Margaret Elizabeth Woodin of Waltham. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride on Cherry street, and Rev. J. T. Stocking, pastor of the Central Congregational church of Newtonville, officiated. The bride was dressed in white Swiss muslin, en train, with trimmings of val-ences insertion and lace. Her veil was caught with lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Grace Britton of Hollis, N. H., was the maid of honor, and wore pink muslin with lace, and carried pink carnations. The groom was attended by Mr. Joseph Munn of Melrose, as best man. The bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played by the sister of the groom, Miss Sadie C. Bosworth, and the bride was given away

by her father, Mr. George Woodin. A reception followed until four o'clock, after which the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to New York. Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth will reside on Eddy street, West Newton, where they will be at home after December 1st.

BARR—BARRY

At the Church of the Sacred Heart, Newton Centre, last Wednesday morning, Miss Mary J. Barr, daughter of Mr. David Barr, formerly of Cambridge, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Phillip Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Patrick Barry of Centre street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev.
Daniel Riordan, after which they proceeded to the bride's home at 24
Knowles street, where a wedding breakfast was served. The couple started immediately on their honeymoon on a brief tour to New York.
The bride is well known in Cambridge, notably as a talented soprano, formerly a singer in the Church of St. Paul.
Mr. Barry is a government postal clerk at Newton Highlands, and is a very popular young man. Mr. and Mrs. Barry were the recipients of many useful and beautiful gifts. After their return they will reside at 24 Knowles street. At home after December first.

MELCHER—FOSTER

A very fashionable wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. John L. Foster on Lake avenue, Newton Centre, when their daughter, Miss Margaret Harlow Foster, a Smith graduate of '05 was united in marriage to Mr. Metcalf Winthrop Melcher of that village. The ceremony was performed by the Rev.
John Snyder of Wellesley Hills, at 7
p. m. Miss Ruth E. Gallagher of Milton, a classmate, was maid of honor,
and Mr. Frederick G. Melcher, a counselor of the bridegroom, was best man.
The ushers were the Messrs. John G.
Andrews of Newton, John H. Foster
of Boston, Frederick G. Melcher, Arthur W. Rayner of Newton Centre and Allen R. Thatcher of Middleboro. The ceremony was followed by a reception at 7.30. Many members of prominent social circles were present.

MR. CHURCH A WINNER

A Newton young man, Mr. Harold D. Church, was the driver of one of the three automobiles which survived the gruelling endurance contest of last week, under the auspices of the Bay
State Automobile Association.

The endurance run was intended to be a test of cars under touring conditions much harder than the average owner encounters, and the committee which made up the rules, all experienced automobile men and two of them, members of the trade, expected that the original journey of 359 miles would eliminate most of the cars and settle the contest. The route selected was a hard one, including mountain grades, deep sand, and rough and tortuous ways and the cars were required to make an average speed of more than 16.5 miles an hour. Except at the noon control the motors
could not be stopped and no adjustments, repairs or replacements could be made without penalty, even tire repairs having to be made with the motor running. Furthermore, the cars had to arrive and depart according to a prearranged schedule at five places.
Filling with water and gasoline and oiling, when it did not involve stopping the motor, were permitted. In the run-off the same conditions held good with variations in the average time and in controls.

These conditions made fast time necessary wherever a decent road was found, as much time was necessarily lost on the bad roads in the mountains. It was expected that the first run of 359 miles would settle the contest, but nine made the trip with perfect scores. Additional runs were then made on successive days until but three cars, including that driven by Mr. Church, survived and the last run failed to eliminate any of them.
Under these circumstances, the run was called off, and the cars withdrawn. Mr. Church says that this was practically necessary, as the brakes were so worn with constant use as to make it dangerous to run them over any considerable grade.
While the run was a distinct test of the strength and reliability of the automobile, it is also a tribute to the care and skill of the men who proved
they can make a run of 1607 miles without a mishap of any nature whatsoever.

PHOTOGRAPHIC COMPETITION

Entries for the competitive photographic exhibition of the Boston Camera Club must be made before the 15th inst. This exhibition is open to all amateur photographers in New England, as announced in July. There is but one class, "Out-of-door photography," and as there are a number of valuable prizes, it is to be hoped that there will be a large number of entries to this exhibition. All entries must be addressed to the exhibition committee of the Boston Camera Club, 50 Bromfield street, Boston.

A number of the prospective purchasers planned to dismantle the building and one wished to remodel it for business purposes.

In aiming to follow the good advice to seek the society of cheerful people, we do well to remember that the cheerful people will not care to have us around unless we chirp up a bit ourselves.

The man who talks to himself continuously never has a very intelligent audience.

DRAPER AND FROTHINGHAM

HON. EBEN S. DRAPER
OF HOPEDALE
Republican Candidate for Governor

HON. LOUIS A. FROTHINGHAM
OF BOSTON
Republican Candidate for Lieutenant Governor

In presenting to the people of Massachusetts the Hon. Eben S. Draper of Hopedale as its candidate for governor, the Republican party honors itself as much as it honors the man.

Mr. Draper has served three years as lieutenant governor of the state, receiving the support of the solid men of both parties, notwithstanding the campaigns of misrepresentation and abuse which he has had to face.

There is no questioning the fact that he has grown steadily in the confidence and respect of the people, and that his high character and ability are beginning to be appreciated all over the state.

Even as lieutenant governor, Mr. Draper has achieved success in a far larger degree than most men who have held the office. It is not a position in which an energetic man has a large field, as most of the real work is done behind closed doors in the sessions of the executive council, and at the meetings of its various committees.

But Lieutenant Governor Draper made up his mind in the beginning that there was work to do, and he did it with the same persistence that has characterized his whole business life.

He has been a constant visitor at the state house since he was first chosen to the office and has given careful attention to all the matters which come before the council. To his sessions he has brought a frank opinion, and has been outspoken in all of its deliberations, helping to make the governor's councils for the past three years of real and vital importance to the state.

During his present term Mr. Draper has been called upon to act as governor during the illness of Governor Guild and, although his acts as governor under such circumstances were more or less circumscribed, he held the reins of state in a firm grasp and showed a wide knowledge of men and affairs.

His prompt action in starting the relief to the city of Chelsea, after its great conflagration, is characteristic of the man.

Mr. Draper was born in Hopedale, Mass., June 17, 1858, and is therefore in the prime of life. He was educated in the Allen school at West Newton and at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He then entered the machine shops and cotton mills of his father's business, and was later admitted to the firm of George Draper & Sons. In 1896, when the firm was reorganized into the Draper company, he became its selling agent. He is also a member of the corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, of the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, the Milford hospital and a director in many business enterprises.

In political matters Mr. Draper was well known prior to his first selection as lieutenant governor in the fall of 1905. He served as chairman of the Republican state committee in 1892, and in 1896 was chairman of the Massachusetts delegation to the Republican national convention and, as such, was instrumental in securing the passage of the gold standard resolution. In 1900 he was the presidential elector in the Eleventh district. He has also served as president of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, and is a member of the Norfolk, Middlesex and Massachusetts clubs.

Moreover, Lieutenant Governor Draper is a cultivated gentleman, a lover of literature and a patron of art. He has a deep interest in the village of Hopedale, acknowledged to be the best kept and architecturally the most beautiful manufacturing town in New England. He has traveled extensively, is polished in manner and a most genial companion, known far and wide as an example of the best type of a New England business man.

With such a man as its candidate for the high office of governor, the Republican party confidently appeals to the voters of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, in the full assurance that such an intelligent electorate will not allow this opportunity to pass of securing for the state such an able business man as Mr. Draper has proved himself to be.

And the times demand a strong executive at the head of our state government. The legislative tendency is towards increasing the expense as well as enlarging the functions of government by the state, and Mr. Draper, through his work in the executive council and through his wide acquaintance throughout the state, is simply and especially well fitted to continue the work.

After a hard, though entirely friendly contest for the honor, the Republican party has selected as its candidate for lieutenant governor the Hon. Louis A. Frothingham of Boston, a man universally conceded to be in every respect a fit running mate for the head of the ticket.

He was born in Jamaica Plain, July 13, 1871, of old New England stock long noted for its sturdy honesty and good citizenship. As a boy he received his education in the public schools of Boston, supplementing this by fitting for college at the Adams academy in Quincy.

He entered Harvard in 1889 and almost immediately became a popular figure in the university. He was a scholar in all the best sense of the word, but he was more than that; he took part in all the social activities in the college and he soon won a prominent place in athletics, being one of the best captains and baseball players ever turned out at Cambridge.

Mr. Frothingham studied law at the Harvard law school, graduating from that institution in 1896, and immediately began the practice of his profession.

In the Spanish-American war he served as second lieutenant, U. S. M. C., having command of the marine guard on the U. S. steamer Yankee in Cuban waters, and his record in that position was quite typical of the man, for he was a good officer and at the same time a popular comrade.

It was not long before the attraction of politics began to appeal to the young lawyer, and at the age of 30 he was elected to the Massachusetts legislature. There, as elsewhere, his native ability and energy soon made him a marked figure. He began to be considered a man of influence. He got good committee appointments. In 1902, his second year, he was made house chairman of the committee on taxation as well as a member of the committee on banks and banking.

In 1903 he served as chairman of the street railways committee, and at that time was so prominent that he was considered for the speakership of the house and in 1904 he was elected to that high office, being re-elected unanimously in 1905. No speaker was more popular or highly respected. Mr. Frothingham displayed an immense amount of energy in the chair and under his administration business was expedited as it had not been for decades before. In his second term as speaker the session comprised but 143 days, the shortest session for twenty-five years.

Mr. Frothingham's record as a lawmaker was admirable. He was always to be found on the side of good order and the best interests of every citizen of the commonwealth. He was the introducer of the resolve which led to the revision of the corporation laws, a very much needed and useful reform. He was the first to introduce a bill providing for laws governing the conduct of trust companies. He was always and is today a constant advocate of general instead of special or class legislation.

In the fall of 1905 he abandoned further service in the legislature at the call of duty, and accepted the Republican nomination for mayor of Boston. The story of that campaign is well known to all, and his defeat for that office added new lustre to his character and proved him to be a man who put public duty in a higher place than personal ambition.

As a citizen apart from the practice of politics Mr. Frothingham stands high in many walks of life. He is a member of the board of overseers of Harvard university, being the youngest man in that body. He is president of the Blackstone Savings bank and has various other interests, yet amidst all his wide variety of duties he practices law with conspicuous success. He is tolerant, broad-minded and considerate of the views and feelings of others. He is a typical Massachusetts citizen of the best and most highly respected kind and those who know him well are firm in their belief that he will adorn any office to which he may be called.

His acquaintance with the needs of the state, through his long service as a member and as speaker of the house of representatives, and his public spirit in sacrificing himself as a Republican candidate for mayor of Boston, three years ago, are ample evidence that in its combination of Mr. Frothingham for lieutenant governor the Republican party still maintains its proud record of excellence and continues its high standards of the past.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO

Sometimes when sickness is in the family and a physician has been called in and a prescription written, you have noticed the name of some particular
drug printed on the paper on which the doctor writes the prescription.

This does not mean that you are compelled to take your prescription to the
druggist whose name appears on the paper.

It is recognized the world over that a
patient has the privilege of taking the prescription to any drug store that he
prefers.

The prescription department in our
store is always watched over by a registered pharmacist; a doctor's prescriptions are always filled exactly according to the way he intended they should be filled.

GOLD WALTHAM WATCH FOR FIRST PRIZE

P. P. Adams of Waltham to Hold a Boys' Runaway Race

Interest among the Boy Road runners of Waltham and vicinity is at fever heat over the announcement that P. P. Adams of the P. P. Adams Big Dry Goods Department Store is offering some handsome prizes for a cross country road race, to be held at Waltham, Saturday, Oct. 31. The prizes, six in number, are as follows:
Gold Waltham watch, 15 jewel in a 20-year case. Second, solid leather dress suit case. Third, pair of Regal shoes. Fourth, coat sweater. Fifth, silk umbrella. Sixth, gold signet ring.
In addition, the clerk in the P. P.
Adams store will give a silver cup for a special time prize, and Mr. Adams will present a souvenir to every boy who finishes the race.

No sporting held in Waltham in recent years has attracted such widespread notice or such favorable comment, and the success is fully assured.
The contest is open to all boy runners in Waltham, all the Newtons, Wellesley, Weston, Lincoln, Watertown, Lexington, Belmont, Waverly,
and the entry list closes Wednesday, Oct. 28, at 8 P. M. Entries must be filed by that time with Mr. Frank J.
Henderson, head sporting editor of the Waltham Free Press Tribune. Blanks
may be had from him or from J. Arthur Burke of the Waltham News or Thomas J. Riley at the P. P. Adams store. Further information will be gladly given by any of the above-named gentlemen. The races are patronized enthusiastically by Mr. P. P. Adams, who is an enthralling advocate of clean sport and all who enter may be assured of a square deal. Remember the date, Saturday, Oct. 31st.

AUBURNDALE VILLAGE IMPROVE- MENT SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Auburn-dale Village Improvement Society was held on Thursday evening, Oct. 1st, in Society hall. A goodly number of citizens with their ladies were present. Reports of various committees were presented and discussed. Among the most important was that in relation to Nye Park land near the Station. The land is now the property of the city and when negotiations now pending with the railroad for a small quantity of additional land are completed, the work of laying out the park will commence.

Mr. E. A. Richardson, landscape gardener of the New York Central railroad, gave a short talk upon the moth question, telling what the railroad was doing in that direction, emphasizing the importance of co-operation on the part of the city and citizens in this work.

Alderman Frank T. Miller explained the proposed plan of establishing a city Forestry Commission, and it was the sense of the meeting that this was a much needed work.

The following officers were elected for the year ensuing: President, Geo.
M. Fiske; vice-president, Wm. Fuller;
Treasurer, Henry G. Hildreth; Secretary, C. B. Conn. Executive Committee: C. G. Haskell, C. W. Blood, F. T.
Miller, P. A. McVicar, E. D. Squires.
A series of winter entertainments
has been arranged for the coming season, including The Boston Musical Five, The Institute of Technology
Glee Club, two illustrated lectures, a Town Meeting, conducted by the ladies of Auburndale, closing with a special entertainment of Home Talent Dramatics.

The Auburndale Village Improvement Society is a good illustration of what can be accomplished by an organization of this kind.

Including the money raised here for the Nye Park, so called until an official name is bestowed upon it, the citizens of Auburndale have raised and contributed money and property
not less than Sixteen Thousand Dollars ($16,000) not including the gift of the Wolcott-Burr Park on the part of Miss Lucy W. Burr. Most of this has been given in connection with an appropriation on the part of the city, and including those appropriations the sum of not less than Twenty-Eight Thousand Dollars ($28,000) has been spent in Auburndale for improvements, mostly in the direction of parks.

The membership fee in the society
is $1.00 per year for men and 50 cents for women, and applications for membership are received by any of the officers of the society.

MR. EMERY BURIED

Although the family had requested that no floral offerings be sent, a large number of friends and many organizations with which he had been prominently identified, sent magnificent tributes to the funeral of Daniel S. Emery, which took place at his late home, on Waverley avenue, Newton, at 2.30 Sunday afternoon.

The service was a simple one, conducted by Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, pastor of Channing church, who spoke highly of the sterling character of Mr. Emery. There was no music and there were no pallbearers. Burial was in Forest Hills cemetery.

LOWELL-REDDEN

Last week, Friday evening, at the residence of Mrs. George F. Lowell,
the marriage took place of her son,
Mr. Charles Percival Lowell, and Miss Bertha Haven Redden, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Redden of Somerville. The date was the first anniversary of the wedding of the groom's sister, Lotta, to Mr. Joseph W. Crowell of Newtonville, and the second anniversary of the wedding of the groom's sister, Ethel, to Mr. Arthur S. Trowbridge of South Framingham.

The ceremony was performed in the music room at 8.30 o'clock by Rev.
Jay T. Stocking, pastor of the Central Congregational church of Newtonville.
The bride was gown in white satin trimmed with princess lace and was accompanied by Mrs. Byron Staples of Portsmouth, N. H., as matron of honor, wearing a costume of white chiffon broadcloth and satin. The best man was Mr. Walter H. Berry of Ashmont and the ushers were Messrs.
Charles P. Lowell of Newtonville, Joseph W. Crowell of Newtonville and Arthur S. Trowbridge of South Framingham, brothers-in-law of the groom.
The Lowell mansion was beautifully decorated with palms, cut flowers and asparagus vine, and the orchestra was concealed behind a screen of palms.

A reception followed until ten o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell being assisted in receiving their friends by Mrs. George F. Lowell and Mr. and Mrs. Redden, after which the young couple left on a wedding trip to Virginia.

NEWTON CHORAL UNION

The Newton Choral Union will assemble for the first rehearsal on Tuesday evening, October 13th, in the hall of the Claffin school, Newtonville. As the membership must necessarily be limited, applications must be sent in at once, accompanied with the annual dues of one dollar. Rehearsals will occur on the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays of each month until May, when the annual concert for Newton charity will be given. At each rehearsal two or more soloists will favor us with a selection.

MRS. MARGARET LANE

The death of Mrs. Margaret Lane, widow of the late Cornelius Lane, occurred last Monday morning at her home on Walnut street, Newton Highlands. Mrs. Lane was eighty years old and had been in feeble health for some time. She has been a resident of this village for nearly fifty years.
The deceased is survived by two sons,
John and Cornelius, Jr., both of this section. The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the Church of the Sacred Heart. The interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

ESTABLISHED 1854

In selecting furs about which your personal knowledge is necessarily limited it is always safest to purchase from a responsible dealer who has a reputation earned by years of testing to maintain, and who does not desire and cannot afford to treat you unfairly.

For nearly fifty years we have been established in Boston as manufacturers of High Grade Furs, collecting the skins from all over the world and making them into every conceivable kind of fur attire.

This long experience in satisfying the needs of the most discriminating persons, has taught us how to give the largest possible value for every dollar expended with us.

All of our garments are fashioned after the latest Paris and London styles and are guaranteed in every respect to give perfect satisfaction, and to be superior to other fur garments when price, quality and workmanship are considered.

This is why shrewd fur buyers prefer to deal with a long established house whose entire business is centered in one location and whose workrooms are always open to inspection.

All we ask is for you to call and then decide where to purchase.

NARROW ESCAPE

How two young men escaped being fatally injured when they were thrown from an automobile that struck an embankment, turned completely about and landed upside down in this city shortly before noon Sunday, was a mystery to persons who saw the accident as well as to the occupants of the wrecked touring car.

The machine was owned by Edward P. Hurd of 508 Walnut street Newtonville, assistant treasurer of the United Shoe Machinery Company. It was occupied by his son, William Hurd, who was driving, and James J. Harris, a chauffeur.

Proceeding through Washington street near Beacon, a short distance from the Newton hospital, where there is a grade, the machine began to skid as the wheels struck a section of the roadway which had been freshly sprinkled. Suddenly the shoe of one of the tires ripped off and the heavy machine shot across the electric car tracks. It turned completely about and then struck an embankment, toppling over so that the wheels were in the air.

Hurd, although seated behind the steering wheel, was thrown out when the machine swung about. Harris, the chauffeur, was thrown out when the touring car started to capsize. They both escaped with a severe shaking up and minor cuts and bruises. When they picked themselves up they were as greatly surprised as were persons who saw the peculiar accident, to find that no bones had been broken. The touring car was badly wrecked.

OUTING OF ALDERMEN

The annual outing of the mayor and board of aldermen was held last Saturday and the party of thirty filled ten automobiles. The start was from City Hall at nine o'clock and many places of interest were visited, including the new Stearns school house, the work on Laundry brook culverts, the U. S. surfacing on Cabot street, the New Technical High School, the Newton Centre Engine House, many places invested with the gypsy moths and the experiments in dust layers all over the city. Luncheon was served at the Brae-Burn Country Club and the afternoon devoted to the Lower Falls, Auburndale, West Newton and Newton districts, the party breaking up at five o'clock, after a most enjoyable and instructive day.

Lower Falls.

At the Lower Falls Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday, Rev. J. E. Charlton of the Newton Highlands M. E. church will preach in the morning at 10.45 and Rev. Walter Healy of Upper Falls M. E. church in the evening at 7 o'clock.

Auburndale.

Miss Eliza J. Cushing died Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. George R. Eager on Seminary avenue. Funeral services were held from the house this morning and the remains were taken to Hingham for burial.

The annual meeting of the Gordon Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the Congregational chapel on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The devotional exercise will be followed by reports, election of officers, reception to new members, and a paper upon Medical Temperance. A full attendance is invited.

Miss Nellie Jameson Feagles of Toledo, Ohio, and Mr. Walter Roby Kattelle of this place were married in Toledo, Thursday, October 1st, by Rev. George Durgan. The wedding, which was arranged for Thursday, October 8th, was changed to the earlier date on account of the sudden death of the bride's mother and was of the simplest character.

The Art of Home Furnishing

EVERYBODY SHOULD know that it is not the AMOUNT OF MONEY they spend which makes a home cosy and artistic, but it is the WAY in which they spend it.

Our large experience in beautifying and furnishing homes from the most sumptuous residences to the modest cottage or bungalow has proven to us that the LARGEST SUCCESS lies in supplying NOVEL, EXCLUSIVE effects.

To that end we have abandoned carrying much of our general line of merchandise and are (by special study and the using of our patented processes) making and producing some of the finest decorative effects and furnishings EVER SHOWN from European looms and our own individual shops, many of which even at less cost than those of the ordinary sort.

We look forward with eager pleasure to SHOW intending buyers these original things.

HENRY F. MILLER

PLAYER-PIANO

Combines in one instrument the features that have made all Henry F. Miller pianos famous for nearly half a century together with a pneumatic self-playing action that enables any one to perform the finest piano compositions at once without previous practice and without fatigue.

It stands SUPREME among player-pianos. Its effects are MUSICAL—not mechanical.

It IMPROVES rather than deteriorates with usage. It is a STANDARD by which to judge the relative merits of player-pianos.

TO OUR OLD PATRONS

The demand upon us for slightly used Henry F. Miller pianos is at all times so great we are enabled thereby to offer our old patrons very liberal allowances for their pianos in exchange for new HENRY F. MILLER PLAYER-PIANOS.

The Buildings, Plumbing and Sealer Departments

The value of the public buildings of this city reaches well over two millions of dollars, and that amount of money has been expended in the past thirteen years, since the office of Building Inspector was established in 1895. The greater part of this sum is invested as we all know, in our fine school buildings, but substantial amounts are also included in the highway and fire department buildings. It costs about $25,000 each year to maintain this department, of which about $4,000 is for carpenter work, $5,000 for painting, $1,000 for plumbing, $2,300 for heating, $1,200 for the heating and lighting plant for City Hall, and the police buildings, and $1,000 for care of the armory.

The Commissioner oversees all repairs on the city buildings, making contracts for all work amounting to $500 or more, purchases about 3,000 tons of coal each spring for the city departments, and has charge, through the inspector of plumbing, of all plumbing work in the city. He also issues permits for all kinds of building construction, of which 195 were made in 1907.

The inspector of plumbing tests all plumbing work before its use is authorized. In new buildings this covers a water test of the soil pipe above the highest fixture in the house and a careful supervision of all new plumbing work in old houses. 387 permits for plumbing work were issued in 1907 and the Commissioner and the plumbing inspector are both provided with teams to do their work about the city.

One of the smallest departments of the city, and yet one which has important duties to perform, is the office of sealer of weights and measures. It is the duty of the sealer to test

all scales, weights and measures used for the public, at least once a year. The testing is done by comparison with the standard established by the state, a set of which is loaned to the city, and of which the city itself owns a duplicate. When the scales are tested and found correct, the sealer places a large green sticker in a conspicuous place and dealers cannot use scales not sealed. A steel die is used to stamp tin and wooden measures. Tin measures lose by denting, and wooden measures are apt to have their tops broken off, so that frequent supervision is necessary. The penalty for using illegal weights and measures is $50 for each offence, one-half of which goes to the complainant, so that it is rare that the public are cheated in this manner in Newton. Where the sealer visits the store or house for testing purposes a small fee of fifty cents for each platform and counter scale and three cents for each spring scale is charged. Over $225 were received last year in these small fees.

By far the hardest part of the work of the sealer is in testing bottles used by the large milk farms in Newton for peddling milk. Each of these bottles is personally tested as to its capacity by the sealer and if correct, the word "Newton," followed by a numeral to designate the year, is burned into the glass with acid. 36,135 of these bottles were thus tested last year and found correct, while 1,560 were condemned. All work done at the office of the sealer in his line of business is without charge.

The sealer has had some difficulty under the recent new law regarding the computing scale, but it is now the custom to cover up the computing part of the scale and use it simply for weighing.

MILMORE—MURPHY

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Lillian Murphy, the daughter of Mr. John Murphy, of Glen street, Watertown, to Mr. John Francis Milmore, a popular policeman of that town, took place at St. Patrick's church, Watertown, on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. Father Crayton officiating.

The bride, a most attractive young woman, was charming in white crepe de chine trimmed with princess lace, empire style. She also wore a large hat of princess lace with large plume, and carried lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Annie Murphy, a sister of the bride, was dressed in white silk muslin over white silk. She wore a large black hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. John Doherty of Boston, a cousin of the groom, was the best man.

After a wedding trip to Albany, N. Y., and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Milmore will reside at Eliot street, Watertown.

The bride is well known in Newton, where she has been the efficient telegraph operator at the Newton station.

ALLEN, HALL & CO.

For some years the above firm has been doing business in Boston, and are now recognized as among the most reliable business houses in the city. They make "the art of home furnishing" a specialty; they know just how that line of work should be done, and can show and furnish their homes in the most artistic, yet not necessarily the most expensive manner. They are always glad to show their goods, of which they have a unique variety. Their place of business is in the Allen-Hall Building, 354-356 Boylston street, Boston.

N. H. S. NOTES

On Tuesday the football team played Roxbury Latin, and received their first defeat of the season, 6-0, Roxbury having outwitted Newton considerably, and had a much better knowledge of the game. The ball was in Roxbury's possession most of the time, and it was only the fine defensive work of Newton that kept the score down. Hill and Swan played well for Roxbury, and Barrows and Dunne for Newton.

Last Week, Thursday, the Class of '09 of Newton High School held its annual meeting to elect officers for the school year. The meeting was called to order by President Henry Wellington. He read a letter from Mrs. Parks, thanking the class for the flowers which were sent to the funeral of her son Samuel Parks. The new officers are: Frank Converse of Park street, Newton, president; Miss Virginia Tapley of Olla street, Newtonville, vice-president; "Ted" Davis of Newton, treasurer; and Miss Ruth King of Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, secretary.

Curtis Delano, '08, N. H. S., has become a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity at Cornell.

Raymond Hunting, '08, N. H. S., has become a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon at Amherst college.

FOOTBALL

St. Alphonsus A. A. of Roxbury defeated Lincoln A. A. of this city, 5 to 0, in a contest devoid of trick plays. Cabot park diamond, Saturday afternoon. In the first period J. Delaney, playing left end for the Lincolns, was knocked out. He was hustled into a carriage and while being driven to a doctor's office he revived and insisted upon getting into the game again. McCarty made a touchdown in the second period.

MURRAY—CLARK

Mr. Joseph J. Murray, a well-known young business man of Newton, was married Wednesday morning at seven o'clock at the Church of Our Lady, to Miss Winnifred Alice Clark, the daughter of Mr. George N. Clark of Newton. Rev. Fr. Malone officiated. Miss Grace H. Clark of Cambridge was the bridesmaid, and Dr. John Fennessey of Dorchester was the best man.

The bride wore an imported empire gown of Irish silk poplin "ashes of rose" shade, with Limerick lace trimmings and hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the Murray residence, 184 Washington street, Hunnewell hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray will reside at 22 Park street, Newton, where they will be at home after November 15th.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Rev. John A. Hamilton, D.D., and Mrs. Hamilton of 84 Raymond street, Cambridge, will receive, Tuesday, Oct. 20, the congratulations of friends on occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. The first week in November following will bring also the rounded fiftieth year since Dr. Hamilton's entrance upon the work of the ministry. Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton will be informally "at home" Oct. 20 from three to five p. m. and from seven to ten; and will be pleased to welcome any who would recognize the day by calling. Dr. Hamilton's long service as secretary of the Education Society is not forgotten, and he is still a familiar and welcome figure in local congregational circles.

Dr. Hamilton was a former well-known resident of Newton, with a home on Walnut park. He served as a member of our board of aldermen and on the school committee, and has many friends in this city.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. FOSTER

A simple and devout life among the colored folks of Nonantum has just come to an end. Sylvia Perry Foster of Adams street was the mother of thirteen children, seven of whom are living. She was born in North Carolina, 66 years ago, and so her early years were passed in slavery. Coming to the North and to our own city in '86, she fought her way upward, single handed, sending forth her children to usefulness, while she maintained a home of her own in great dignity and sweetness of spirit.

Her thin figure and long silvery hands, together with her white hair that surrounded her head like a halo, tells its own story of fortitude, patient suffering, and spiritual triumph. On the last Sunday before she passed to the eternal home, she received the bread and wine at the hands of the pastor of the North church, and was baptized into the new life and membership of the Christian faith. The kind friends who dropped in at her bedside will not forget her memory. She was interred with her son Pompey in Cedar Grove cemetery, Dorchester. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, their works follow with them.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Louis D. Gibbs, a former Washington correspondent and member of the Literary bureau of the Republican National headquarters during the 1904 campaign will give a talk next Wednesday evening, October 21, at 8 o'clock on "The Wheels of a Presidential Campaign." Mr. Gibbs is particularly well qualified to speak on this subject and will be well worth hearing.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Mayor Hutchinson sent in the name of Mr. Charles I. Buckman of Somerville, last Monday evening, at the meeting of the board of Aldermen, for the new office of Forest Commissioner, and also fixed his salary at the rate of $1,700 per year. The appointment was confirmed and the board also appropriated $5,000 for the use of the new department.

President Weston was in the chair and Aldermen Avery, Bacon, Bosson, Burr, Cabot, Clarke, Day, Doherty, Gray, Holmes, Miller, Stone, Underwood, Webster and White were also present.

No one appeared at a hearing on application of C. A. Forson to keep gasolene on Winchester street, ward 5. The resignation of Mr. Geo. Royal Pulsifer as a member of the board of health was received and the appointment of Mr. Edwin O. Childs, Jr., to fill the vacancy was unanimously confirmed.

The recommendation of the mayor that legislation be obtained to authorize the city to pay the widow of the late City Engineer the salary which he would have received till the end of the year was adopted and the mayor authorized to make the formal petition.

The mayor sent in the following communication, relative to the centennial anniversary of the birth of the late Rev. Samuel F. Smith, D.D.: To the Board of Aldermen.

Gentlemen: Rev. Samuel Francis Smith, D.D., was born in Boston, Oct. 21, 1808, and the one hundredth anniversary of this most important event will therefore occur on Wednesday, the 21st, of the present month. Though not a citizen of Newton at the time he wrote the Hymn, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," which brought him imperishable renown, yet his name has been linked with our town and city as a resident from the year 1842 to the time of his death, Nov. 16, 1895.

It is fitting that the approaching anniversary should be recognized, and a tribute to his name and great public service be placed on record. This inspiration to the love of Country coming from his pen in time of peace and civil strife, sounding from lips of patriots in public places, in churches and by hearthstones and cheered the soldiers of the Union in the struggle for supremacy.

We take honorable pride in his citizenship and I suggest that mention of him be made in such manner as may be deemed best in the several churches of the city on Sunday the 18th inst. and recommend such further action as may seem to you proper.

Respectfully,
GEORGE HUTCHINSON, Mayor.

On motion of Alderman Stone these resolutions were adopted:

RESOLVED, That this Board has received, with pleasure, the communication of His Honor the Mayor, relative to the recognition of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the late Rev. Samuel Francis Smith, D.D.

RESOLVED, That we recall in the life of this notable person his lovable character, his ministry of religion, his scholarly attainments, his labor in preparing a most valuable and interesting history of Newton, and above all, his enduring faith gained in the lines of his celebrated hymn, recited and sung as household words throughout our land.

RESOLVED, That we heartily commend the public school instruction which early in student life makes familiar his inspiring words.

RESOLVED, That in further recognition of the day, we request His Honor the Mayor to cause the National Flag to be displayed on all public buildings from sunrise to sunset.

Hearings were ordered for Oct. 20 on petitions of the Telephone Co., for relocation of a pole on Linwood avenue and for attachments on Erie avenue and Chestnut street.

Petitions were received from the Moody Land Co. for permit to bridge Laundry brook at Wiltshire road, from Michael Cunningham and D. C. Owings, Jr., for licenses to sell newspapers, W. E. Wiswall for repairs on Wiswall road, White, et al, for sewer in Rockledge and Woodcliff roads, and from S. Aronson for damages of $13.33 on account of blocking sidewalk on Harvard street.

A petition of Joseph P. Finnagan for permit to construct foot-bridge over abutment of Laundry brook at Jackson road was granted.

On reports of committees the Telephone Co. was granted pole locations on St. James street, Moreland avenue, Ward street, Grant avenue, Mill street, attachments on Bourne street, Beacon street and Woodcliff road, and permit to remove 18 poles on Mill street. The Gas Light Co. was granted pole locations on Atheneae road and attachments on Parsons street, and N. A. Ross a wagon license. Ross was also refused a permit to transport liquor.

The Public Works Committee recommended removal of trees at 151 and 322 Waverley avenue, at 36 Crescent avenue and on Waban street, certain betterment assessments on Orris street, Newell road, and Washburn avenue, the acceptance of gift of ornamental work at New Technical High School and a hearing on a concrete sidewalk under the betterment act on Pettes street. The committee also reported it inexpedient to light the assembly hall of the Stearns Schoolhouse at the present time.

Hearings were also ordered for Oct. 26 on the laying out, etc., of Clovelly

On recommendation of the Finance Committee $1,400 was voted for a new automobile for the Health Department, $1,500 additional for Poor Out of Alms-house, $1,000 more for Care of Sick Poor, and $250 for maintenance of police teams.

The usual recess for committee meetings was held and just before adjournment Aldermen Underwood, Gray, Doherty and White protested against the custom of delaying the meetings of the board for committee sessions.

GOOD WISHES TO MRS. STEVENSON

Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson, President of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., was the guest of honor at a luncheon at Hotel Brunswick at noon Monday. J. B. Lewis, organizer of the Twentieth Century Pledge-Signing Crusade, was the host, and the other guests were all well known in various lines of temperance reform.

Seated at the table, which was beautifully decorated with flowers, were Robert H. Magwood, Rev. A. Z. Conrad, D.D., Rev. S. H. Davis of the Anti-Saloon League, Colonel Edward H. Haskell, Rev. William E. Hunting, Bishop Mallaleu, representing the Total Abstinence Society; Miss Jessie Forsyth, national president of the Good Templars, and Miss Elizabeth Gordon. After the luncheon there were speeches, all of which expressed hearty good wishes for Mrs. Stevenson, who is on the eve of a trip around the world that will take nearly a year and a half.

Mrs. Stevenson goes as the official representative of the World's W. C. T. U. She will start next week and will go first to Canada, where a banquet will be given her in London, the home of the Dominion president. She will reach Denver in time for the National W. C. T. U. convention, Oct. 23 to 28, and will sail from San Francisco on Nov. 3 for Hawaii. She will reach China the first of the year and will participate in the anti-opium congress that will be held there then. Japan and India will also be visited.

TALK, TALK, TALK!

The Democratic candidate for governor, Mr. Vahey, says he's going to assail the trusts, the lobby and everything else that's bad. He'll do it, too. But that's all he will do. Mr. Vahey has for three years been an always-wound-up legislative phonograph. His specialty is words, not work. The things that Mr. Vahey intends assailing ought to be assailed, but by constructive reformers, rather than political players to the galleries.—Great Barrington Courier.

A Few Facts About Hood's Milk

You can practice economy without sacrificing quality in providing for the table by reducing the amount of animal foods and substituting HOOD'S MILK, which furnishes all the nutrition necessary for health and strength at a far less cost.

A PERFECT MILK IS A PERFECT FOOD

HOOD'S MILK is tested for its palatability by an approved hygienic method. It is also tested daily for wholesomeness and richness in our Chemical and Bacteriological Laboratory. Its handling is kept under constant surveillance by medical experts. Do not accept a substitute. Insist on getting what you ask for and be sure to ask for HOOD'S MILK. It is PURE CLEAN and SAFE, and has stood the test of sixty-two years. Criticisms and suggestions will be gratefully received.

Women's Clubs.

Edited by Miss Grace M. Bart.

The Newton Highlands Monday Club opened its season on October 5. The subject for the year will be "A Period of History," being practically the 15th century, but more specifically from 1648-1789. The first paper was of an introductory nature, "The Cradle of the Century," being an account of the men then in their infancy who were a little later to be the central figures of the period. On Oct. 12 the club met with Mrs. O'Connor when papers upon "National Conditions in 1648," "Treaty of Westphalia" and "Gustavus Adolphus" were presented. The club will meet next week with Mrs. Bartlett of Jackson street.

The opening meeting of the Pierian Club was held on Oct. 7, at the home of Mrs. J. K. Hemphill, Boylston street. Papers upon the "Wild Flowers and Ferns of New England" and "Luther Burbank and His Work," were read by Mrs. Ryder and Mrs. Fisher. The club adjourned to meet Oct. 21 with Mrs. S. Arthur Thompson, 58 Erie avenue, Newton Highlands.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

A conference of club presidents will be held at Hotel Vendome on Saturday, Oct. 24. Reception 11.30 to 12.30, buffet luncheon at 12.30, followed by discussion of "The Biennial: What we gave, What we received." Suggestions from the clubs to the Federation: How to increase its Power and Efficiency. Luncheon tickets at fifty cents each should be secured from Mrs. Marian G. Pratt, North Middleboro, on or before Oct. 19, by sending money and addressed envelope. The Autumn Meeting of the Federation will occur at Bridgewater on Tuesday, Nov. 3. Further particulars will be given later.

The quarterly meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation will be held at the New Church, Newtonville, on Monday, Oct. 19, at 10.15 a. m. Members of clubs are welcome to attend even if not delegates.

DEFENDS TAFT

Marlington, W. Va., Oct. 4.—A. D. Williams, a candidate for the West Virginia legislature, who is prominent in Methodist church and political circles here, issued today a long statement in which he condemns the criticism heaped upon Judge William H. Taft, Republican candidate for President, on account of his religious views. He holds that this is a country where a man has the privilege of worshipping God according to the dictates of his conscience, and whatever be his creed, it should not be made a political issue.

The significance of Mr. Williams' statement is that he is one of the biggest Methodists in this section of the state. He is president of the laymen's council of the West Virginia Annual Conference of the Methodist church, is secretary of the Pocahontas Sunday-school Association, and is a prominent secret order man.

Mr. Williams' statement, in part, follows:

Deeds Count

"It has been the pride of the United States that under the banner bearing the Stars and Stripes men were judged as men by the deeds they performed, and not by the creed that they represented. I am proud to say that I am a citizen of the government whose Constitution gives unto all men the right to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience; and while I am a member of a branch of the Methodist church, I am proud to say that it is my belief that God saves men because of their deeds and individual actions, and not because of the creed they represent.

"There has been a great deal of criticism against Judge William H. Taft, Republican candidate for President, because he is a member of the Unitarian church; and even some conferences have gone so far as to pass resolutions condemning him as an unsuitable candidate, owing to his religious belief. This, in my mind, is an unwarranted step for the church to take, one which is without justification and contrary to the purposes for which our forefathers labored and fought.

"A number of editors whose pens have been dipped in untrue ink have attempted to advance the idea that membership of the Unitarian church was not an orthodox Christianity, but I doubt very seriously if any of those unimpeachable writers have paused for one moment to consider what they were doing or sought to ascertain the real principles governing this great religious body. In Article 2 of the constitution of that organization we find it summed up in the following:

"The church declares itself to be in affiliation with the body of liberal Christians organized as 'The American Unitarian Association,' and subscribes to the following declarations of principles embodied in the constitution adopted by the national conference of Unitarians and other Christian churches in 1894.

"These churches accept the religion of Jesus, holding, in accordance with His teachings, that practical religion is summed up in love of God and love to men, and we invite to our working fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general in sympathy with our spirit and our practical aims."

Offspring of Congregationalists

"The Unitarian church is an offspring of the Congregational body, and was organized by James Freeman, D.D., in the Kings chapel, in Boston, in 1787, and to its views and principles are closely allied the Christian, a Baptist body, the Christian discipline, and the Hicksite body of the Quakers.

"It is very true that the church has not formulated a test of membership and has given latitude to varieties of opinions, but while this is the case, under the shadow and influence of this great organization some of the greatest statesmen, ablest writers, and sweetest singers have been born, lived, and died, and as we look back over the pages of history we find on its roll the names of Channing, Margaret Fuller, Alcott, Dwight, Elizabeth Peabody, Emerson, Ripley, Whipple, Lowell, Prescott, Palfrey, Motely, Bancroft, Everett, Sumner, Curtis, Bryant, Longfellow, Holmes, Samuel G. Howe, and Denby Dix and Sarah Flower Adams whose immortal song, 'Nearer, My God, to Thee,' in the hymn books of every orthodox denomination, and to the chanting of which the saintly McKinley fell to sleep, was a member of the church of William H. Taft.

Great Men Who Were Unitarians

"Thomas Jefferson, whose gifted pen drafted our most valuable political document, worshipped his God at a Unitarian church. John C. Calhoun, Daniel Webster, John Q. Adams, Justin Morrill, John D. Long, and Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, whose Christian works are known the world over, are also members of the Unitarian church. These illustrious names and others, whose works, devotion, and patriotism have advanced civilization and free government, and the kingdom of Christ here upon earth, should be sufficient to lead us to believe and to know that it is not the church to which men belong, but the things they do that make them desirable citizens.

"Any who will read what Mr. Taft has to say, or, in other words, what he has said concerning Christian missions and civilization, and then take into consideration the fact that by his work and effort in the Orient he has done more for the cause of foreign missions as one individual than any single conference to be found in this country to-day—those who would point the finger of scorn, and pause to offer a word of criticism, should hide their faces in shame, and if they would then, by deed and example, let them reveal in their daily walks and general demeanor a higher standard of Christianity."—Washington Herald.

Candidate Vahey will not make any votes in Newton by his contemptible charges against ex-senator A. L. Harwood of Newton Centre. No one who knows Mr. Harwood questions for a moment that he personally profited by any transactions with which he may have been connected as chairman of the Wrentham State School. It is too bad that a man in Mr. Vahey's position cannot make a campaign for Governor without such deplorable insinuation and innuendo. While it is unfortunate that Mr. Harwood should have been counsel for one of the persons from whom the state purchased land for the school, Newton people know him well enough to be sure that his connection in the case was not dishonorable.

I hope that Newton voters will give due consideration to the fact that this city pays over $100,000 a year as its proportion of the state tax and therefore has a deep interest in an economical administration of the finances of the state. With this in mind, who is best qualified to serve us as governor next year, Mr. Draper, a trained business man, with three years of close connection with the state's affairs, or Mr. Vahey, a young lawyer, with no business experience whatever.
Let no sentiment about Tucker, or plausible talk about the lobby, divert your attention from the strictly business view of the situation.

The appointment of a Forest Commissioner at a salary of $1,700 per year and an appropriation of $5,000 for the department for the remainder of the present year, brings the matter of the seriousness of the moth problem right up to the taxpayers. Rumor says that the mayor expects this department to cost about $40,000 for 1909, and while the experience comes high, it is probably best to spend the money and do the work right, than to dawdle away the money in a half way fashion, as has been done in the past.

I trust Newton voters will give due heed to the action of the Republican delegates of this city in unanimously
supporting the candidacy of Judge Henry C. Mulligan of Natick for the office of Senator from this district.
Let no one refuse to vote for him because of his name. Judge Mulligan is a man of high character and attainments and every Republican should be glad that the upper end of the district can present such a man
as its candidate.

The appointment of Mr. Edwin O.
Childs, Jr., as a member of the board of health is a great credit to Mayor Hutchinson. Mr. Childs has had a wide experience for so young a man,
and will soon become a valuable member of our efficient board of health.

With many cities and towns all around us receiving electricity from the Edison Company for twelve cents per kilowatt hour, it strikes the average citizen as peculiar, to say the least, that Newton consumers pay 18 cents for the same electricity.

UNITARIAN CLUB

The first meeting of the Unitarian Club, for the season, was held last evening in the parlors of Channing church. There was an informal reception from 6.15 to 6.30 and dinner followed in the banquet hall. Later in the parlors Hon. John W. Weeks gave an interesting and instructive address on "The Navy." He spoke at length on John Paul Jones and other officers of the early navy, the sailor men and some of his personal experiences while in the service.
Captain Weeks also gave recent naval statistics, the expense of building and maintaining war ships and compared the American navy with those of other countries. He stated in closing that the Panama Canal would be completed in from five to ten years, and with a naval base for supplies at the Hawaiian Islands and at Cuba it might be possible to maintain adequate sea defense with one fleet instead of both Atlantic and Pacific fleets, thus reducing the enormous expense. At the next meeting, Thursday, November 19, Mr. Charles J.
Giddens will be the special guest, and will speak on "The World and its People as seen from a Motor Car."

BAD FIRE AT WABAN

plosion of the gasoline tank of an

and Henry F. Hall, his business associate, off Moffat road, Waban, caused great excitement in that vicinity late Saturday night. Two alarms were sent in for the fire apparatus, box 52 being sounded at 10.05
and followed three minutes later by box 522.

Two valuable horses, an automobile valued at $1,500, a large quantity of hay and harnesses and other equipment were destroyed. The damage was estimated at more than $7,000, the loss being partly covered by insurance.

The fire was a hot and threatening
one, and while it raged, residents of the immediate vicinity prepared to move, some families taking part of their furniture out of their homes to places of safety. While the cause of the fire is not definitely known, it is believed to have started from the automobile. The firemen experienced the toughest fight which they have had in several months, and it was with great difficulty that they prevented the flames from spreading to the greenhouses adjoining the stable.
Although the greenhouses caught fire
several times the work of the department saved them.

40 YEARS OLD

Some idea of the rapidly lengthening distance between the present and the days of the Civil War can be gained from the celebration last night of the fortieth anniversary of Charles Ward Post 62, Grand Army of the Republic. Those present noticed it in the gray hairs, which were plainly in evidence in the heads of the veterans who gathered together in Temple hall to observe the anniversary. Only three members survive of the entire list of charter members, Col. Isaac F.
Kingsbury, the city clerk of Newton,
ex-alderman Albert Plummer of Auburndale and Mr. Hosen Hyde of Newton.

The veterans were the hosts of their wives, daughters and other guests, fully 300 sitting down to supper at seven o'clock. A pleasing incident of the dinner was the reception of the colors, an event which seldom falls to stir the patriotism of all who witness it.

Commander R. E. Ashenden at the conclusion of the dinner formally welcomed the guests. He said that the real anniversary of the post fell on July 21, but because of the vacation season the celebration had been postponed until last evening. During the 40 years that the post had been one of the leading organizations of Newton, he said, it had expended more than $20,000 for the relief of worthy veterans of the Civil War and their families. He read a letter from Mayor Hutchinson who was unable to attend, owing to a previous engagement.

Byt. Brig. Gen. Luther Stevenson of Hingham, the principal speaker of the evening, who had been a wartime comrade of Maj. Charles Ward, after whom the Newton post was named, was then introduced. He was given three hearty cheers and a tiger.
Gen. Stevenson related his experiences in the army of the Potomac in the "three days' battle at Gettysburg, telling how he was dragged from the battlefield after being severely wounded when the Confederate forces were within a few rods of lay. He related how Maj. Ward, who had been terribly wounded, passed his last night by his side, without once expressing a regret that he had been fatally stricken in the service of his country.

Gen. Stevenson was followed by Ex-Alderman Charles A. Brown, who was elected to associate membership in the post, and by Samuel Ward of Newton Centre, a brother of Maj.
Ward.

The present officers are R. E. Ashenden, commander; J. T. Reed, senior vice-commander; Edmund E. Stiles, quartermaster; Samuel S. Patten, chaplain; S. S. Tilton, surgeon;
George Hill, adjutant; Samuel A.
Langley, officer of the day; John Flood, officer of the guard; John Owens, quartermaster sergeant, and
W. H. Partridge, sergeant major.

EVENING SCHOOLS OPEN

With an increased enrollment over last year in one school and a decrease in another, the evening schools
in this city were reopened Monday evening for a term which will close March 20.

There were 151 students enrolled in the Horace Mann school, Newtonville,
but in the Ralph Waldo Emerson
school in Newton Upper Falls, there were only 72 students, the decrease from last year being caused by illness
in that vicinity running on short time.
The drawing school was reopened in the Claffin school, Newtonville. Sessions of the evening schools will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. The Horace Mann school is in charge of F. F. Carr. He has five assistants and within a short time will have two more. Carlton D.
Miller, principal of the Hyde school
at Newton Highlands, is in charge of the Emerson school, having three assistants. The drawing school is in charge of A. E. West of Boston with one assistant.

The revised enrolment of the various school districts is as follows:
Total enrolment is 6,481. The high school has 1,022 pupils, against 966 last year. There are 4,976 pupils in the primary and grammar schools, against 4,812 last year. The kindergarten schools show a decrease, there being 491 pupils against 513 last year.
The decrease is due to illness among the children. The enrolment by districts is as follows: Bigelow, 677;
Horace Mann and Claffin, 735; Pierce,
1,052; Burr, 512; Hamilton, 116; Emerson, 462; Hyde, 590; Mason, 915;
Stearns, 408.

NEWTON BOAT CLUB

A committee consisting of James P. Richardson, W. Edwin Porter, Jr., and Irving J. French, has begun arrangements for the bowling season at the Newton boat club. Last year the club won the championship of the Newton league in big pins.
This season the club will doubtless again be represented in the league.
The bowling committee is now making a canvass of the members with a view of securing more available men for its bowling teams.

CLUBS AND LODGES

The officers of Boynton Lodge, No.
20, were publicly installed by R. W. C.
Gov. Sister Eliza Shannon of Cambridge, assisted by R. W. Con. Sister Blaisdell of Somerville. The pins of the Worthing Past Lady, Sister Spence,
and Past Sen. Rep. Sister Williams, were presented by Past Government Chaplain, Sister May E. Clark. The following are the officers for the ensuing year: Wor. Past Lady, Bella Spence; Wor. Noble Lady, Edna Leland; W. V. L., Effie Daniel; Wor.
Chap., Eva Fogwill; W. Rec. Sec.,
May E. Clark; W. L. R., M. Millie Beardsley; W. Fin. Sec., Laura Judan; W. Treas., Carrie Slick; W.
Sen. War., Alice Sweet; W. Jun. War., Susan Fogwill; W. Con., Nettie Williams; W. Guardian, Eliza Bradford;
W. R. A., Florence Cory; W. L. A.,
Sarah Wetmore; W. Sen. Rep., Therese Fewkes; W. Jn. Rep., Josie
Thompson; W. 1st Trustee, Nettie Williams; W. 2d Trustee, Florence
Cory; W. 3d Trustee, M. Millie Beardsley. A collation was served in charge of Eva Fogwill and M. Millie Beardsley.

Rt. W. William F. Jarvis, deputy grand master of the 5th Masonic district made an official visitation to Dahouse Lodge, at Newtonville, Wednesday evening, and was greeted with a large attendance of members and guests. W. M. William D. Swan of Pequotasset Lodge was the Senior Grand Warden on Dr. Jarvis's suite.

After an exhibition of the work of the second degree the deputy spoke briefly on the need of a Masonic home and of clandestine masonry. The deputy and his marshal were presented with flowers and a collation was served.

PARIS MILLINERY AND HATS

Now that the fall season is fairly upon us the subject of headwear is uppermost in the feminine mind. The autumn exhibition of Paris millinery and hats at The Bouquet, 276 Boylston street, is a notable one for its splendid display of beautiful, exclusive and stylish models, comprising those of noted Parisian designers as well as their own productions. A noticeable feature in some of these hats is the exquisite combinations of colors, one of the caprices of this season's millinery.

Both in the trimmed and untrimmed departments there is a very complete assortment of mourning hats and veils in the newest materials.

An inspection and examination of the newest colors, all of which may be found at The Bouquet, is well worth while of present or prospective patrons.

NEW FOREST COMMISSIONER

Mr. Charles I. Bucknam, the newly appointed Forest Commissioner of Newton, comes to this city from Somerville, where he made a splendid record for effective work against the ravages of the gypsy and brown-tail moths, as well as other pests of our trees.

CHARLES I. BUCKNAM
The New Forest Commissioner

Mr. Bucknam was born in Somerville in 1875 and was educated in its public schools, completing his education in the study of insects and trees at the Amherst Agricultural college. He has a thorough acquaintance with landscape gardening, shrubs, trees and injurious insects, and has made a special study of the effects of escaping gas and electricity on the roots of trees. Since 1900 Mr. Bucknam has had charge of the work in Somerville against the moths, and succeeded in changing that city from the worst infested community to the least infested one in the moth zone. He has also obtained the best results in the state in operations against the elm tree beetle. Mr. Bucknam has also had experience in work against the army worm, the leopard moth, codling moths, pear tree slug, San Jose and oyster shell scale and the tent caterpillar.

He is a member of the Massachusetts Forestry Association, Cambridge, and the O. H. Metropolitan Lodge, 10, A. O. U. W., King Hiram Lodge, 155, Knights of Pythias, and Charity Lodge, A. F. & A. M.

MUSICAL

A very delightful musical was given at the house of Mr. Frank N. Robbins, Bellevue street, Newton on Tuesday evening, by a quartet consisting of Miss Adelyn Riley, soprano; Miss Celestine Cornelson, alto; Mr. Norman Arnold, tenor; Mr. Alfred Bowdoin, bass; Mr. Henry T. Wido and Mr. John Hermann Loud, pianists, and Mr. F. N. Robbins, reader. The program was as follows:

PART I
"Enoch Arden"—Tennyson—Strauss
—Mr. Robbins and Mr. Loud.

PART II
"In a Persian Garden," song cycle for four voices. Music by Liza Lehmann, words from the "Rupaiyat of Omar Khayyam," Miss Riley, Miss Cornelson, Mr. Arnold, Mr. Bowdoin, Mr. Wido at the piano.
It was a most artistic evening, and was enjoyed by a large and enthusiastic audience.

THEATRES

Colonial Theatre—Adeline Genee, the famous dancer from the Empire Theatre, London, who has created sensations wherever she has appeared, is to be seen in Boston for the first time at the Colonial Theatre, commencing Monday, October 19, in F. Ziegfeld, Jr.'s musical entertainment "The Soul Kiss." The piece which is in two acts and ten scenes enjoyed a phenomenal run of twenty weeks in the New York Theatre last winter. It is the work of Harry B. Smith and Maurice Levl, and unlike most musical comedy offerings, "The Soul Kiss" carries a very interesting plot, which deals with the efforts of a French sculptor to find a kiss that shall be different from all others and shall come from the soul. He is assisted in his search for the maid who possesses this rare kiss by J. Lucifer Mephisto, a thoroughly up-to-date devil, who has wagered a million dollars on the outcome. Miss Genee is conspicuous throughout the entire performance, during which she will present four of the most popular divertissements of her repertoire which will include "The Hunt Dance," "Sir Roger de Coverly," "The Soul Kiss" dance and "The Money Ballet." Manager F. Ziegfeld, Jr., has surrounded Genee with a company numbering one hundred musical comedy entertainers, which includes such popular favorites as Ralph C. Herz, Vera Michelena, John B. Park, Stella Tracy, Barney Bernard, Lee Harrison, Mortimer C. Weldon, and the handsomest chorus extant. Genee's engagement in Boston will be of four weeks' duration only, and she will not be seen in any other New England city this season.

Keith's Theatre—The week of October 19th will be memorable by the first vaudeville appearance of Annette Kellerman, the woman championship swimmer of the world. Miss Kellerman will not only give exhibitions of swimming in an enormous tank, but also dancing and diabolism. The bill also includes a dramatic sketch by Margaret Wycherly and Company, called "The Open Door," and it is said to be one of the most intensely dramatic pieces that has been offered in years. Another strong feature will be the Tuscany Troubadours, an act that will be seen here for the first time, and which is a strong musical novelty. The Carina's Guards is also another act, put on by a large company amid the most picturesque stage settings. Also on the bill will be Sam Curtis and Company in one of his characteristic comedy sketches, Fred Watson and the Morrissey Sisters, the Bessie Valdare Troupe, Ed Norton and the special show of pictures, singers, etc.

Boston Theatre—Many changes have taken place in the Boston Theatre, both in the house and on the stage, and that they are attracting widespread attention and the approval of the amusement-going public, is evidenced by the large attendance both afternoon and evening. Next week, another production, entirely in keeping with the plans, will be Robert Marshall's play, "A Royal Family." This is one of the most recent successes, and in it Miss Annie Russell had a most prosperous season. The present production will be given with all the original stage settings, and the piece is one in which all the members of the Boston Theatre Stock Company will be seen to great advantage. This company, by the way, with Wilson Melrose and Eleanor Gordon in the leading parts, has been strengthened by the engagement of Mr. Frank Losee, one of the best-known actors on the American stage, and he was secured for the heavy parts.

Orpheum Theatre—There are at least five star acts in the Orpheum bill for the week beginning Oct. 19, and the number of novelties is very large, even for a vaudeville house. First on the list are the Four Mortons, in their great farce, "Breaking Into Society." Alex. Carr and his company, for the first time in vaudeville, present what has been termed the greatest sketch on the stage, "Tobler's, or the End of the World." This sketch was played by him all last season in New York City. The last but not the least of the Lloyd's, those extraordinarily popular English girls, comes to Boston in the person of Daisy Lloyd, the dainty singer of dainty songs. Barry Lupino, the dancing wonder from London, will show something unique in the way of dancing, and Allan Shaw, the transatlantic entertainer, will reveal his wonderful skill in the manipulation of coins. The Australian foresters in an act that is very much out of the ordinary remissus for a second week. It is also the last week of McMahon's Watermelon Girls, a very attractive musical number. The famous French fun-maker, Torcat, and Miss Alisa are also on the bill with a novelty number.

Park Theatre—There are several things at the Boston theatres these autumn nights that are well worth seeing when you come to town, but whatever else you miss, don't miss "The Thief." For a playwright who knows his business from A to Z, commend me to M. Henri Bernstein, citizen of the French Republic. He is the boy for me every time, and what he doesn't know about the inner workings of a woman's heart and mind and soul isn't worth knowing. Any young girl can take her mother to see it and ought to. And every wife ought to take her husband to see it, too. Arthur Brisbane, with whom I don't generally agree, but I do in this case, said it was a play specially meant for husbands and wives, with a lesson for both, and this time I take my hat off to Mr. Brisbane. He's right, plumb right, and all the way through. It's a good company at the Park, too, with Kyrle Belieu, Margaret Illington, Sidney Herbert, Edward R. Mawson, Eugene O'Brien, Edward Elms and Isabel Richards—every one of them an artist, but after all, it's the play that is the thing, and whatever you do not miss seeing "The Thief" no matter who is playing in it. The engagement at the Park is, I understand, only a short one, so come as soon as you can, and as they are doing a big business, you'd better write ahead and engage your seats or you may not get very good ones.

NEW ENGLAND FOOD FAIR

It would seem as if all New England will have gone to the great annual New England Food Fair at Mechanics building, Huntington avenue, Boston, the place where all the food fairs and expositions for over a quarter of a century in Boston have wisely been held. One can get a faint idea of the character of the free "shows" when it is stated that among them are the splendid concerts, given twice daily, by the Mexican National band, expressly sent to Boston by President Diaz, with his "greetings to the people of New England," and to keep the Mexican government's magnificent and elaborate $50,000 exhibit, good company. This Mexican exhibit occupies the stage and the first balcony of Grand Hall, where the $100,000 Philippine exhibits are on free exhibition. The height of generosity seems outdone in the free performances of the Frank C. Bostock consolidated trained wild animal arena, where five times every day the world's greatest animal trainers display their mastery over the most savage beasts. It is worth going many miles to see the feeding of the animals, which occurs every morning at 10.30 o'clock.

The Boston School exhibit, the Massachusetts exhibit, the California exhibit, the Texas exhibit, the making of a complete magazine, the making of willow furniture, making of pianos and carpets, and hundreds of other instructive features and processes are on every hand combining to make the New England Food Fair in the Mechanics building far outdistance any other held in this building celebrated for such affairs.

HAVE TO

Sometimes when sickness is in the family and a physician has been called in and a prescription written, you have noticed the name of some particular drug that printed on the paper on which the doctor writes the prescription.

This does not mean that you are compelled to take your prescription to the druggist whose name appears on the paper. It is recognized the world over that a patient has the privilege of taking the prescription to any drug store that he prefers.

The prescription department in our store is always watched over by a registered pharmacist; a doctor's prescriptions are always filled exactly according to the way he intended they should be filled.

PALMER—PERKINS
Miss Mary Follott Perkins, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Phelps Perkins, of West Newton was married to Mr. Jackson Palmer, the son of Hon. and Mrs. Charles Dana Palmer of Lowell, last Saturday noon at the Church of the Messiah, Auburn-dale.

The church was beautiful, with palms and yellow chrysanthemums, and completely filled with the many friends of the young couple, the bride being a particular favorite in the social life of this city.

The bride evidently believed in the old-fashioned rhyme of "Something old and something new," as her gown was of ivory colored grosgrain silk, with panel of satin, embroidered in orange blossoms and was worn by her mother at her wedding twenty-five years previous. The dress was also trimmed with Duchess lace, and she wore a comb worn by her great grandmother in 1828, and carried a white lace handkerchief which had also been used at the weddings of her grandmother and mother. Mrs. Alexander Richardson Magruder of Washington, D. C., sister of the groom, was matron of honor, and wore lavender crepe de chine and a black hat.

The bridesmaids were Miss Annis Kendall; Smith, '10, of Lowell, cousin of the bride, Miss Helen Terry Hayes of Brookline, Miss Metta L. Wana-maker, Wellesley, '07, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Miss Dorothy P. Dowse of West Newton, all gowned in crepe de chine, trimmed with self colored embroidered flit, Miss Kendall in yellow, Miss Hayes in pink, Miss Wana-maker in green, and Miss Dowse in blue. Leslie Perkins and Adams Ken-nard, dressed in white, were the flower children, and preceded the bride on her father's arm to the chancel. The best man was Mr. Harrison B. Webster, Harvard, '05, and Medical School, '09, of Boston, and the ushers were Messrs. Horace H. Hemingway, Harvard Law School, of Little Rock, Ark., J. R. Osagood Perkins, N. H. S., '09, and J. Gerritt B. Perkins, Harvard, '11, brothers of the bride, of West Newton, Victor F. Jewett, Harvard, '05, of Lowell, J. Augustus George, Harvard, '09, Law School, '06, of Boston, Dana Palmer, Harvard, '10, of Lowell, and George T. Tarbell Harvard, '08, of Lincoln.

A small reception followed at the Perkins home on Margin street, West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer being assisted in receiving a few intimate friends by Dr. and Mrs. Perkins, Hon. and Mrs. C. D. Palmer, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. V. S. Anthony, and the bride party.

The groom is a graduate of Harvard, class of 1905, and of the Law School, 1908. The day was also the silver wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Perkins, and they received many congratulations on that event.

Football Season Here

During the month of October every eye is turned toward the oval

Our purpose in advertising in this space is to turn the eyes of everybody, during the whole year, toward the "Oval."

Of course we mean "Creamall"—the oval loaf.

For beauty of shape and for deliciousness of flavor, you won't tackle anything in the class of Creamall.

It's the only Oval people never kick at.

Game starts next time you eat.

AN OBJECT LESSON

The wife of Professor Harry Thurston Peck has just been granted a divorce from him for non-support and desertion. The court also awarded her the custody of their sixteen-year-old daughter. Prof. Peck has been one of the most abusive opponents of equal rights for women, and went so far as to call the arguments for woman suffrage "the neuritic caterwaulings of feminine hysteria." He has often accused the suffragists of neglecting their domestic duties. Now a court composed wholly of men declares that Prof. Peck's own neglect of his domestic duties has been so great as to entitle his wife to a divorce and the custody of their young daughter.—The Woman's Journal.

Our method of supplying your requirements in Furs has made The Dunlap-Cooke Canadian Furs famous as the Furs of Quality. The Canadian Climate produces the finest furs known to commerce, because of the long, cold winters. The fur-bearing animals of Canada are provided by nature with a coat that is warmer, finer and more lustrous than temperate climates can produce.

The Duty on Manufactured Canadian Furs is 35%—We receive our Canadian Furs in the Raw State Duty Free. We have our own fur stores in Canadian centres; here we receive the raw furs from the trappers. We are the only Canadian Fur concern with a store in the United States. In this respect the strength of our position is unequalled. When you buy direct from us you save middlemen's profits and secure skins taken in prime season from the best sections, because we know where and when to buy the best that Canada offers.

—The officers of the Waban woman's club gave a very pleasing tea and reception in the Roger Wolcott school on Tuesday afternoon from two to five o'clock, the purpose being to make the parents better acquainted with the teachers in the grammar, primary grades, and the kindergarten, in whose honor the affair was given. The teachers, Miss Thrasher, Miss Palmer, Miss Perry, Miss Lincoln, Miss Nye and Miss Flanders, and the club president, Mrs. Arthur M. Crahn received the guests, and the members of the executive board acted as ushers. Tea was served in the upper room by Mrs. B. Hoffman Davidson and Mrs. J. H. Pillsbury, and down stairs by Madame Rice and Mrs. F. W. Webster, while the Misses Baker, Childs, Clarke, Dane, Hogan, Cakes, Putnam, Rice, Rane, Southwick, Webster, Wiley, Winchester and Zellus served. A large number of invited guests were present including several gentlemen, and the reception was an unqualified success.

THEATRES

Kelth's Theatre—The attractions at Kelth's Theatre of late have attracted widespread attention. Annette Kellermann in one of the most novel acts ever devised, will be retained next week, and another attraction—Eva Tanguay, who dances and sings and has a great number of imitators. They all imitate but none can duplicate Eva Tanguay. On this same bill will be still another headline feature, no less a one than Clayton White and Marie Stuart, who are appearing in their classic classic which they have made famous, "Cherie." For this week also Melville Ellis has been engaged, and he is certainly the most popular of all entertainers with the piano. Others on the bill will be the Ariols Brothers with a bar act that is said to be simply wonderful, Leo Donnelly in a new specialty, the Picaro Brothers and a number of other attractions to be announced later, to which will be added the special Kelth show which is becoming such a strong attraction at this house during the late hours of the afternoon and the early hours of the evening. This is made up of a special corps of entertainers rehearsed by the Kelth management and with the best pictures that can be secured.

Boston Theatre—Following the plan of presenting the latest successes, the attraction at the Boston Theatre next week, will be the "Hypocrites," by Henry Arthur Jones, a play which has met with tremendous success, and is the only one of this English author's works that received its first production in America. The action of the piece takes place in a small English village, where, with few exceptions, there is pitiable immorality. The exception to the rule is the Reverend Edgar Linnell, who is deeply stirred by the conditions, but when he attempts reform is met with such opposition that his living is threatened, and he is finally forced to acquiesce.

Orpheum Theatre—This is the fourth week of the Orpheum's vaudeville season. The Four Mortons in another of their famous comedy acts and Daisy Lloyd, "the daintiest of them all," remain because they are so good. Julian Rose, the famous "Levinson," makes his only appearance in Boston this season, and for the first time here H. Corson Clarke and company present their new sketch which is described as sixty laughs a minute. The famous impersonator, Willy Zimmerman, will show how Taft and Bryan would lead a band, and as an added attraction, Charles Barnold's Dog and Monkey actors, including Dan, the famous intoxicated canine, will give their humorous street scene. Prince Kokin, the Japanese equilibrist and the Three Keltons in an amusing act complete the bill, except for the Morriscope which has some new moving pictures on display.

NEW LAW OF HEREDITY

Some time ago, an English scientist, Mr. W. Beach Thomas, contributed to the English press an article on Mendel's great discovery concerning heredity in plants and animal life. "The scientific world," he said, "is on the point of giving full recognition to a new, strange and deep-rooted law, and it is a satisfaction to know that in a few months some of the most striking of its practical results will be published by a body of English scientists. Briefly, the law which seems to touch the ultimate mysteries of heredity, is this: When pure stock or strains are crossed, it is found that a certain list of qualities remain, so to speak, indestructible, and appear uncontaminated in a definite proportion of the offspring of all generations after the first.

Some concrete examples will best show the practical effect of the law. When the tall variety of sweet pea and the short variety of sweet pea are crossed, the first generation are all tall. Tallness is the dominant quality over shortness, which is called recessive. But in the second generation it is found that just one-quarter are dwarf, and not only are they dwarf, but they will remain pure dwarf, without any reversion, and when crossed with dwarf will never again show signs of tallness. The other three-quarters will be tall, and of these tall again just one-quarter will be pure tall, and never again show signs of dwarfness. The remaining two-quarters will be impure, but again when crossed with their like will give both pure tall, pure dwarf, and mongrels in due proportion. So that we find in all grandchildren, so to speak, of pure strains the proportion 1:2:1 has a mystic application—that is, one-quarter of these grandchildren will be exact or pure reproduction in one quality of their grandmothers, one-quarter will be pure reproductions of their grandfathers, and two-quarters, though resembling one grandparent, will have latent in them the qualities of both.—November Technical World Magazine.

NEWTON REAL ESTATE SOLD

John T. Burns, 363 Centre street, Newton, reports the sale of the well-known Scollard estate, situated on 632 Washington street, Brighton Hill. POLITICAL NOTES

Mr. Jesse C. Ivy of Fairmont avenue, Newton, was unanimously named as the Democratic candidate for Congress from this district at the convention held in Boston last week.

Mr. Ivy has been a resident of Newton for many years and served two years in the board of aldermen in 1898 and 1899. He is a lawyer with offices in Boston and has been a lifelong Democrat.

D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., of Newton, held its opening reception at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Arthur P. Friend, of West Newton, Wednesday, October fourteenth.

After being informally received by the hostess and the vice-regents, Mrs. George Hutchinson and Mrs. George P. Bullard, the company were entertained by several vocal selections delightfully rendered by Miss Van Wagenen. A paper recalling a charming trip made to Old Boston, England, was read by Mrs. Bullard, illustrated by photographs; and memories of the summer vacation were given by others. Dainty refreshments were served and a very social time enjoyed.

FOOTBALL

The Union A. C. of Newton recently played a hot game with the Clover A. C. of Roxbury; the final score being nothing to nothing. York, Hennessy and Nichols excelled for the Unions, while Quirk and Dooley played best for Clover. The features of the game were the team work of Clovers and the defense by Unions.

At Boyd Park, Saturday, the Newton Independents will play the 130-lb. Hilton A. A. team of Somerville. Last Saturday Elmer E. Canfield, manager and left half back of the Newton team, fractured his jaw in a scrimmage which will necessitate his absence from the team for the remainder of the season.

MRS. GAY RECEIVES

One of the prettiest social functions of the early autumn season was the reception given by Mrs. Fred A. Gay at the Hannevell Club last Monday to introduce her daughter, Miss Thirza Huntington Gay, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Nelson Gay of Rome, Italy. About 400 guests were present from the Newtons, Boston, Brookline and surrounding towns. The reception was held in the parlors from four until six o'clock and during that time music was furnished by an orchestra. In the dining-room dainty refreshments were served by a group of ladies of the younger society set and among those serving at the tables were Mrs. F. A. Gay, Mrs. Francis Murdoch, Mrs. E. T. Ryder, Mrs. H. L. Dexter, Mrs. J. P. R. Sherman, Mrs. A. J. Wellington, Mrs. Frank Hopewell and others. Flowers were in profusion about the rooms and many of the toilets were exquisite in texture and design.

Some people would do well to observe the centennial anniversary of Rev. Dr. Samuel F. Smith, which will come Oct. 21, by learning all the words of "America," so that they won't have to break into the customary "la-las" after finishing the fourth line.—Globe.

AMERICA AND ITS AUTHOR

Rev. Dr. Smith was born in Boston, October 21, 1808. He was educated at the Boston Latin school and graduated from Harvard in 1829 and from Andover Theological seminary in 1833. He was ordained to the Baptist ministry at Waterville, Me., in 1834 and filled the pulpit in that town until 1842, when he came to the First Baptist church at Newton Centre in January. He died at this church on June 18, 1884, during which time he was editor of the Christian Review, a religious paper published in Boston. From 1854 until 1859 he edited other Baptist publications in Boston. In 1875-76 and again in 1880-82 he visited the Baptist missions in Europe and Asia. He received his degree of D.D. from Waterville (now Colby) university in 1854. Dr. Smith lived in Newton Centre for years, making his home on Centre street near Pleasant street. He died November 16, 1895.

My country 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty;
Of thee I sing,
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrim's pride,
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring.

My native country thee
Land of the noble free
'Tis thee I love;
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills,
My heart with rapture thrills
Like that that bows

No more shall twilight here
With haught of glory appear
No more shall tyrants tread
Above the patriot's dead
No more for blood be shed
By alien hands

Let mine, a small breeze
And ring from all the trees
Sweet freedom's song
Let rocks their silence break
Let mortal tongues awake
Let all that breathe praise thee
Thee, O land, thy song

Our fathers' God to thee
Author of what we are To thee we sing
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light Protect us by thy might Ourselves our King

AN APPEAL FOR "THE BREAD LINE"

The Bowery Mission "Bread Line," at which 1,000 men who are out in the streets for the night are given a breakfast of hot coffee and rolls every morning at one o'clock, is one of the most pathetic sights in all the wide, wide world. Long before the hour of opening, these poor, starving men stand in a single line that sometimes extends for blocks in length, waiting for the coffee and rolls. During the winter, this breakfast is given to an aggregate of 210,000 homeless men and boys, and up to date over half a million of the homeless have had their weary tramp restfully interrupted by this unique institution. The first of these breakfasts is given on Thanksgiving morning, and the last on the following Easter morning. Altogether the Mission supplied, this year, over 312,000 meals and 57,072 lodgings to homeless men and boys. It is for this grand, philanthropic work that we ask your kind and practical co-operation. The homeless, friendless, disheartened and despairing men and boys of the Bowery are not native New Yorkers, but men and boys, who, until within a year, lived happily at the old homestead with father and mother, and perhaps wife. They are stranded here, and in despair appeal to the Old Bowery Mission, which, for over thirty years, has been to the unfortunate, as the rescue cities of old, a haven of encouragement, rest and protection. Shall we turn them away? It rests with the good people of this country to decide this question, and may God graciously help you to decide it aright. JOHN C. EARL, Financial Secretary, 92 Bible House, New York City.

The conditions of happiness are three: A clean conscience, something to do, and some one to love.

You Need Exercise

NATURE demands it in everybody if good health is desired. You can obtain exercise, good, healthy enjoyable exercise at the Brookline Riding Academy, where there is an excellent string of saddle horses, and a competent corps of instructors. Special attention is given to ladies' while Shelland Ponies are reserved for the use of children.

INSURANCE

Do you realize that the average loss by fire in U. S. is about $500,000 a day. Eight here in Massachusetts over 8000 dwellings were either destroyed or damaged during 1907, costing Insurance Companies $1,180,962.

Failure to insure is gross negligence. The cost is small, protection absolute. Be sure your automobile is covered. Accidents are alarmingly frequent.

NONANTUM BLOCK, - NEWTON, MASS

AN AVOVAL OF DISTRUST IN VACCINATION, BY SOME HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS OF GREATER BOSTON

The undersigned have long been aware, both through personal observation and verified testimony, of the failure of the vaccine process to protect the vaccinated, or to modify the violence of the virulent disease when incurred.

Ample demonstration of these facts is found in the official health reports of the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Sweden, Denmark, and individual states and cities of the Union; finally in the recent destructive epidemics of Smallpox among the vaccinated troops at the Philippines and in Japan.

In India also, according to an official return recently presented to the British House of Commons, by Viscount Morley, Secretary for India, there have been during the forty-five years, (1861-1906), 3,334,325 deaths of vaccinated persons from Smallpox.

In England, the birthplace of inoculation and vaccination, a government investigation of seven and one-half years, with further and recent discussion, has now resulted in enacting statutes abolishing compulsory vaccination.

Mr. John H. Bonner of Leicester, England, to whose forceful and accurate presentation of the above facts parliamentary action has been largely due, is now in our community. Mr. Bonner has commanded the active sympathy of Wm. E. Gladstone, Sir Robert Peel, John Bright, Herbert Spencer, Sir Benj. Ward Richardson, Lord Salisbury, Professor Alfred Russel Wallace, Mrs. Henry Fawcett, the Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, Florence Nightingale, Sir Wm. J. Collins, Professor Edgar N. Crookshank, Professor Carlo Ruata, Dr. Charles Creighton, Professor Ad. Vogt, Jonathan Hutchinson, et al.

Mr. Bonner's attitude and accomplishment have already attracted the respectful interest of the press and of leading citizens, with invitation to address leading clubs and organizations of the city.

In view of the importance now generally attributed to the Subject of Vaccination, and, especially, the question of its compulsory enforcement, we would urge the attention of the public to the objects of the Massachusetts Anti-Vaccination Society, at whose invitation Mr. Bonner is now in our midst.

The fires which have caused so much trouble this week seem to have been caused by extreme carelessness or by mischievous boys. It would seem that persons with ordinary common sense would not light fires in this very dry weather, but from the number of bonfires seen about the city and the frequent alarms of fire, it is evident that that kind of common sense is lacking in Newton. When the smoke from burning leaves and rubbish causes such discomfort to every one, I cannot conceive how any one with the slightest regard for his neighbor will attempt to burn up rubbish. Better, by far, a few days of unlighted leaves, than the annoyance and possible danger of smoke and fires under present climatic conditions. Active work ought to be done by the police department in a prosecution of boys who are mischievous and who have caused so much of the fire trouble the past week.

The nomination of Mr. Jesse C. Ivy of Newton as the Democratic candidate for Congress against Congressman Weeks, makes the coming election a sort of neighborhood affair. While there is more or less of a feeling of good fellowship for Mr. Ivy, I believe that the voters of Newton have too high a regard for the present Congressman personally, and are too proud of his splendid record at Washington to make a change at present.

Judge Henry C. Mulligan, the Republican nominee for the state senate fully deserves the united support of the party, both from a business and political standpoint. It is considerable of a disgrace for such a strong Republican district as the First Middlesex, to be represented in the senate by a man of the opposing party, and with a candidate with such excellent character as Judge Mulligan, Republicans have absolutely no cause to bolt the ticket.

"AMERICA" AND ITS AUTHOR

The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Rev. Samuel Francis Smith, the author of the national hymn, "America," was observed in this city last Wednesday, October 21st, with exercises in the schools and the display of the national colors on all public buildings.

I am able to give the readers of the GRAPHIC a facsimile of the original manuscript of the famous hymn, as originally published in the New England Magazine of July, 1830. It is interesting, as it shows that there was another verse which was rejected by Dr. Smith when the hymn was finally published. It was written on a sheet, evidently used for some form of subscription work as the printed directions at the side indicate.

From the same magazine I also gather the following account given by Dr. Smith regarding the hymn:

"The hymn, 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee,' was written in February, 1832. As I was turning over the leaves of several books of music, chiefly music for children's schools, the words being in the German language, the music which I found later to be 'God Save the King,' impressed me very favorably. I noticed at a glance that the German words were patriotic. But without attempting to translate or imitate them, I was led in the impulse of the moment to write the hymn now styled 'America,' which was the work of a brief period of time at the close of a dismal winter afternoon. I did not design it for a national hymn, nor did I think it would gain such notoriety. I dropped the manuscript (which is still in my possession) into my portfolio and thought no more of it for months. I had, however, once seen it after writing it, and given a copy of it to Mr. Lowell Mason, with the music from the German pamphlet, and, much to my surprise, on the succeeding Fourth of July he brought it out on occasion of a Sunday-school celebration in Park Street Church, Boston."

The following letter, written to Admiral Preble and published in his account of "National Songs," gives another version of the hymn:

12 Bedford Street, Boston, Mass., Sept. 12, 1832.

Capt. Geo. Henry Preble,

Dear Sir:

The origin of my hymn, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," is briefly told. In the year 1831, Mr. William C. Woodbridge returned from Europe, bringing a quantity of German music books, which he passed over to Lowell Mason. Mr. Mason, with whom I was on terms of friendship, one day turned them over to me, knowing that I was in the habit of reading German works, saying: "Here, I can't read these, but they contain good music, which I should be glad to use. Turn over the leaves, and, if you find anything particularly good, give me a translation or imitation of it, or write a wholly original song—anything, so I can use it."

Accordingly, one leisure afternoon, I was looking over the books and fell in with the tune of "God Save the King" and at once took up my pen and wrote the piece in question. It was struck out at a sitting, without the slightest idea that it would ever attain the popularity it has since enjoyed. I think it was written in the town of Andover, Mass., in February, 1832. The first time it was sung publicly was at a children's celebration of American Independence at the Park Street church, Boston, I think July 4, 1832. If I had anticipated the future of it, doubtless I would have taken more pains with it. Such as it is I am glad to have contributed this mite to the cause of American freedom.

Very sincerely yours,
S. F. SMITH.

The public schools made a special feature of the day, with the singing of "America" and other patriotic hymns, and talks on the life of Dr. Smith. At Newton Centre, the pupils of the Rice school marched in a body to the former home of Dr. Smith and sang "America" in front of the house. The flags were displayed on all the public buildings and in Newton Centre, the chimneys on the First Baptist church, of which Dr. Smith was a former pastor, played "America" at sunrise.

At the same church, the regular social on Wednesday evening was addressed by Deacon Dwight Chester, and Dr. Appleton W. Smith of the Boston city hospital, who gave reminiscences of Dr. Smith. Mr. Joseph L. Colby also spoke and Rev. Mr. Levy read a letter from Mr. Galusha Anderson and some of Dr. Smith's poems. Mrs. Everett English was the pianist.

Last Sunday morning, as requested by Mayor Hutchinson, there was a general reference to the coming celebration in all the churches. At the Newton Centre Baptist church, Rev. Dr. W. E. Huntington and Rev. Jesse B. Thomas spoke of Dr. Smith, as a citizen and on his value to the world and there was appropriate music.

In Boston Wednesday noon, "America" was played by four buglers from the belfry of the Park street church, where the words of "America" were first sung in public. A large crowd gathered to hear the playing.

MASS MEETING

It is proposed to call a mass meeting of all the men of Newton Centre in one of the churches of the village on a Sunday afternoon about the middle of November. Preliminary steps were taken at a meeting of representatives of the churches in Newton Centre at the Methodist church last Tuesday evening. About twenty-five men were present. They were enthusiastic about the project. Preparatory plans were made and the work of arranging for the meeting was placed in the hands of a competent and energetic committee.

This mass meeting of the men of Newton Centre is to be called in connection with a great laymen's conference which is to be held in Boston, November 13 to 22. It is the Boston Conference of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. This is a voluntary association of business men, organized in New York, and has already spread over the South and West and has secured the hearty co-operation of business men everywhere. The Boston conference promises to be one of the most inspiring and influential meetings of the association. Prominent business men from different parts of the country are coming to make addresses and the laymen of Boston are making enthusiastic preparations for the meetings. The Newton Centre men's mass meeting is being organized in connection with this Boston conference and several of the most interesting speakers of the conference will be secured for our local meetings.

As soon as plans are matured a call will be issued by the committee having the matter in charge. It will give full particulars of the meeting and it will be addressed to every man in Newton Centre.

BARBER—JOHNSON

Mr. Fred Arthur Barber of North Reading, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Barber of Newton, was married Wednesday evening at Lowell, to Miss Elizabeth Johnson, the daughter of Mr. Thomas W. Johnson, of that city. The ceremony took place at six o'clock at the Worthen street Methodist church, Rev. W. R. Newhall, pastor of the Methodist church of Somerville, officiating. The church was decorated with evergreen, autumnal foliage and white chrysanthemums with a beautiful arch of green at the altar, from which was suspended a bell of white chrysanthemums.

The bride wore white chiffon satin, cut diagonally trimmed in hand run imported lace, with train and veil. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and wore a sunburst of pearls, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor was Miss Susan A.

Wells of New York City, dressed in white chiffon, with point de Paris, Chiny and Valenciennes laces. She wore diamond ornaments. The bridesmaids, Miss Ethel May Bennett of Southampton, L. I., and Miss Myra Blakeman Palmer of Shelton, Conn., wore pale blue silk mill with point d'aspit and lace, cut Princess style. They carried pink roses and wore opal ornaments.

The best man was Mr. R. J. Barber of Boston, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Messrs. H. G. Wells of Haverhill, R. S. Earle, Harold P. Barber and R. C. Thompson of Newton. John H. Johnson, brother of the bride and Edward J. Moffatt of Lowell.

A reception followed at the home of the bride, 487 Andover street, Lowell, which was beautified with evergreen, autumn leaves and white chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Barber were assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Barber, the latter wearing gray silk and lavender, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, father and mother of the bride. Mrs. Johnson wearing an imported black net gown with Princess lace.

Mr. and Mrs. Barber will reside in Boston, where they will be at home after January first.

SHARPE—BATSTONE

A pretty wedding took place at the Warren avenue Baptist church, Boston, last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Miss Blanche Batstone, daughter of Mr. William Batstone, of Washington street, West Newton, was united in marriage to Mr. Alfonso Joseph Sharpe of Brookline. Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, pastor of the church, was the officiating clergyman. There was no best man, but the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ellmore Batstone. Later Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe left for their future home in Cleveland, Ohio.

JORDAN ARCH SUPPORTS

Means Foot Comfort

Do you become easily tired—have that dragged out feeling—aches and pains in ankle, instep, knee or back?
You may think it is Rheumatism, but in nine cases out of ten the cause is broken or weakened arches of the feet.
Just try the Jordan Arch Supports, different from anything you ever before wore or heard of. They not only respond to every action of the foot, but give sustaining power to the muscles which means instant relief and permanent comfort.
Not stiff and uncomfortable like other supports but easy and natural to the feet. They cost but $2.00 per pair and we guarantee them as represented. Sent prepaid upon price.

HENRY F. MILLER PLAYER-PIANO

Combines in one instrument the features that have made all Henry F. Miller pianos famous for nearly half a century together with a pneumatic self-playing action that enables any one to perform the finest piano compositions at once without previous practice and without fatigue.
It stands SUPREME among player-pianos.
Its effects are MUSICAL—not mechanical.
It IMPROVES rather than deteriorates with usage.
It is a STANDARD by which to judge the relative merits of player-pianos.

TO OUR OLD PATRONS
The demand upon us for slightly used Henry F. Miller pianos is at all times so great we are enabled thereby to offer our old patrons very liberal allowances for their pianos in exchange for new HENRY F. MILLER PLAYER-PIANOS.

Sometimes when sickness is in the
family and a physician has been called in
and a prescription written, you have
noticed the name of some particular drugist printed on the paper on which the doctor writes the prescription.

This does not mean that you are compelled to take your prescription to the
drugist whose name appears on the paper.

It is recognized the world over that a
patient has the privilege of taking the prescription to any drug store that he
prefers.

The prescription department in our
store is always watched over by a registered pharmacist; a doctor's prescriptions are always filled exactly according
to the way he intended they should be filled.

A CONTROVERSY ENDED

The officers and members of the Carpenters' District Council and the various local carpenters' and millmen's unions of Newton and vicinity, who were at one time engaged in conducting a strike against the mills of M. Frank Lucas and the Burnham Brothers of Newton, have entered into a stipulation which has been filed in the Superior Court, by the terms of which the members of the unions have agreed to cease all interference with the business of Mr. Lucas and the Burnham Brothers, and have promised that in the future they will not intimidate employees nor annoy customers of either firm and will refrain from all attempts to persuade builders to cancel contracts which they have with these establishments.

This stipulation has been made as a result of suits brought by Lucas and Burnham Brothers against Martin L. Chivers and other officers and members of the Carpenters' Union, in May, 1907. Injunctions were issued by the Superior Court in Equity on June 10, 1907, restraining the members of the Carpenters' District Council of Newton, the Millmen's Union, Local 1800, Carpenters' Locals 275 and 874 from unlawfully interfering with the business, employees or customers of Mr. Lucas and the Burnham Brothers and ordering them to refrain from picketing and from all interference with the contracts of either firm. These injunctions are still in effect and are specifically continued in their operation by the terms of the stipulations, which are the same as regards each employer, and are as given below:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
Middlesex ss.
Superior Court in Equity. No. 1627.
M. Frank Lucas vs. Martin L. Chivers, et al. and F. Parker Burnham vs. Martin L. Chivers, et al.
STIPULATION
Now comes Frederick W. Mansfield, attorney for all the defendants, and stipulates that until further order of the Court, the defendants, Martin L. Chivers, H. R. Robblee, Charles S. Nelson, William B. McCrudden, D. A. Raymond, James Orr, Charles H. Bryson, John Bryson, John Heald, Asa F. Leavitt, the members of Carpenters' District Council of Newton and vicinity, Carpenters' Union 275, Carpenters' and Millmen's Union 1800, and Carpenters' Union 874, will desist and refrain from interfering with the complainant's business, and from interfering with the complainant's business by threatening, annoying or hindering any person or persons transacting business with the complainant or desist from entering into contracts or other business relations with the complainant, and from persuading or endeavoring to persuade or induce any person or persons having contracts with the complainant to break the same, and from reporting or publishing the complainant as unfair. It is further understood by the parties to the above case that the temporary injunction now outstanding in said case shall remain in full force and effect and that all matters regarding and appertaining to said case shall remain in the same condition after, as they were in before, the filing of this stipulation.

N. H. S. NOTES

On Tuesday Newton played Boston

Latin and was defeated for the second time this season by a score of 6-0. The game was hard fought all through, Boston

Latin being unable to score until the last two minutes of play and then only with the aid of a penalty. O'Neil, Capt. Van Tassel and Barrows for Newton, and Capt. Cleary

for Boston Latin, played well.

The class of 1910 have elected the following officers: Lawrence Beckett of

Newton Centre, president; Miss Marion Willey of Newtonville, vice-president; Paul Smart of Newton Highlands,

treasurer; and Miss Dorothy

Emmons of Newton, secretary.

Curtis Delano, N. H. S., '08, and guard on the '08 football team, is playing a star game at tackle for the Cornell freshman team.

The P. B. Club held its annual initiation last week. It was a very quiet affair, owing to the recent death of Samuel Parks, one of the members.

The boys who were taken into the club were as follows: Joseph Beatty,

Steven Hopkins, Augustus Johnson,

Donald Proctor, and Dowd, all of Newtonville, and Joseph Flannagan and Ralph Barber, both of Newton.

The Gamma Sigma also held their initiation and took in the following fellows: Richard Sprague of Brook-

line, "Ted" Davis of Newton, Richard

Brown of Auburndale, Benjamin

Knowlton, Robert Burns, both of West

Newton, and Lawrence Beckett, and Charles Foster of Newton Centre.

KINGSBURY-McCOY

The marriage of Dr. Isaac William Kingsbury of Hartford, Conn., to Miss Edith L. McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Findley McCoy, of German-town, Penn., was solemnized on the evening of Oct. 17, at Park Hill, Yonkers, at the residence of the bride's cousin, Mr. Francis Ashbury Winslow, district attorney of Westchester county. Only the immediate families of the bride and groom—with most intimate friends, were present, some 70 in number.

The Rev. Dr. James E. Freeman of St. Andrew's Episcopal church of Yonkers-on-Hudson, officiated.

Francis Ashbury Winslow was master of honor and Dr. Hans Zinsner of New York City, best man.

Dr. Kingsbury is the son of City

Clerk, Col. I. F. Kingsbury of Newton

and Mrs. Kingsbury will be at home after Dec. 1st at Asylum avenue, Hartford, Conn., where Dr. Kingsbury is a practicing physician.

LEAHY-JONES

Miss Mary Helena Jones, the daughter of Mrs. Jane Jones, was married to Mr. William J. Leahy of Newton at seven o'clock Wednesday evening at the parochial residence of the Church of Our Lady, by Rev. Father Kelly.

The bride was gowned in cream al-

balzoon with white lace trimmings,

and carried bride's roses. Miss Maude

B. Gallichan of Newton was the maid of honor and wore white net over yellow silk and carried a bouquet of

white albatross. Mr. Edward H. Powers of Newton was the best man. The reception followed at the home of the bride, 21 Emerson street, until ten o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Leahy will make their home at 21 Emerson street

on their return from a wedding trip.

NEWTON BOAT CLUB

The Newton Boat Club has again

joined the Newton League Bowling

Tournament. The Bowling Committee

for the coming season has been appointed. Notices have been sent out for candidates to practice for the Big

Pin Tournament, and also candidates for the Boston Pin House Tournament.

Last year this club won the first prize for the Big Pin Tournament of the Newton League, and a great deal of interest is being taken to again win such honors for this season. It has also been learned that there is now an opportunity for eligible men to put in applications as members of this club, as the limited number has been extended, and there are a few vacan-

warded to the President, Mr. H. Alfred Hansen, Auburndale, Mass., or

Mr. Ernest Booth, Secretary, 246 Summer street, Boston, or any of the officers, or members of the club. Members of this club having the privilege of engaging the hall on open nights

for special parties for this season have taken advantage to the full extent, so that the Executive Committee has now arranged to extend further oppor-

unities on a number of the great demand for use of the hall for private parties. Applications should be sent in to Mr. Frank Booth, 7 Otis street, Boston.

There are a great many men who boast that they call a spade, a spade,

who are a little shy on the subject

when it comes to handling a spade.

—Mr. Preston Sampson of Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, has accepted a position with the Newton Trust Company at their Centre office.

—The Hale Union of the Unitarian church will hold its fortnightly meeting Sunday evening at 7.30. The primary subject of the session will be —The Farther Lights Circle held its opening meeting last Friday evening at the First Baptist church. An interesting address was delivered by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody.

—Mr. and Mrs. Morris Burke Parkinon announce the engagement of their daughter, Elsie Ellen, to Frank A. Arend of Waban. Miss Parkinon is a graduate of Newton High School of the '08 class.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Carter of Needham Heights announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miss Gertrude M. Farrand Carter, to Mr. Walter A. Brooks of Pelham street, Newton Centre.

—Harvest Vespers were held at the First church, Sunday, at 4 p. m., consisting of a special and attractive program, including selections from "A Song of Thanksgiving," by Mr. J. H. Maund. The choir was substantially assisted by the Sunday-school.

—Mr. Edward P. Hunt of Knowles street injured his right leg by a fall from his bicycle the early part of this week. Unfortunately, it was the limb which had just recovered its normal state after a severe break. His friends extend their hearty sympathy to him over his misfortune.

—An alarm of fire was sent in from box 74 Sunday evening, when a tongue of flame was seen to shoot from an automobile owned by Thomas I. Woods of 7 Ivy street, South Boston, which was passing through Beacon street, near Hancock avenue, Newton Centre. The flames did little damage, however, and the services of the firemen were not required.

—Dr. Francis J. Kelcher of Centre street has been appointed instructor in medical jurisprudence in the medical branch of Tufts college. He came to this village about two years ago and his friends come with alacrity to congratulate him, although he will be greatly missed. The doctor's training in the medical profession was attained at Harvard university, receiving the degrees with the class of '06.

—While walking on Commonwealth avenue last Wednesday morning, Theophilus Aitken, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Aitken of 14 Irving street, was stricken with a hemorrhage and passed away before medical attendance could be procured. Mr. Aitken was twenty-two years old, and had been in failing health for some time. The funeral services were held this afternoon at his late residence at 2 p. m., Rev. L. J. Birney officiating. The interment will be at Prince Edward Island, his former home.

"CHAUTAQUA DISCOVERED"

At the residence of Mrs. H. C. Hardon on Wednesday, Mrs. Isabella Hardon gave an account of her visit to the summer school in New York, which she described as "Chautauqua discovered." The audience included members of the Boston Bowling Club, the New England Women's Club, the Social Science Club, and other prominent representatives of various organizations. The cool breezes from the lake, freedom from the almost omnipresent mosquito, modern appliances for lighting and drainage, abundant opportunities for recreation and out-door amusements were mentioned as attractions, besides the literary, musical, religious and physical culture courses offered to students, while lectures and entertainments of every desirable kind are provided to suit persons of all ages and conditions. Tea was served by the hostess, and many questions in regard to the feasibility of joining in the re-discovery of Chautauqua were responded to by the lecturer, and those present unanimously voiced the opinion that a larger opportunity should be given Mrs. Hardon to tell her charming story.

Mr. Pitt F. Parker will give an illustrated talk Sunday afternoon at 3.15 p. m. All men are invited.

The Women's Auxiliary meets Wednesday afternoon at 3.00. Three young men who spent two or more weeks at Camp Becket will tell about this camp, where so many of our Newton boys spend their summer.

Mr. Louis D. Gibbs, a former Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican, gave an interesting talk on Wednesday evening on "The Wheels of a Presidential Campaign." Mr. Gibbs showed the similarity between present-day campaigns and those of a hundred years ago, and then gave some interesting personal experiences during the 1904 campaign. The address will be printed in full in an early issue of the GRAPHIC.

RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas Wade held their wedding reception yesterday afternoon and last evening at their beautiful new home on Newtonville avenue. Some 400 guests called during the day to offer congratulations and best wishes. The house was decorated with potted palms and ferns and a stringed quartet, under the direction of Mr. Ellis Porter, provided the music. Mr. and Mrs. Wade were assisted in receiving by Mrs. C. A. Galloway of New York. In the dining-room Miss Isabelle Melville and Mrs. Florence White poured, and they were assisted in serving by Miss Edna Robbins, Mrs. John Buck and Miss Dyer. Mr. and Mrs. Wade were married on Thursday, June 18th, at the South Congregational church, Boston, and Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale was the officiating clergyman. Mr. Wade is a well-known musician and organist of Channing church.

WORK FOR FIREMEN

Two fires in the woods on the south side of this city gave the firemen and employees of the highway and water departments a hard battle for several hours Sunday afternoon. The fires were brought under control only after they had spread over considerable woodland and one of them had ignited a peat bog.

The first fire broke out about 1 o'clock in the woods between Newton Highlands and Waban, off Beacon street. The blaze had gained a good start when an alarm was sounded from box 711. The extremely dry brush burned like tinder. Fanned by a gentle breeze the fire spread rapidly. The firemen saw that in order to get the blaze under control it would be necessary to attack it with a large force, and a large detail of employees of the highway and water departments were summoned to assist in the work. By digging a trench ahead of the fire and attacking the flames with brooms and other implements while the firemen wet down the trees and brush the blaze was finally conquered. It had, however, spread into a peat bog, which, it is believed, is likely to burn until the next rain storm.

While this fire was in progress another other lively woods fire started in the Oak hill district, near the West Roxbury line, and here a detail of employees of the highway and water departments assisted the firemen in digging trenches and building back fires, extinguishing the blaze after a hard fight. During the afternoon a peat fire started off Waltham street, West Newton, and burned for a long time. How the fires in the woods on the south side started is not known, but it is believed that they were probably caused by persons who had tramped through the woods and thoughtlessly dropped matches or cigars into the underbrush. It is thought that the peat fires were set by boys.

Alaska Seal Garments

Again in Vogue

It is a now a well known fact that sealskin garments are to be worn and will be more fashionable this year than ever before.

In London, Paris and New York the demand is such that the skins are hard to obtain even at much advanced prices. We took advantage of the market immediately following the business depression at the beginning of the year, and hold today the largest stock of seals of any retailing house in this country. Alaska seals have always been a specialty with us and while our present stock lasts, which is composed of the finest Alaskas obtainable, we shall give our customers the benefit of our purchase at prices which are lower than they will be again for some time to come.

DEATH OF MISS NELSON

Miss Mary Roberta Nelson died suddenly Tuesday morning at the Newton hospital where she had gone in company with a friend, "Kate," as she was known by her relatives and friends, had been companion for Mrs. Walter White of Franklin street for a number of years and was a woman of sunny and lovable disposition, endearing herself to all who knew her. Deceased was a native of St. John, New Brunswick. She was a regular attendant at Grace church and the funeral was held there, Thursday afternoon, at 2.30. Rev. Laurens MacLure officiating. There were many relatives and friends present and numerous floral tributes. The interment was in Newton cemetery.

THE HIGHER PATRIOTISM

Rev. J. C. Jaynes Defines Civic Duty

"Finally my brethren put on the whole armor of God, * * * and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness; and your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace; and take the shield of faith; * * * and the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit which is the word of God." Eph. VI. 10-17.

In these words the Apostle is undoubtedly describing the moral equipment of a soldier of the Cross. He is speaking of citizenship in the Kingdom of God. I do not presume to say that he was thinking of the duties of civil life. But I believe it will be no serious perversion of his words if we use them today as the appropriate description of patriotic citizenship. For the true citizen of the Kingdom of God is the best citizen of a Christian state. And the best citizen of a Christian state stands forth as the highest type of civic devotion and genuine patriotism.

We define patriotism as the love for one's country. But what is one's country? It is not mere territory. It is something more than "rocks and hills" and "woods and temples and hills." It consists of traditions, memories and associations. It consists of institutions and customs, of rights and liberties and privileges guaranteed by the power which resides in a common national life. It is all these, sanctifying the soil and idealizing woods and hills that make a country.

And when men standing hand in hand, are touched by these common associations, when they look out upon these common interests and this common history, there wells up in their hearts the warming quickening currents of patriotic feeling.

In this country the patriotic sentiment has had exceptional opportunity for expression and growth.

Born under the favorable conditions which a new land affords, cradled in isolation from the old world, fostered by conflicts for defense, by community of interests, by pride of strength, by democratic ideas and the assurance of a great destiny, patriotism, as a commanding power in the popular heart, has developed to a remarkable degree.

I think it is safe to say that in no other nation of the world is the love of country so deep-seated and at the same time so near to the surface, so easily moved, so ready on demand as it is in this republic.

It is not strange therefore that our patriotism in its unrestrained development has grown luxuriantly and has run out into grotesque and distorted forms. Side by side with the genuine love of country we can see certain types of spurious patriotism which pose as the higher sentiment and which, to the shame of every true citizen, are too often accepted as worthy and good.

One of those forms is a bitter and vociferous prejudice against other nations. There are Americans who imagine that they are showing the highest respect for their own government by abusing the government of another people. They fancy that in their unquenchable hostility to lands across the sea they are pledging a larger loyalty to their own. They pace to and fro before their own door-step, equipped for war, muttering terrible oaths, shouting defiance and interpreting every foreign overture as a menace in disguise.

That, indeed, is a spurious patriotism. I need not love my neighbor less because I love my fireside more. Nay, rather the very love I bear my home should make me all the more magnanimous to wish my neighbor joy and peace in his. And so, indeed the very pride of country ought to save us from this petty spite and hate. It is all unfair, unbecoming and un-American. It is the cheap effusion of the mean and paltry mind. Indeed, vigilance is required and national preference must be maintained and men must never sink down into that flabby and nerveless indifference where all national distinctions are lost. But generous national rivalry is one thing and mean petulant prejudice is another. All nations are bound together by mutual interests, and the hurt of one is the hurt of all. And to wish one's country success at the cost of another is to ignore the greater law of social life; and that man has not yet learned the alphabet of patriotic devotion who measures his loyalty to his own flag by his contempt for the flags of other peoples.

And that also is a spurious patriotism, which closes its eyes to its country's faults and blindly believes that it is infallible and can never go astray. There is an egotism of the individual which makes him oblivious to his own imperfections and insufferable to his fellow men. There is also a civic egotism which often seizes upon many a self-styled patriot and paralyzes his critical faculties, exaggerates his ideas of national virtue and dulls his vision to the mistakes of private or country. We have seen him in party and public affairs. We have seen the boasting, provincial American. We have seen the unteachable partisan. We have seen the man who loved his country so unwisely as to gloss her sins and ignore her follies.

But the love that drowns the voice of conscience in patriotic noise or the love that forgets its five senses when Satan moves to attack is a love in such poor estate, that it has lost the power of salvation and has become a menace and a danger.

"My country right or wrong?" Yes and no! No if you mean unrepentant acquiescence in her unrighteousness. Yes, if you mean the honest recognition of her error and then standing by her in the hour of humiliation to uplift and to save.

Holding the axels of protection over national crimes is not patriotism. Approving in the body politic what you would condemn in the private citizen is not patriotism. Standing silently on guard while politicians are removing the Decalogue and the Sermon on the Mount from our code of public ethics is not patriotism.

The vanity of bigness, the obstinacy of partisanship, the bluster of freedom, the fanaticism that blurs the distinctions of right and wrong are not patriotic qualities.

Let us call them by any other name but never by the honorable and sacred name of patriotism.

What then are the qualities of patriotism? How does the true lover of his country express his affection and manifest his loyalty? Do you reply that the true patriot is ever ready to buckle on his sword and die in the battle storm for his country's cause? I accept your answer. It is right and true. To be willing for the sake of the nation's welfare to exchange a civilian's life for a soldier's grave, to stand uncovered beneath the flag and solemnly to say: "If need be I will shed my blood for you," is indeed a token of the ideal patriotism. Every true man responds to that sentiment. Every true man who loves home and freedom and native land, counts life as cheap when they are in jeopardy. War indeed is only the old-time fight in the jungle, regulated by the etiquette of civilization. It is the absurd, insane, wickedest method of settling disputes ever devised.

But force to execute the right must always be behind the right. There are times when it must be exercised. There are times when war is better than peace. There are crises when a nation must choose between the hell of battle and the paradise of dishonor, and then the man who demurs, the man who dallies with the temptation of a disgraceful ease, is not worthy of the country which he pretends to love.

But too often the idea of battle-sacrifice has monopolized the idea of patriotism. They have been regarded as equal and co-extensive. The part has been taken for the whole. Patriotism has been clothed in military array and girded with a sword, and tradition has woven around it the romance of battle pageant and martial music and valorous deeds, until a portion of the world has come to believe that the only fitting personification of national loyalty is a man in uniform carrying the flag into the mouth of the enemy's guns. All honor to that man. But if he be a true patriot, he will be the first one to admit that this daring sacrifice is only a part of his duties as a loyal citizen. On the home side of the fighting line there are vast areas of civil life, where war clouds are never seen and the drum-beat is never heard, and yet where patriotism is as imperative as the command of God.

Here the lover of his country is also to stand, fighting not with weapons of steel, but in the armor of a sane and steadfast manhood.

It is time to proclaim this larger thought of patriotism with new emphasis and more aggressive power. It is time to teach it to our boys who will be the guardians of liberty when you and I are gone. It is time to impress it anew upon our own hearts and minds as we build up that political heritage which we must transmit to their keeping.

For never in the history of this republic has there been a greater call for men of undimmed vision, of sound minds, and brave, true hearts than there is today.

We are a great nation, we have vast resources, we are amassing fabulous wealth, and the savor of our prosperity is drawing to our shores multitudes of people ignorant of our traditions and our institutions.

Amid all this confusion, created by the struggle for money and power, by the conflict of political parties, by the friction of race with race, we are trying to solve the problems of democratic government. We embrace all the elements of success; all the elements of failure. It is the greatest political spectacle which the world has ever seen. We have not failed, and yet we have not entirely succeeded. The powers of destruction were never more alive than now.

Our worst enemies are not foreign but domestic, not in the old world but in our own household. Our most vital problems are not in our relations with foreign lands, not in the Pacific islands, but here at home, in New York and Boston and Chicago and Philadelphia, in St. Louis, in the halls of Congress, in the manipulation of the suffrage of the people, in the promotion of that public sentiment which stands back of all legislation and determines both law and its enforcement.

Here patriotism finds its legitimate and permanent work. It appeals to men as never before to enlist in the country's service, not to die for it but to live for it, not merely to salute the flag at sunrise and sunset, but between salutes to rear a state over which it may proudly float.

It asks in the first place, that men shall make themselves intelligent enough to know the reasons for the political convictions they hold. Knowledge alone, certainly can not save a people from political sins. But it is the light that shows the way. And in a country like our own, where the popular will is the ultimate seat of authority, public opinion must be based on a knowledge of our institutions, on an understanding of what the government is and what the flag stands for, or else the sentiment of patriotism becomes an irresponsible force, ever a source of danger, ever at the mercy of the demagogue and the party boss. It is not enough that a man be born on the soil, it is not enough that he take the oath of allegiance, it is not enough that he follow in the political footsteps of his father to perpetuate the family loyalty. Patriotism asks more and requires more. It demands that a man shall know why, shall be capable of independent judgment, shall understand the duties of citizenship, and shall intelligently enjoy and rationally maintain the rights and liberties which he accepts at his country's hands.

Then again patriotism requires from the citizen personal activity and sacrifices. Life in America is full of splendid opportunities, full of manly effort, full of noble promise for the future. But these very conditions furnish temptation for strong and forceful men to devote themselves entirely to their individual interests and to give no care to the public good. Many of us are so busy making money, so engrossed in personal ambitions, so devoted to private enterprises that we have no time, no strength, no inclination to make our influence felt in the administration of civic affairs.

It is true we have patriotic spasms. In times of Presidential campaigns, in times of war, in times of exceptional excitement we arouse to action, but in these periods when the call is for only simple prosaic service, many of us are faithless and unconcerned. "Ah," we say, "things will come out all right," and we sit back and delude ourselves into believing that there is a certain abstract government at Washington, and an abstract Congress and an abstract state legislation and an abstract city council and an abstract ward caucus that will somehow manage affairs aright, without the help of concrete men of wisdom and honor. And so we go about our business; and while we are about our business the unscrupulous politician is about his. And thus it happens that the good man's indifference becomes the bad man's opportunity and when the right man lets go the wrong man takes hold.

It is strange, then, that fraud and corruption pass in, where there is no one to challenge their entrance? Is it strange that politics has lost its reputation and openly connives at iniquity? Is that politics has lost its reputation and openly connives at iniquity? Is it strange that in foreign lands American Democracy is often associated with incompetency and bribery and rings and machines and municipal despots of the Tammany order.

Can you wonder, if more and more the best citizens neglect their political duties, that the time will come when, as Lowell says, "the door to distinction shall be made so narrow and so low as to admit only petty and crouching men?"

Patriotism then asks for personal sacrifice—asks that a man shall feel and act as if he were for the country and not alone the country for him. The loyal citizen is expected to be loyal not only in great emergencies but also in the common-place obligations of civil life, not only to keep the law and pay his taxes but also to take his full share of public work and responsibility. And to withhold that service is to weaken the strength of government, to encourage dishonesty and wrong, is to confess himself indifferent to the welfare of the very power that makes his prosperity and freedom possible.

But if patriotism calls for activity and sacrifice, it calls also for courage. There is a courage of the martyr at the stake, of the soldier on the field of battle. But there is a courage quite as noble and sublime which dares to rebuke wrong in high places and to stand erect in condemnation of national and party sins.

dividual shame, and its glory his individual joy." And the converse is just as true. His disgrace will be the nation's shame, and his honor the nation's dignity and pride. For just as the mountain brook, by the quality of its water helps to determine how sweet and pure shall be the great river into which it flows, so you and I by the character of what we are help to make the country what it is. Everywhere the true man is the true citizen. And out of the pure and honest life of the true citizen grows that patriotic virtue which flowers and fruits in noble service.

Intelligence, courage, manly character, personal sacrifice behind the guns or before the ballot box—these are the elements of that patriotism which nerves to knightly deeds on fields of war or peace. But what we need today is not so much the noble frenzy shown in battle hours as that grave and calmer loyalty which makes and keeps a nation pure.

Never so long as Anglo-Saxon blood prevails, shall we want for valiant hands to hold the sword, but what we want more than armed battalions, is a phalanx of men reaching from shore to shore, pledged to give their daily strength to the nation's public life. These are the patriots for whom the country calls. And here in the superb enterprise of making the greatest republic in the world, here in this vast field of social and political life, where treachery asks office and assassins swear allegiance and base ambition buys and sells the sacred rights of citizens and soulless greed befools the springs of civic life with bribery and fraud—here the higher patriotism will find its deadliest foes, meet its opportunity to perform its grandest tasks and hear the bugle call to arms sounding through all the days and years.

And the time will come—is not the dawning hour here?—when the civic conscience shall rouse itself anew and the latent strength of a righteous people shall be realized, not in violent crusades of retribution but in the slow and normal conquest of the forces of evil.

There are people in this land who look up at a midnight sky and see no stars of hope to relieve the gloom. They hear only the sounds of war and

SUBURBAN LIFE.

There is something for every member of the family in Suburban Life for November, this number being one of the most entertaining as well as one of the most complete ever issued by this handsome publication. The leading article is by Dr. Liberty H. Bailey, Dean of the Agricultural College of Cornell University, in which is discussed the problem of teaching the children to enjoy the out-of-doors.

"When the Women Got Busy," is a California civic improvement article of more than usual interest.

"Strange Creatures of the American Sahara," is written in George Wharton James' always clever style.

"The Cry for Civic Help," is an important contribution from the pen of J. Horace McFarland, President of The American Civic Association.

"The Grain in the Wood and How it Gets There," is an enlightening as well as entertaining article.

"Five Acres and Contentment," tells how one man is making a good living from a small plot of ground.

Particular attention is given in this number to the matter of home amusements. Some of the articles along this line are: "A Serial Paget Party," "A Woodland Halloween," "A Club-room for the Boys and Girls at Home," "Making a Home Gymnasium," "The Stereopticon in the Home," and "A Halloween Party."

REMARKABLE SHOOTING

On Saturday last, October 24th, at the 1000 yards range at Walnut Hill, possible 50, were made by Mr. J. S. four consecutive scores of ten shots each, making 46, 47, 48, 49, out of a Summer of Newton, with a 30 calibre rifle, shot without artificial rest, using peep and globe sights.

Although Mr. Sumner is in his 70th year he still retains his skill as a marksman.

COMPLIMENT FOR MR. HUBBARD

Mr. Fred A. Hubbard of Newton, who recently completed five years' service as a member of the State Board of Pharmacy, has been complimented by his colleagues on the board in the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That in accordance with the law regulating the term of office of the Board of Registration in Pharmacy, this board has lost one of its most valuable members in Mr. Fred A. Hubbard, whose term of office expired October 1, 1908. Mr. Hubbard has given to the board the best of assistance as president and secretary. Not only has he been vigilant in elevating the profession of pharmacy and seeing executed the laws relating thereto in this Commonwealth, but has reflected additional honor to the State as president of the National Board of Pharmacy in advocating and bringing about a unity of action that will make possible in the near future a reciprocal exchange of certificates of registration. It is on his recommendation that several amendments to the pharmacy laws have been enacted which have and will benefit the public and the profession of pharmacy, and in losing him, the board loses a helpful colleague and the State a conscientious servant.

Therefore be it RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this board, also that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. Hubbard.

DR. REED ENTERTAINS

A very pretty affair occurred on the evening of Wednesday, October 22nd, when Dr. Clara D. Whitman-Reed entertained the Woman's Twentieth Century Medical Club at her residence, 140 Church street, Newton.

There was a short business meeting, during which the incoming president, Dr. Mary E. Mosher, of Roxbury outlined her plan for the year's scientific work. This was followed by a social reunion among the members of the club. Just before supper was announced, Miss Whitman, daughter of the hostess, distributed among the guests, pink of various shades, after which Dr. Reed announced that those having flowers of similar colors were to be partners at supper. As the ladies passed into the dining-room, they found it illuminated by the soft light of many candles, which revealed little tables for two and four, with decorations of vari-colored pinks. As the brighter lights were turned on, the guests found their way to the tables, whose colors they wore. Covers were laid for twenty. Instead of the usual name-card, there was, at each place, a handsomely decorated card bearing on its face "Woman's Twentieth Century Medical Club, October 21st, 1908," and on the reverse, a toast or sentiment appropriate to woman or to the medical profession.

Dr. Reed was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Whitman, her friend, Miss Maudson, and Mr. Richardson of Hyde Park, a friend of the family.

The company of physicians did ample justice to the dishes, both dainty and substantial, which were placed before them (for doctors are proverbially good diners), and, throwing aside professional care for the time, gave themselves up to jollity and the delights of good comradeship. When coffee was served, the hostess asked the guests to read aloud the toasts on the backs of the place-cards, the president, Dr. Mosher, leading off; and as the sentiments, grave or gay, were given by the clubmembers, a laugh went round or a shade of sadness sobered, for a moment, the happy faces.

At a late hour the company separated to go to their homes in other suburbs, or in the city proper, leaving to Dr. Reed, together with expressions of their enjoyment of the evening's pleasure, a beautiful fern, which should speak to her in their absence, of hearty friendliness and sincere esteem.

MISSIONARY INSTITUTE

A Missionary Institute will be held in the Congregational church at Newton Highlands, under the auspices of the missionary committee of the Newton Christian Endeavor Union, next Monday evening, Nov. 2, at 7.45 o'clock; for the purpose of discussing the problems which confront the Christian Endeavor societies of this city and vicinity in their missionary work. It is expected that the membership of the institute will include the president, the chairman of the missionary committee, and one delegate from each of the Christian Endeavor societies in Newton. Invitations have been extended to some fifteen clergymen and other persons specially interested in this line of work, to be present as guests of the institute. The chief purpose of the meeting is to promote sympathetic cooperation among the Christian Endeavor societies of the city.

At the conclusion of the more formal exercises, there will be a social hour, with light refreshments and special music.

The program provides for the principal address of the evening to be delivered by Prof. Amos H. Wells of Auburndale, the widely known leader of the Christian Endeavor movement.

LASELL SEMINARY

Mr. Leon Vincent will give the third of his series of lectures on Tennyson's "Idylls of the King," at Lasell seminary, Auburndale, on Thursday evening, November 5th, at 7.45 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends.

WALTHAM ROAD RACE.

Saturday afternoon, October 31st the P. P. Adams Road Run will take place at Waltham. From the number of entries received there is no doubt that it will be one of the most exciting races of the kind ever run hereabouts. The course is 6 1/2 miles—starting from a point opposite the Waltham Common on Main street, up Main street to South, following South street to South avenue, Weston; thence to Commonwealth avenue to Lexington street, Auburndale, through Lexington street to Moody street, Waltham, finishing in front of the P. P. Adams store.

Some of the fastest runners in this vicinity have entered for the race which is a handicap event. The race is patronized solely by P. P. Adams whose interest in athletics sports gave rise to the idea.

The prizes include—a handsome gold Waltham watch, suit case, sweater, Regal shoes, signet ring, umbrella, silver cup and link cuff buttons to every contestant who finishes. The silver cup is a special time prize offered by the clerks in the Adams store. Plan to come to Waltham, Saturday, afternoon, October 31st.

THE HIGHER PATRIOTISM.

strife and victories wrong and believe the chariot wheels of God are rolling back-ward.

But this is not the hour for despair. The true patriot never dies of a broken heart. When the darkness falls he strikes a light. When the enemy is strong he takes a firmer hold. When men cry the degeneracy of the times, he still reads the reassuring message that the eternal moralities have not lost their place in the onward march of man.

As one stands in that famous Loggia flanking the ancient square of Florence he sees before him, gleaming in the sunlit foreground marble groups of contorted figures, representing rapine and murder and the supremacy of evil passion. But turning and looking within the shadowy recesses of the arcade he beholds a different scene. Far back against the wall, concealed in the dim twilight are the chiseled statues of Faith and Hope, Temperance, Justice and Love. There they stand in attitudes of perfect repose, looking out with calm untroubled eyes, upon all the strife and struggle of the street—as if to assure every doubting human soul that behind the peridy and pain of the world there still abide the changeless and eternal qualities of God in man.

So it is forever true that "God is on the field when he is most invisible" and underneath the superficial discords of men and things are the deep harmonies of an orderly progress toward better days. Who knows? Already it may be the Almighty is forging in the fires of human strife, the instruments of a world-wide blessing. Who knows? It may be that these very plague spots of public life are provoking a public sentiment which shall redeem their moral poverty and give at last an answer to the poet's prayer: "O God make no more giants, but elevate the race."

Let us hope for that. Let us believe that it is on the way. Let us strive together to bring it to pass. And we can show no truer patriotism, we can manifest no higher loyalty to our country, our religion, our God, than to stand in the complete armor of simple manhood, contending for the great realities of righteousness in private and public life, proclaiming our faith in the widening domain of truth and love and holding to the belief, that, however often right may mount the scaffold and wrong may mount the throne, yet "The scaffold sways the future, And behind the dim unknown Standeth God within the shadow Keeping watch above his own."

ORGAN RECITAL.

The Massachusetts State Federation will meet at Bridgewater on November third. Mrs. Margaret J. Blair, head of the Domestic Art Department of the Minnesota State Agricultural School, will speak on "Home-making as an Art." In the afternoon Miss Carolyn L. Hunt, author of "Home Problems from a new Standpoint," will take the place of Mr. Melville Dewey previously announced. Blue Federation tickets will be necessary for admission to others than delegates. Trains leave Boston at 8.43 and 12.43, returning leave Bridgewater at 4.07. Special round-trip tickets at 83 cents each will be good only on these trains.

The Civics committee of the State Federation will hold a Civics conference at Perkins Hall, Boston, on November 11 at 2.30. All Civics committees in the federated clubs are urged to be represented.

The Social Science Club will hold its first meeting of the season on Wednesday morning, November 4, at ten o'clock. Reports of the Ninth Biennial and regular monthly business.

The Waban Woman's Club will hold its first meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Arthur M. Crain, 1564 Beacon street, on Monday, November second.

The Newton Mothers' Club is considering the subject of Story-Telling this season. At the October meeting, held with Mrs. A. P. Carter, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden told Bible Stories. The club meets with Mrs. E. K. Hall at three o'clock on November 2nd.

At the October meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation it was voted to pay from the proceeds of "Tag-Day" the expense of erecting a portable house on the hospital grounds, to be used for an outpatient department for tuberculosis patients. The Federation has already provided several tents and other outdoor apparatus for the home use of patients. The Federation is desirous of being informed of tuberculosis cases, especially where they can be of assistance. Cases should be reported to Mrs. B. E. Taylor, 233 Grant avenue, Newton Centre.

The Ladies' Home Circle will meet with Mrs. H. H. Hunt, 24 Webster street, West Newton, on Tuesday afternoon, November 3, at two o'clock.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands met with Mrs. Annie P. Sweetser of Wellesley Hills on October 26. Six new members were admitted. Papers were given on Louis XIV, Pascal and Richelieu. Mrs. H. B. Walker of Hillsdale road will be the hostess next week.

The Newton Equal Suffrage League met with Mrs. G. F. Lowell, Walnut street, Newtonville, on Monday evening, October 26. Rev. S. R. Vinton, a returned missionary, spoke on "Women in Burma." Mr. Vinton comes of a missionary family, being the third generation. He wore the Burmese costume and exhibited other styles of dress as well, and showed some beautiful embroideries. In speaking of the women, he said that some of the property rights of wives are superior to certain laws in this country, but on the whole the women are greatly inferior to the men. Mrs. Carota Sabl Von Kock told of the Political Condition of Swedish Women. The program was followed by a social hour with light refreshments. The League has nearly doubled its membership in the last year. It aims to spread the knowledge of suffrage by distributing literature to those who otherwise would not receive it. Toward this end it sent members to the Brookline Fair, where they handed out literature to all who came and it has continued this work at the Food Fair. The League seeks to arouse interest in the practical reforms of the day and devotes one meeting to the recognition of what the leaders who have passed on have done for this generation.

CONFERENCE OF PRESIDENTS

The Massachusetts State Federation is inaugurating a new plan of meetings this year with the hope of increasing its helpfulness to the individual clubs. Instead of the usual meetings and a Conference of Presidents in December there will be but three public meetings and two conferences, the first of which was held at Hotel Vendome, Boston, on Saturday, October 24th. Those invited to the first conference included the officers, executive board and members of the standing committees of the Federation, the presidents of the local clubs belonging to the Federation, and the chairman of the Biennial committee. The second conference will be held near the close of the season and at that time the secretaries of the local clubs will also be invited.

On Saturday morning last the Vendome was thronged with club women, as many of the standing committees embraced the opportunity to hold meetings of their committees, as did also the executive board of the Federation. Following those a reception was held in the state suite, the Federation officers comprising the receiving line. A buffet luncheon was served, after which the Conference was called to order by Miss George A. Bacon, the new president of the Federation. The first hour was given to a discussion of the Ninth Biennial; What we gave, What we received. Miss Helen A. Whittier in speaking of What we gave, said that it was the largest convention of women which has ever been held in this country. The committees all had harder tasks than any like committees had ever had before. She commended the work that was done and mentioned the words of appreciation that were heard on all sides from the guests. She felt that never before had the Biennial been held amidst so historic a setting and never had there been such an opportunity for excursions as Boston offers. The whole manner in which arrangements were carried out was a splendid exhibition of "team work."

Miss Elizabeth Willgoose, president of the Monday Club of Needham, spoke of what the small club received, and Mrs. Clara T. Jackson, president of the largest club in the Federation, the Middlesex Women's Club of Lowell, spoke from the standpoint of the large club, while Mrs. Caroline S. Atherton, first vice-president of the Federation, summed up the benefits derived from this wonderful gathering.

Letters were read from various officers of the General Federation and other guests, commending the hospitality which Boston proffered.

Miss Bacon announced a surprise in the shape of a surplus from the Biennial Fund. The Local Biennial Board had estimated the amount necessary for entertaining the Biennial, making generous allowance for higher prices in Boston over other places of meeting, as $10,000. The clubs contributed $13,357.20. The actual expenses had amounted to but a little over $7,000, so there remains in the treasury a surplus of $6,000. What to do with this surplus is now the question? The Executive Board of the Federation, the Local Biennial Board having dissolved, recommends that it be turned over to the Emergency Fund of the Federation which was created from the proceeds of the Federation Bazaar several years ago. The Conference endorsed this recommendation and recommends it to the next meeting of the Federation to be held at Bridgewater on November third. This fund is used for various enterprises in which the Federation is interested, an industrial fellowship, settlement work among the Tennessee mountaineers, while the Model School in Georgia has been put on its feet by its help.

The second hour of the conference was taken up with an informal discussion of ways in which the Federation can be of service to the clubs. The reception at the home of Mrs. William T. Rich of Sargent street rendered the members of the Social Science Club on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, Mrs. W. F. Ellison and Mrs. W. T. Rich, the social committee of the club, was a happy innovation and a delightful affair. Mrs. Rich's spacious home lent itself admirably to the occasion. Everywhere were potted plants and chrysanthemums in profusion. The hostesses of the afternoon, together with Mrs. H. H. Powers, president of the club, welcomed the guests. At intervals during the afternoon, Mrs. W. Alden Hall accompanied by Miss Marian Bell of West Newton, charmed the ladies with her songs. The dining-room was presided over by the former presidents of the club, assisted by some of the younger members.

Mr. William Halliday of Linden street is studying law at the Boston Y. M. C. A.

Mr. J. Kempton of Elliot street is critically ill at his home with stomach trouble.

The Young Ladies' Aid met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Gulliver on Rockland place.

Mrs. Richard Probert, who has been visiting Mr. Harry Tompkins of Oak street has returned to her home at Laconia, N. H.

On Wednesday evening the Wesley Bible Class held their annual meeting in the vestry of the Methodist church. The following officers were elected: President, Edward Wildman; vice-president, William Warren; Edward Alexander, secretary; C. A. Chadwick, assistant secretary; Oliver Billings, treasurer; Daniel Duval, class representative.

On Tuesday morning, after a short but painful illness, Mrs. Hugh Moses of Chestnut street died at the Newton hospital with acute nephritis. Deceased was 23 years of age and has been a resident of this village for the last 8 years, coming here as a bride, and by her kindly disposition and charitable acts made many friends who will mourn their loss. She is survived by her husband and daughter. Funeral services were held from her late home on Wednesday, Rev. George McCombe conducting the services and there was singing by a mixed quartet.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY

A well-attended Democratic rally, the first held during the present campaign in this city, took place last night in Central hall, Newtonville. Daniel O'Connell, chairman of the city committee, presiding.

The principal speakers were M. T. O'Brien, former city solicitor of Portland, Me.; William H. Dietzman of Clinton, Dr. E. W. Brown of Revere and Martin T. Hall of Natick.

Mr. O'Brien said that in the past 12 years the Republican administrations have been destructive ones. He called upon the Republican party to publish the contributions to its national and congressional committees previous to election.

Each speaker warmly praised the record in the senate of James H. Vahey and predicted that he will roll up a surprising vote in the state election for governor. Representative Hall of Natick, who is a candidate for the senate to succeed Mr. Vahey, was given an ovation.

WAGON SMASHED

An express wagon loaded with grapes intended for a Natick winery was struck by an electric car about four o'clock Tuesday morning on the Washington street railroad bridge at Newton. The wagon wheel was crushed and the load dumped upon the street. The wagon and grapes remained there until about ten o'clock when street employees removed them to an adjoining lot of land. The wagon was owned by Joseph Clebone of Boston.

NO SCHOOL TO-DAY

The school sessions were discontinued to-day to allow the teachers to attend the meeting of the Middlesex County Teachers' Institute, held at Tremont Temple, Boston.

NEWTON LEAGUE

The Newton Bowling League began its winter season Wednesday evening with matches between Neighborhood and North Gate at the former's club house, where North Gate captured two games, but their hosts rolled up the splendid total of 2,502. Ball of North Gate winning individual honors with 550. Newton Boat Club lost all three games to the Riverdale, and Allston Golf won two from Maugus.

Last Saturday the Lincoln A. A. played the Harlow A. C. of Dorchester to a no score.

Since the visitors were never defeated, scored upon, it furnished a very interesting game.

On Saturday, Oct. 31, they play the South Boston A. C. at Cabot park, and a hard game is anticipated, since the South Boston team has never been defeated.

POLICE

An inquest on the death of Irving T. Farnham, city engineer of Newton for many years, took place Wednesday forenoon. Associate Judge Copeland of the police court presiding. Mr. Farnham was found hanging in the basement of his home in West Newton the morning of Sept. 26. The case was pronounced a suicide.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Sunday, November 1st, at 3.15, Mr. Macpherson, the physical director, will speak, Subject, Who Won? Next Sunday Prof. Hendricks will play the only Lyric Harp in existence, his own invention.

50 men gathered in spite of the rainy evening last Wednesday, at the rooms for a social time. A trio of musicians, led by Geo. King, rendered fine music throughout the evening.

E. O. Childs, Jr., chairman of the social committee, introduced Dr. M. E. Gleason, Louis F. LaRose and Allan C. Emery, who spoke.

The class work is proving to be very interesting. Special attention is being given to beginners, also advanced work to those who wish it.

The Leaders' Corps have adapted for class work the graded gymnasium exercises by G. M. Martin; these were adapted by the physical directors' society of North America.

A meeting of physical directors representing Newton, Salem, Boston, Cambridge and Somerville, was held this last week, and plans were made to hold a combination athletic and gymnastic meet once a month. The first one will be held in Boston, Nov. 17th. All standard events will be used. This is a great opportunity for those wishing to train for athletics.

The basketball teams are fast getting into shape, many of the old men are coming back, also many new ones.

THE ART OF HOME FURNISHING

During the past 20 years Boston has advanced rapidly in the scope of its business, and new blood and healthy life seems everywhere prevalent. By its growth our merchants have entirely outgrown every limit of the past, and the vigor of the present is characterized by a display of the successful results of energy and enterprise on a par with other large cities of the East. In no case has there been a more emphatic evidence of the development of business houses into the enterprising firm of Allen, Hall & Co., whose place of business is at 334 Boylston street, and who make a specialty of the art of home furnishing, and their large experience in beautifying and furnishing homes enables them to anticipate their patrons' wishes and in every instance please them. The increase of trade as each year goes by and the largeness of custom with which they are favored are the natural incidents where merchants gain and hold the confidence of their patrons. Their new plan of business enables them to suit every taste and to supply novel and exclusive effects. Every one who is interested will be sure of a cordial welcome if they call. They can certainly make your home cozy and artistic and their charges are invariably fair and just.

CITIZENS CAN HELP.

Egg Cluster of Gypsy Moth.

A notice regarding the destruction of the gypsy and brown tail moths has been sent this week to each person owning property in the city of Newton, with cuts showing the form in which each moth passes the winter months, and full directions as to the best methods for the destruction of the same.

The city forces are well organized and are fully able to handle any private work that the people request. It will be better to notify the Forest Commissioner as soon as possible, where private work is requested, so as to enable the city men to enter at once, otherwise they will have to wait until December 1st according to law.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Last Friday Newton played Volkmann, and broke her string of defeats by winning by a score of 17-0. This is the first time Newton has defeated Volkmann in the last four years, the games in the other three years having been ties, neither sides being able to score.

The team showed a vast improvement over its work in the Roxbury and Boston Latin games. Newton scored 12 points in the first half by using the on-side kick and the forward pass. In the second, half-back Hennage tried out his substitutes, and they scored 5 points by straight football. The game ended with the ball in Newton's possession a half a foot from Volkmann's goal. The feature of the game was Dunne's carrying the ball. He had one run of fifty and another of forty yards through the whole Volkmann team, besides several smaller runs. Donahue and Barrows also played well for Newton, Barrows kicking being the best seen on the High School field this season.

Last week Edward Richardson of Newton Centre was appointed manager of the 1909 baseball team. Captain Donahue expects to have an unusually strong team, as all but two of last year's team have returned to school. The team will be coached by Doctor Brown.

Manager Moore of the track team announced the appointment of Donald Proctor of Newtonville as assistant manager for 1909. Captain Dan Mahoney and Manager Moore expect to have a track team strong enough to win the Preparatory Track Meet. The team will be coached by Dr. Brown.

Tuesday the class of 1911 held its election for officers. Charles Foote of Newton Centre was elected president; Miss Tewsbury, secretary; and Miss Allen, treasurer. The class decided by vote that the president should appoint a committee to select a class pin.

DEAD BABY FOUND

While working on the bank of the Charles river near Auburndale Tuesday, Patrick Shanahan, an employee of the Metropolitan park system, discovered in the underbrush the dead body of a female infant, aged about five days. The indications were that the infant had been hidden in the brush only a short time. The body was turned over to the Metropolitan park police, and after being viewed by Medical Examiner West was taken in charge by an undertaker. The Newton police are to make an investigation.

Sunday, Nov. 1, Wm. Macpherson speaks at 3.15 to men on "Who Won?" Nov. 8, C. J. Hendricks, Lyric Harpist, will play on the only Lyric Harp in existence, his own invention. Entries for a handicap Pool tournament are desired. If interested, register in office.

The Sunday Meetings, Socials, Debates, Tournaments have been planned by members in charge of these events. Any suggestions in regard to future events will be gladly received.

Have you read the advertisement of J. H. Lewis, Waltham's largest confectioner? He extends an invitation to Newton people to see how he manufactures confectionery and ice cream, and to purchase your Thanksgiving supply.

THEATRES

Kelth's Theatre—The latest of the recognized theatrical stars to leave the legitimate stage for vaudeville is that highly popular actress, Virginia Harned, who is to play her first engagement at Kelth's the coming week. Supported by a capable company, Miss Harned is to present a playlet from her own pen, called "The Idol of the Hour." Annette Kellermann commences the third and last week of a really sensational successful engagement, next Monday. Her diving stunts have never been excelled as a novelty, by an act that vaudeville has yet known. "La Petite Revue" is the title of a vocal comedietta that is one of the hits of the season. It is based upon an old idea—the puppet show—most artistically developed. The Six American Dancers, an act that stands in a class by itself, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry and company in Mr. Barry's new rural skit, "At Hensfoot Corner," the best vehicle they have ever had; Sam Elton, "The Man Who Made The Shah Laugh," a most amusing comedy juggler, Harry Bree, vocal comedian; Ina Claire, a very clever comedienne and mimic and new Kinetograph pictures will round out a most attractive offering.

Boston Theatre—For election week at the Boston Theatre, the attraction will be "The County Chairman," by George Ade, which is one of the very best works of the famous humorist in many respects. It is one that will strike home, particularly at this time when the country is interested in a national election. For this occasion there will be special engagements for several of the important parts. "The County Chairman" is not all politics, for it has the usual love story. The big scenes of the play are the election and the receiving of the returns. It is one of the most successful plays that has been produced in recent years, and at the Boston Theatre special arrangements are being made for a grand production which will in many respects outlive the original. Election night returns will be read from the stage.

Hollis Street Theatre—Joseph Brooks will present Lillian Russell at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston, for a limited engagement of two weeks, commencing Monday, November 2nd, in the racing comedy success, "Wildfire," by George Broadhurst and George V. Hobart. It will be recalled that Miss Russell made an unusual hit in this play in Boston last season. Since then she has scored the success of her career in New York, where her work in "Wildfire" proved a revelation. Previous contracts that could not be cancelled forced Miss Russell out of New York at the height of her run and she comes direct to Boston to resume the success she made at the Hollis last winter. Miss Russell's play, "Wildfire," is exceptional in that it combines a refined home atmosphere with the intense action encountered on a metropolitan race track and is realistic in both instances. It is dramatic, possesses a world of comedy, and is held together by an appealing love story. Miss Russell displays some wonderful gowns of the Directoire pattern. Her supporting company is exceptionally strong and a fine production of "Wildfire" completes the bill.

Scenic Temple—The most attractive bill that has ever been presented at the Scenic Temple is now on and the audience last night went away satisfied that the management is certainly giving Waltham the best vaudeville performance that it is possible to get. There are four stunning acts, each being worthy of consideration by the Frye and Allen, a team that has been on the vaudeville boards for 18 years, come here for the first time. Their act is entitled "The Vocal Studio," and throughout the sketch there is a line of comedy that keeps the audience in good nature while the vocal solos of the pair are pleasing. Mayo and Rowe in "Kitty's Love Letters," a sketch which brings out a deal of serious acting as well as comedy, are sure to please and nothing like it has been seen at the local play-house. Mayo is an actor of considerable ability while Miss Rowe has a strong part that is equally as prominent as that of her partner. They were given a cordial reception last night. Louis Pritzlow, a cartoonist with an up-to-date act is one of the best attractions on the bill, while Kilpatrick, Smith and Emerson, the juggling drum majors who played a successful engagement at Norumbega Park last summer are giving one of the best exhibitions ever seen on the vaudeville stage. The pictures are good and help to complete the best show that has ever been presented at the local play-house.

Orpheum Theatre—A novelty bill, full of variety and interest, is to be given at the Orpheum Theatre beginning Monday, November 2. At its head is Amelia Bingham, probably the most distinguished American actress in a copyrighted production called "The Moments From Famous Plays." As a special attraction James J. Morton, who is called the boy comic, who asks and answers his own questions in a laughable way, is booked for one week. For their final appearance before leaving for London, that odd pair of comedians, Friend and Downing will be seen, also the original Yamamoto and dainty Miss Koyoshi, two Japanese

During the month of October every eye is turned toward the oval

Our purpose in advertising in this space is to turn the eyes of everybody during the whole year toward the Oval. Of course we mean Creamali—the oval loaf.

For branks of shade and for deliciousness of flavor, you won't tackle anything in the class of Creamali. It's the only Oval people never kick at. Game starts next time you eat.

Newton Centre.

—Which will you have the Block or a Park?

—The evening service at Trinity church will be at 4.30 o'clock instead of 7.30, beginning next Sunday, Nov. 1.

—The pulpit of the Unitarian Society will be occupied next Sunday by Rev. Kenneth C. Evans of Chicago.

—The engagement is announced of Miss Isabel E. Colburn of Faneuil to Mr. Stanley B. Dowd of this village.

—Mr. and Mrs. Galusha Anderson have returned from a month's sojourn at Chicago to their home on Centre street.

—A well-attended meeting was held Wednesday evening at Breland terrace to meet Hon. Henry C. Mulligan, Republican candidate for senator in this district.

—Miss Bebe Macintosh of Marshall street was among the young ladies serving in the Russian tea room this week, at the bazaar of nations held in Horticultural hall, Boston.

—Dr. S. A. Sylvester has returned to his home on Beacon street from No. Scituate, where he has been spending a few weeks recovering from the effects of a gasoline explosion.

—Messrs William Coolidge and S. E. Farwell were elected directors of the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company, at the annual meeting held in Portland, Me., last week.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Rev. Dr. William E. Huntington and Rev. Dr. Nathan E. Wood have been elected Honorary vice-presidents of the Massachusetts Woman's Suffrage Association.

—At a meeting of the Gannett Association in Boston this week, Mrs. Robert C. Heebner of Beacon street was elected a vice-president, and Miss Martha S. Shannon of Lake avenue, recording secretary.

—Rev. Dr. A. W. Archibald was among the clergymen who participated in the installation of Rev. Dr. George Luther Cady as pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church in Dorchester, last Tuesday evening.

—If a responsible party desires a quiet, well-located house of eleven rooms, five minutes' walk from Hunnewell Club, electric cars and steam cars, at Newton, apply at 91 Park street, Newton, or 182 Essex street, Room 406, Boston.

—Mr. and Mrs. George B. Warren of Ward street observed the 35th anniversary of their wedding at their home last Thursday. A reception was held in the evening and the couple were the recipients of hosts of congratulations and many presents.

—At a meeting of a number of young ladies of this city, Waltham and Cambridge, held at the home of Miss Marjorie Mills on Institution avenue, the Kappa Delta society was formed with Miss Bertha M. Good as president, Miss Beatrice Dempsey vice-president, and Miss Grace Hayden sec-treas.

—Last Wednesday evening at the Methodist church a Halloween party was held under the auspices of the younger members. A delightful evening was spent in the reception parlors. Refreshments and interesting games with a lively spirit entertained the enthusiasts until long after the curfew.

—The death of Mr. Myron J. Graham of 46 Newbury street occurred early last Wednesday morning. Mr. Graham had been ill with pneumonia a very short time, but complications developed, causing his death. The funeral services were held at his late residence last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The interment was in Brooklyn, N. Y.

—One of the very active committees in the Cousins' Block Carnival will be that having charge of candy for all four entertainments. The following ladies will serve: Mrs. H. J. Ide, chairman; Mrs. J. B. Hall, Mrs. Francis Williams, Mrs. J. M. Dill, Mrs. M. C. Tuttle, Mrs. R. L. Dana, Mrs. Arthur Barnard, Mrs. W. H. Haskell, Miss C. W. Smith, Miss A. Fitch, Miss B. McIntosh, Miss E. Stiles, Miss J. Colby, Miss W. Rand, Miss G. Rogers, Miss F. Foster, Miss A. Myers.

—A well-attended meeting was held at the Chestnut Hill clubhouse last Friday night of residents of this locality to consider the extermination of the grey and brown tailed moths and the elm tree beetle. Mayor Hutchinson and Forest Commissioner Bucknam were present and told of the work the city intended to accomplish during the winter months and it was the unanimous desire of those present to have the city undertake the work which in the past few seasons has been done in this district by private contractors. A committee consisting of Mr. Francis W. Lee and two others was appointed to have the matter in charge. The call for the meeting was signed by Francis W. Lee, Edwin S. Webster and A. Winsor Weld.

—There is no doubt that the Pop-concert of the Cousins' Block Carnival, to be given on election night, Nov. 3, will be truly "halyon and vociferous." The plan is to have a concert program lasting from 8 until 10. After that hour numbers will be played by request. Mrs. Spalding and Mr. Kaurich have selected more than sixty pieces of enjoyable music, of which the orchestra will have its full score. Some of these are college or popular songs, and the audience will have the opportunity to sing favorites old and new. Lists of these sixty numbers will be on each table, and all requests will be honored till midnight. Meantime, election returns will be given "every little while," and those who wish to, may remain after twelve.

In selecting furs about which your personal knowledge is necessarily limited it is always safest to purchase from a responsible dealer who has a reputation earned by years of testing to maintain, and who does not desire and cannot afford to treat you unfairly.

For nearly fifty years we have been established in Boston as manufacturers of High Grade Furs, collecting the skins from all over the world and making them into every conceivable kind of fur attire.

This long experience in satisfying the needs of the most discriminating persons, has taught us how to give the largest possible value for every dollar expended with us.

All of our garments are fashioned after the latest Paris and London styles and are guaranteed in every respect to give perfect satisfaction, and to be superior to other fur garments when price, quality and workmanship are considered.

This is why shrewd fur buyers prefer to deal with a long established house whose entire business is centered in one location and whose workrooms are always open to inspection.

All we ask is for you to call and then decide where to purchase.

—After the last trains had traversed the Newton circuit branch of the Boston & Albany railroad, Wednesday night, thieves visited the yard of the Eliot station and carried away all the lights used in operating the semaphore signals. The lights are said to have been valued at about $50.

—Who are responsible for this defiance of the laws of God and the city of Newton? Passing along one of the principal streets of this place on a recent Sabbath afternoon, I was surprised to see several boys of 17 or 18 years playing football, and was told it was a frequent occurrence. There are some yet left here who believe in the commandments.

DOUBLE WEDDING

St. Mary's church at Newton Lower Falls was the scene of a double wedding Thursday evening, when Miss Beale Lydia Beck, the daughter of Ex-Alderman Adam E. A. Beck, became the bride of Mr. Frederick A. Ellison of Fitchburg, and Miss Isabel Worthington of Wellesley Lower Falls became the bride of Mr. James E. A. Beck.

Rev. Thomas L. Cole, rector of the church, performed both ceremonies, and the church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and asparagus vine with candles at the altar.

Miss Beck was gowned in white accordion plaited Brussels net over tulle, trimmed with white satin ribbon and duchess lace and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Lilla Emerson Clement of Waltham was the maid of honor, gowned in white mesaline trimmed with oriental lace, made empire. The bridesmaids, Miss Mabel M. Wales of the Lower Falls and Miss Verna E. Morgan of Haverhill wore white garde de sole, empire style, trimmed with oriental lace, and carried similar bouquets to the maid of honor, sheaf of Lady Lenox Cosmos.

The best man was Mr. Leroy A. Ellison of Nashua, N. H.; Fred C. Wales of Newton Lower Falls; William C. Kerr, M. I. T., '08, of Baltimore, and William F. Sampson, Harvard, '08, of Newtonville.

During the ceremony, Mr. Richard P. Law played Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, selections from the Midsummer Night's Dream and Mendelssohn Wedding March, and there was singing by the choir boys.

In the wedding of Miss Worthington and Mr. Beck, Miss Ruth C. Weatherbee of Wellesley Hills was maid of honor, Miss Maude S. Darling of Fall River and Miss Florence Luscomb of Allston, bridesmaids. Mr. Carol Holthausen of West Hoboken, N. J., was best man and Messrs. Ralph E. Beck, Edward A. Rice, Frank A. Sullivan and Henry W. Brown, ushers.

A reception followed until ten o'clock in St. Mary's hall, Mr. and Mrs. Ellison being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. M. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic A. Ellison and Mr. George C. Ellison.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellison will reside at 183 Pritchard street, Fitchburg, where they will be at home after January 1st, while Mr. and Mrs. Beck will make their home in Louisville, Ky.

Alaska Seal Garments Again in Vogue

It is a now a well known fact that sealskin garments are to be worn and will be more fashionable this year than ever before.

In London, Paris and New York the demand is such that the skins are hard to obtain even at much advanced prices. We took advantage of the market immediately following the business depression at the beginning of the year, and hold today the largest stock of seals of any retailing house in this country. Alaska seals have always been a specialty with us and while our present stock lasts, which is composed of the finest Alaskas obtainable, we shall give our customers the benefit of our purchase at prices which are lower than they will be again for some time to come.

How the Affairs of the City are Run at City Hall

The Many Duties and Large Expenses of the Street Department

While all of our city departments feel that its own particular field is of the utmost importance to the welfare of the city, I presume every one will admit that the Street Department, with its multifarious duties, stands very near, if, indeed, it does not occupy the first place.

Every one makes use of the sidewalks and streets of our beautiful city, and every one, particularly the male portion of the community, firmly believes that they could do the work necessary to keep the streets in good condition far better than the Street Commissioner. Many question also the wisdom of the constant cleaning which give our streets the splotch and spon appearance which are such a source of local pride. Few realize, however, that the life of the roadway is strengthened by this very work and that it is economy as well as good advertising to keep them in good condition.

The Street Department has many duties to perform besides the construction, care and maintenance of the streets. It constructs and maintains our large system of sewers, it builds miles of gravel and concrete sidewalks, gutters and cross-walks every year, it builds and maintains the system of drains, including the cleaning and widening of brooks, it collects and removes ashes and rubbish from all over the city, it waters the streets and experiments with dust layers, and it cares for the old and locates the new street lights.

Its appropriations for the present year amount to over $240,000, not including $72,000 expended for sewer construction. It will thus be seen that this department requires a large amount of consideration by the mayor and aldermen of our city.

The department has three important divisions, the highway, sewer and street lights. The most important is that of highways, and its equipment includes three stables (two of brick and equipped with modern conveniences), about 80 horses, four steam rollers, six stone crushers, holding engines, steam boilers, derricks, pumps, air compressors and other necessary tools and apparatus. The permanent force includes a street commissioner, a deputy street commissioner, a division foreman, fifty or more teamsters, and employs at times as many as four hundred laborers.

The city is divided into districts, the deputy commissioner having charge of the most important, that of Wards 1, 2 and 7, the division foreman being in charge of Wards 3 and 4, and a foreman in charge of Wards 5 and 6. Each foreman has charge of a full routine work in his own district, such as repairs and construction of roadways, the cleaning of streets, gutters, catch basins and drains, the building of sidewalks, and the removal of snow. The divisions on the north side of the city have modern and commodious brick stables, and there is a great need for another on the south side of the city; the present accommodations at Newton Centre being inadequate for that section. The Crafts street stable has a well-equipped machine shop, and a machinist has charge of all the incidental repairs required on the road rollers, stone crushers and other machinery.

The department also employs a blacksmith, who shoes all the city horses and sharpens tools, and a wheelwright, who makes all the city carts and wagons, sleds and snow plows. The employment of what may be termed the transient labor of the department is regulated by the civil service commission, and is limited to citizens of the country and residents of the city. Laborers properly qualified are placed on the list by the Registrar of Laborers, and are certified to the Street Commissioner on receipt of the proper requisition. On this certification preference is first given to married men with families, next to married men, single men coming last.

During the winter, as large a force as possible is kept at work on the city ledges getting out and crushing the stone to be used during the summer in macadamizing streets. The city owns three quarries, the one on Lowell avenue, which is one of the best in the state, from which the peculiar greenish-blue stone used on Newton streets can be obtained.

In the construction of concrete sidewalks, cross-walks and gutters, the city prepares the foundations, the contractor doing the remainder of the work. In all other cases, including street watering, the city does the entire work, and usually receives the full equivalent for its money. The street watering is done by the department, obtaining the water from stand pipes. The city was formerly divided into 22 sections, each section costing from $80 upwards per month, but the dust laying materials have reduced this number quite a little. The "sawdust" streets of Newton are well known outside of the city and thoroughly appreciated within. The good work done by the present street commissioner brought to him the honor of an appointment to the Massachusetts Highway Commission by Gov. Wolcott, and on which he served for several years.

Petitions for concrete sidewalks where the abutters agree to pay one-half the cost are presented to the Street Commissioner, and when approved by the mayor, the work is done in connection with other work in the same vicinity. Where all the abutters will not agree to pay their share of the cost of concrete, a petition is usually sent to the aldermen to order the work done under the betterment act, which authorizes the city to assess the cost on the abutters. A hearing is given and the work may then be

Petitions for new street lights are also filed with the Street Commissioner and when approved by the mayor are usually granted. The present appropriation, however, does not allow many new lights to be located, being just about enough to cover the contract with the local company for the lights now in use. It costs the city $90 a year for each arc light and it is the settled policy to confine this class of lights to business centres and dangerous junctions of streets. There are 186 arc lights now in use, 1,407 incandescent lights for which a charge of $14.50 per annum is made, 1,016 gas lights at $15 and 34 oil lights at $17. The arc lights burn all night from sunset to sunrise, while the incandescent are out at 12:30 a. m. and the gas lights at midnight. The new form of inverted mantle gas light which are now being installed are proving very popular and make a very good street light.

Under Mayor Weeks the street lighting was thoroughly revised and relocated, with a view to meeting existing conditions and not to suit the whims of this or that member of the city government. The growth of the street lighting system is expected to follow the lines laid down at that time, giving a much greater return in quality than was possible under the former so-called system.

The care of snow and ice is a most important duty of the department, as every business man wishes a clear walk to the railroad station or electric car after a snow storm. This work is done by men who have been long in the city's employ, and they have well planned routes to follow. With 139 miles of accepted streets, many with double sidewalks, and many other private streets which are also plowed out, the amount of work necessary to clear our sidewalks and cross-walks from snow can be readily seen. Kickers at this branch of service would do well to bear this matter in mind, and in general the department deserves great credit for what it actually accomplishes in this line, rather than condemnation for occasional and oftentimes unavoidable delays.

Sewer Division

There are three distinct kinds of work in this division, each one of which receives its money from a different source. The construction of new sewers, the connecting of houses with present sewers, and the maintenance of the entire system, including cleaning and flushing of both main and lateral sewers.

The last work is usually done during the winter and early spring and requires an expenditure of about eight thousand dollars, charged to the tax levy. The cleaning of small sewers is done by filling of a manhole with water, withdrawing the plug, thus allowing the flow of water to flush the pipe. Larger sewers are cleaned with scrapers and some by hand.

The construction of new sewers is done only when ordered by the board of aldermen, and the expense is paid from the proceeds of sale of 30-year bonds. This work, as well as that of drain construction by the highway division, is inspected by the city engineer's department, which gives the lines and grades for all city work as well. Sewer construction varies from laying the ordinary 8-inch pipe in side streets to 36-inch pipe or 48-inch brick main sewers or tunnel construction, such as the work now being completed near the Highlands truck house.

House connections with sewers are paid for in two ways. One requires an advance deposit by the applicant to the city treasury. After which the work is done, and the account adjusted.

A recent law, also, authorizes the city to do this work upon proper application, charging the immediate expense to an appropriation from the tax levy, to be subsequently repaid to the city treasury with interest, by assessment on the property affected.

Both of these methods require considerable bookkeeping, although the average cost of each house connection is only about $40.

The sewer work is under the immediate charge of an assistant of the Street Commissioner, three or four being usually employed on construction work, and two on house connections, each under direction of sub-foremen.

The collection and removal of ashes and rubbish is a most annoying duty of the department, and cost a lot of money, over $15,000 being the figures for the present year. Ashes are collected each week in Wards 3 and 4 on Monday, Ward 5 on Tuesday, Ward 6 on Wednesday, Ward 7 on Thursday, Ward 2 on Friday, and Ward 1 on Saturday. Rubbish is collected every other week on the same days. The ashes and rubbish are taken to nearby dumping places and considerable efforts are made to keep these places neat and clean, altho with small success.

The work of caring for our trees and the destruction of moths was, until this month in charge of the Street Department, but is now under a new officer, called the Forest Commissioner. The new department also includes the care of parks and burial grounds and for that reason none of these matters will be mentioned here.

I am also constrained to omit from this article some rather positive convictions I entertain relative to the present labor laws now in force in this state. I firmly believe in the eight-hour law for laborers, but also believe that the present restrictions on the employment of labor by municipalities are a detriment both to the laborer and to the tax payer. Some other time I will try to state this position more fully.

A minor, altho necessary division of the department is that of book-keeping and office work. With daily returns of all labor, material, teams and supplies coming in from the highway and sewer divisions, the office is so systematized that it is possible at any moment to know just what each individual piece of work has cost, itemized by labor, material and teams. The office also issues the orders for purchases of material, and has charge of the various permits to open, or obstruct public streets. Taken all in all the street department is a busy place summer and winter, and will probably continue to be until day labor is succeeded by contract labor.

REAL ESTATE

Alvord Bros. report the sale of No. 41 Ridge Road, Waban, to Joseph W. Bartlett. The grantor is Mabel Williamson. The estate consists of a single frame house and 14,095 square feet of land, the whole assessed for $4,200. Mr. Bartlett buys for occupancy.

Alvord Bros. have leased the Adey house, No. 38 Stearns street, Newton Centre, to Howard W. Wellwood.

INSURANCE

Do you realize that the average loss by fire in U. S. is about $500,000 a day.

Right here in Massachusetts over 3000 dwellings were either destroyed or damaged during 1907, costing Insurance Companies $1,800,000.

Failure to insure is gross negligence.

The cost is small, protection absolute.

Be sure your automobile is covered.

Accidents are alarmingly frequent.
